J. Jacobs, 2021-12-10 In 1962 South Korea assembled just 1 100 new automobiles By 1996 this total had soared to 2 812 714 What explains this remarkable growth The answer is complex and involves a combination of a supportive State timely technology alliances a skilled but historically low paid workforce aggressive pricing savvy entrepreneurs and fortuitous circumstances Despite this amazing ascent comparatively little has been written about the Korean auto industry in English In the first of a two volume set this 11 chapter book seeks to help fill this void by providing in depth examinations of all six of Korea's automakers from their beginnings through 1996 Uniquely written from the perspective of industry analysts at the time without knowledge of the Asian Fiscal Crisis the book should prove informative to practitioners scholars and students interested in automotive history international political economy Asian studies and more The Dilemma between Quality Reputation and Risk Prevention: Warranty Provisions of Car Manufacturers Daniel Siebert, 2014-06-27 Car manufacturers are playing a major role beneath the most promising industries for investors But the changing environment of political decisions and moving values of customers influence the strategies of the OEMs The quality strategy of the car brand plays an enormous role The increasing trend of major recall initiatives of vehicles is part of the daily press and harms the quality reputation of the car makers But how can the analyst give a statement about the quality performance with the public information provided by the OEMs One possibility is the evaluation of the provision for warranty which is part of the liabilities in the annual report This book compares the applicable requirements like laws and reporting standards which have to be followed It shows calculation methods to make the impact of laws and reporting standards visible In respect to the estimation of the failure probability statistic methods are explained Finally the annual reports of the biggest car manufacturers are compared with each other in regards to the available information about warranty provisions and key figures are analyzed The Global Automotive Industry Paul Nieuwenhuis, Peter Wells, 2015-08-06 The automotive industry is still one of the world's largest manufacturing sectors but it suffers from being very technology focused as well as being relatively short term focused There is little emphasis within the industry and its consultancy and analyst supply network on the broader social and economic impacts of automobility and of the sector that provides it The Global Automotive Industry addresses this need and is a first port of call for any academic official or consultant wanting an overview of the state of the industry An international team of specialist researchers both from academia and business review and analyse the key issues that make vehicle manufacturing still the world's premier manufacturing sector closely tied in with the fortunes of both established and newly emerging economies In doing so it covers issues related to manufacturing both established practices as well as new developments issues relating to distribution marketing and retail vehicle technologies and regulatory trends and crucially labour practices and the people who build cars In all this it explains both how the current situation arose and also likely future trajectories both in terms of social and regulatory trends as the technological marketing and labour practice responses to those leading in many cases to the development of new business models Key features Provides a global overview of the automotive industry covering its current state and considering future challenges Contains contributions from international specialists in the automotive sector Presents current research and sets this in an historical and broader industry context Covers threats to the industry including globalization economic and environmental sustainability The Global Automotive Industry is a must have reference for researchers and practitioners in the automotive industry and is an excellent source of information for business schools governments and graduate and undergraduate students in automotive engineering

State-Firm Coordination and Upgrading Angela Garcia Calvo, 2021-08-19 Since the 1980s Spain and South Korea have experienced a dramatic transformation from middle income to advanced economies While market liberalization and globalization were important forces for change and while states continue to be central in the organization of the Spanish and South Korean economies the liberal and the developmental state perspectives do not provide an understanding of critical elements of these transformations Building on a combination of historical institutionalism and international business literature this book shows that upgrading was underpinned by cooperative models based on interdependencies and quid pro quo exchanges between national governments and large firms The negotiated nature of these arrangements opened the door to institutional variation and enabled Spain and South Korea to pursue different strategies Spain pursued an integrational approach based on foreign direct investment technological outsourcing and regional integration South Korea pursued a techno industrial strategy that prioritized self sufficiency and the development of local technological capacity Both strategies enabled Spanish and South Korean firms across multiple complex sectors to reach the efficiency frontier but resulted in different productive specializations in complex services and manufacturing respectively Through a comparative study this book shifts our perspective on the political economy of economic transformation from markets or states to state firm coordination as a driver for economic transformation from one to at least two different pathways to upgrading and from a world divided into emerging economies and world leaders to a more nuanced perspective that recognizes the perspective of new advanced economies
