An HR Guide to Workplace Fraud and Criminal Behaviour Michael J. Comer, Timothy E. Stephens, 2004. It is reliably estimated that over 70 per cent of all job applications contain misleading information. If that was the limit of deception at work faced by HR and line managers then maybe things wouldn't be too bad. But deception isn't limited simply to the area of recruitment; there's also absenteeism, minor theft, misuse of information, not to mention the tissue of half truths and falsehoods thrown up by an employee seeking to camouflage theft responsibility for a fatal accident or a multi million pound fraud. An HR Guide to Workplace Fraud and Criminal Behaviour is full of advice, best practice and case studies of deception from around the world. In fact, everything you need to protect your workplace and the employees within it from incompetent or dangerous co-workers, theft, violence and criminality in all its forms, ensure your company's continued reputation and compliance with employment criminal and other legislation, safeguard your shareholders or other stakeholders from the consequences of fraud litigation or other loss. HR managers have an important part to play both in ensuring the ethical development of any organization and in protecting that organization from dishonest employees. Michael Comer and Timothy Stephens' book offers a definitive guide to meeting these responsibilities. See Uniform Crime Reports for the United States, United States, Federal Bureau of Investigation, 2008. House of Commons - Home Affairs Committee: E-Crime - HC 70 Great Britain, Parliament. House of Commons, Home Affairs Committee, 2013. The threat of a cyber attack to the UK is so serious it is marked as a higher threat than a nuclear attack. One can steal more on the internet than they can by robbing a bank and online criminals in 25 countries have chosen the UK as their number one target. Astonishingly some are operating from EU countries. If we don't have a 21st century response to this 21st century crime we will be letting those involved in these gangs off the hook. After a 10 month inquiry the Committee concluded that a dedicated state of the art espionage response team should be established so that attacks can be immediately reported. Banks must be required to report all e crime fraud to law enforcement. It is alarmed that CEOP is having its budget cut by 10% over 4 years, its experienced Chief Executive is leaving and it could lose its laser like focus when merged with the National Crime Agency. It is still too easy for people to access inappropriate online content and those responsible need to take stronger action to remove such content. The Government should draw up a mandatory code of conduct with them to remove material which breaches acceptable standards. The DPP should review sentencing guidance and ensure e criminals receive the same sentences as if they had stolen the same amount.

of money or data offline the Government should look at setting up a similar organisation to the Internet Watch Foundation focused on reporting and removing online terrorist content
