

A military helicopter, possibly an Apache, is shown in flight over a large, intense fire. The helicopter is dark-colored and has its landing gear down. The fire is bright orange and yellow, filling the lower half of the frame. The background is a dark, overcast sky.

Military Intake 2014:

China's Military Power Roger Cliff, 2015-09-15 Once termed the world's largest military museum the Chinese military has made enormous progress over the past twenty years. With skyrocketing military budgets and new technology, China's tanks, aircraft, destroyers, and missile capabilities are becoming comparable to those of the United States. If these trends continue, how powerful will the Chinese military be in the future? Will its capabilities soon rival or surpass those of the United States? The most comprehensive study of its kind, this book provides a detailed assessment of China's military capabilities in 2000 and 2010, with projections for 2020. It is the first of its kind in outlining a rigorous, theoretically and empirically grounded framework for assessing military capability based on not just weaponry but also doctrine, training, equipment, and organizational structure. This framework provides not only the most accurate assessment of China's military to date but an important new tool in the study of military history.

Military Recruitment Fouad Sabry, 2024-06-20 What is Military Recruitment? Military recruitment refers to the activity of attracting people to and selecting them for military training and employment. How you will benefit I Insights and validations about the following topics: Chapter 1 Military recruitment Chapter 2 British Army Chapter 3 British Armed Forces Chapter 4 Children in the military Chapter 5 Military science Chapter 6 Military Chapter 7 Military recruit training Chapter 8 Bundeswehr Chapter 9 Optional Protocol on the Involvement of Children in Armed Conflict Chapter 10 Counter recruitment II Answering the public top questions about military recruitment. Propaganda and Public Relations in Military Recruitment Brendan Maartens, Thomas Bivins, 2020-11-19 This book represents the first international investigation of military recruitment, advertising, public relations, and propaganda. Comprised of eleven case studies that explore mobilisation work in Africa, the Americas, Asia, and Europe, it covers more than a hundred years of recent history with chapters on the First and Second World Wars, the Cold War, and the present day. The book explores such promotion in countries both large and small and in times of both war and peace, with readers gaining an insight into the different strategies and tactics used to motivate men, women, and occasionally even children to serve and fight in many parts of the world. Readers will also learn about the crucial but little-known role of commercial advertising, public relations, and media professionals in the production and distribution of recruitment promotion. This book, the first of its kind to be published, will explore that role and in the process address two questions that are central to studies of media and conflict: how do militaries encourage civilians to join up, and are they successful in doing so? It is a multi-disciplinary project intended for a diverse academic audience, including postgraduate students exploring aspects of war, propaganda, and public opinion, and researchers working across the domains of history, communications studies, conflict studies, psychology, and philosophy.

Domesticating Geopolitics Sean Carter, Tara Woodyer, 2023-09-26 This book explores the ways in which the study of the domestic and the international far from being separate spheres are in fact woven together in multiple ways The chapters in this volume seek to question this traditional domestic international binary and approach their entanglement through a range of different empirical settings and methodological approaches Inspired by a recent turn towards recognising the importance of the home the intimate and the everyday in the construction of geopolitical worlds this book captures a broad range of agents practices objects performativities and discourses that contribute to how geopolitics is rendered familiar sanitised embodied and enacted and the ways in which the home and the traditional terrain of the geopolitical the international sphere are in fact folded into each other in multiple ways Domesticating Geopolitics will be of great use to students and researchers interested in geography and politics including popular geopolitics and human geography This book was originally published as a special issue of Geopolitics

Support the Troops Katharine M. Millar, 2022 In Support the Troops Katharine M Millar provides an empirical overview of support the troops discourses in the US and UK during the early years of the global war on terror 2001 2010 As Millar argues seemingly stable understandings of the relationship between military service citizenship and gender norms are being unsettled by changes in warfare Millar asserts that military support acts as a new form of military service which serves to limit anti war dissent plays a crucial role in naturalizing the violence of the transnational liberal order and recasts war as an internal issue of solidarity and loyalty This is the first work to systematically examine support the troops as a distinct social phenomenon offering a novel reading of this discourse through a gendered lens that places it in historical and transnational context

Framing a Revolution Rachel Schmidt, 2023-03-09 Rhetorical contests about how to frame a war run alongside many armed conflicts With the rise of internet access social media and cyber operations these propaganda battles have a wider audience than ever before Yet such framing contests have attracted little attention in scholarly literature What are the effects of gendered and strategic framing in civil war How do different types of individuals victims combatants women commanders utilize the frames created around them and about them Who benefits from these contests and who loses Following the lives of eleven ex combatants from non state armed groups and supplemented by over one hundred interviews conducted across Colombia Framing a Revolution opens a window into this crucial part of civil war Their testimonies demonstrate the importance of these contests for combatants commitments to their armed groups during fighting and the Colombian peace process while also drawing implications for the concept of civil war worldwide

Gender Trouble in the U.S. Military Stephanie Szitanyi, 2019-11-26 This book investigates challenges to the U S military's gender regime of hetero male privilege Examining a broad set of discursive maneuvers in a series of cases as focal points integration of open homosexuality the end of the combat ban on women and the epidemic nature of military sexual assault within its units Stephanie Szitanyi examines the contemporary link between gender and military service in the United States and comprehensively analyzes forms of gendering produced by the military as an institution Using feminist interpretivist methods to analyze an impressive combination of visual textual archival and cultural materials the book argues that despite policy changes since 2013 that may be positioned as explicit episodes of degendering military officials have simultaneously moved to counteract them and reinforce the institution's gender regime of hetero male privilege Importantly these re gendering processes continue to prioritize certain forms of service and sacrifice through which a specific version of masculinity the masculine warrior is continuously promoted preserved and cemented

