The Governance Gap Penelope Simons, Audrey Macklin, 2014-07-11 This book explores the persistence of the governance gap with respect to the human rights impacting conduct of transnational extractive corporations operating in zones of weak governance The authors launch their account with a fascinating case study of Talisman Energy's experience in Sudan informed by their own experience as members of the 1999 Canadian Assessment Mission to Sudan Harker Mission Drawing on new governance reflexive law and responsive law theories the authors assess legal and other non binding governance mechanisms that have emerged since that time including the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights They conclude that such mechanisms are incapable of systematically preventing human rights violating behaviour by transnational corporations or of assuring accountability of these actors or recompense for victims of such violations The authors contend that home state regulation while not a silver bullet has a crucial role to play in regulating such conduct They pick up where UN Special Representative John Ruggie's Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights left off and propose an innovative robust and adaptable template for strengthening the regulatory framework of home states Their model draws insights from the theoretical literature leverages existing public private transnational national soft and hard regulatory tools and harnesses the specific strengths of state based governance This book will be of interest to academics policy makers students civil society and business leaders

Judicial Review of Immigration Detention in the UK, US and EU Justine N Stefanelli, 2020-01-23 Immigration detention is considered by many states to be a necessary tool in the execution of immigration policy Despite the apparently key role it plays in immigration enforcement the law on immigration detention is often vague especially in relation to determining the circumstances under which prolonged detention remains lawful As a result the courts are frequently called upon to adjudicate these matters with scant legal tools at their disposal Though there have been some significant judgments on the legality of detention at the constitutional level the extent to which these judgments have had an impact at the lower end of the judiciary is unclear Indeed it is the lower courts which are tasked with judging the legality of detention through habeas corpus or judicial review proceedings This book examines the way this has occurred in the lower courts of two jurisdictions the UK and the US and contrasts this practice not only in those jurisdictions but with judgments rendered by the Court of Justice of the European Union a constitutional court at the other end of the judicial spectrum whose judgments are applied by courts and tribunals in the EU Member States Although these three jurisdictions use similar tests to evaluate the legality of detention case outcomes significantly differ Many factors contribute to this divergence but key among them is the role that fundamental rights protection plays in each jurisdiction Through a forensic evaluation of 191 judgments this book compares the laws on detention in the UK US and EU and makes recommendations to these jurisdictions for improvement The

Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell, Sophie Oldfield, 2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south the ordinary mega global and peripheral With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually It reflects on critical urbanism the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics Working with southern reference points the chapters present themes in urban politics identity and environment in ways that re frame our thinking about cities The Handbook engages the twenty first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly professional and activist engagements with the city The Library Catalogs of the Hoover Institution on War, Revolution, and Peace,