Performance in a Militarized Culture Sara Brady,Lindsey Mantoan,2017-09-13 The long cultural moment that arose in the wake of 9 11 and the conflict in the Middle East has fostered a global wave of surveillance and counterinsurgency Performance in a Militarized Culture explores the ways in which we experience this new status quo Addressing the most commonplace of everyday interactions from mobile phone calls to traffic cameras this edited collection considers How militarization appropriates and deploys performance techniques How performing arts practices can confront militarization The long and complex history of militarization How the war on terror has transformed into a values system that prioritizes the military The ways in which performance can be used to secure and maintain power across social strata Performance in a Militarized Culture draws on performances from North Central and South America Europe the Middle East and Asia to chronicle a range of experience from those who live under a daily threat of terrorism to others who live with a distant imagined fear of such danger

Children, Young People and Critical Geopolitics Matthew C. Benwell,Peter Hopkins,2017-05-15 Young people and in particular children have typically been marginalised in geopolitical research positioned as too young to understand or relate to the adult dominated world of international relations Integrating current debates in critical geopolitics and political geography with research in children's geographies childhood studies and youth research this book sets out an agenda for the field of children's and young people's critical geopolitics It considers diverse practices such as play activism media consumption and diplomacy to show how children's and young people's lives relate to wider regional and global geopolitical processes Engaging with contemporary concepts in human geography including ludic geopolitics affect emotional geographies intergenerationality creative diplomacy popular geopolitics and citizenship the authors draw on geopolitical research with children and young people from Europe Asia Australasia Africa and the Americas The chapters highlight the ways in which young people can be enrolled ignored dismissed empowered and represented by the state for geopolitical ends Notwithstanding this state power the research presented also shows how young people have agency and make decisions about their lives which are influenced by wider geopolitical processes The focus on the lives of children and young people problematises and extends what it is we think of when considering the geopolitical which enriches as well as advances critical geopolitical enquiry and deserves to be taken seriously by political geographies more broadly

Masculinities at the Margins Amanda Chisholm, Joanna Tidy, 2020-05-18 Across a rich terrain of empirical and theoretical trajectories the concept of military masculinity now understood in its plural as military masculinities has been a significant conceptual tool in both feminist international relations IR and in critical men and masculinities studies scholarship The concept has helped us to unpack the relationships between gender war and militarism including how military standards function in the production of wider normative hegemonic manliness As such military masculinities has been a rewarding tool for many scholars who take a critical approach to the study of war and the military This edited volume advances an emerging curiosity within accounts of military masculinities This curiosity concerns the silences within and disruptions to our well established and perhaps too comfortable understandings of and empirical focal points for military masculinities gender and war The contributors to this volume trouble the ease with which we might be tempted to synonymize militaries war and a neat hegemonic masculinity Taking the disruptions the asides and the silences seriously challenges the common wisdoms of military masculinities gender and war in productive and necessary ways Doing so necessitates a reorientation of where to whom and for what we look to understand the operation of gendered military power The chapters were originally published in a special issue of Critical Military Studies

Taiwan in Dynamic

Transition Ryan Dunch, Ashley Esarey, 2020-02-28 Following a remarkable transition from authoritarian rule to robust democracy Taiwan has grown into a prosperous but widely unrecognized nation state for which no uncontested sovereign space exists Increasingly vigorous assertions of Taiwanese identity expose the fragility of relationships between the United States and other great powers that assume Taiwan will eventually unite with China Perhaps because of their precarious international position the Taiwanese have embraced cosmopolitan culture and democratic institutions The 2014 Sunflower Movement thrust Taiwan's politics into the global media spotlight as did the resounding electoral victory of the once illegal Democratic Progressive Party in 2016 Taiwan in Dynamic Transition provides an up to date assessment of contemporary Taiwan highlighting Taiwan's emergent nationhood and its significance for world politics Taiwan's path has important implications for broader themes and preoccupations in contemporary thought such as consideration of why political transitions in the aftermath of the Arab Spring have sputtered or failed while Taiwan has evolved into a stable and prosperous democratic society Taiwan serves as a test case for nation and state building the formation of national identity and the emergence of democratic norms in real time

Counter-Recruitment and the Campaign to Demilitarize Public Schools Scott Harding, Seth Kershner, 2016-04-29 This book describes the various tactics used in counter recruitment drawing from the words of activists and case studies of successful organizing and advocacy The United States is one of the only developed countries to allow a military presence in public schools including an active role for military recruiters In order to enlist 250 000 new recruits every year the US military must market itself to youth by integrating itself into schools through programs such as JROTC Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps and spend billions of dollars annually on recruitment activities This militarization of educational space has spawned a little noticed grassroots resistance the small but sophisticated counter recruitment movement Counter recruiters visit schools to challenge recruiters messages with information on non military career options activists work to make it harder for the military to operate in public schools they conduct lobbying campaigns for policies that protect students private information from military recruiters and counter recruiters mentor youth to become involved in these activities While attracting little attention counter recruitment has nonetheless been described as the military recruiter's greatest obstacle by a Marine Corps official
