This mark scheme should be used in conjunction with the NCUK Marking Guidelines, available from the secure area (Web File Manager) of the NCUK website (<http://www.ncuk.ac.uk>). Contact your Principal/ Academic Manager if you do not have login details.

NB – Credit should be awarded for any pertinent answers not included in the mark scheme, not exceeding the total mark allowed for the question.

If a student has answered more than the required number of questions, credit should only be given for the first n -answers, in the order that they are written in the student's answer booklet (n being the number of questions required for the examination). Markers should not select answers based on the combination that will give the student the highest mark. If a student has crossed out an answer, it should be disregarded.

Error Carried Forward:

Whenever a question asks the student to calculate-or otherwise produce-a piece of information that is to be used later in the question, the marker should consider the possibility of error carried forward (ECF). When a student has made an error in deriving a value or other information, provided that the student correctly applies the method in subsequent parts of the question, the student should be awarded the Method marks for the part question. The student should never be awarded the Accuracy marks.

When this happens, write ECF next to the ticks.

Issues in Aging Mark Novak, 2018-02-02 Issues in Aging combines social psychological, biological and philosophical perspectives to present a multifaceted picture of aging. Novak illustrates both the problems and the opportunities that accompany older age. This text helps students understand the tremendous variability in aging and introduces them to careers working with older adults. This new edition reflects the continued changes in the way we age. The fourth edition has been updated to include emerging issues in aging. These include the prevalence of HIV/AIDS in later life, current research on mental potential in old age, the creation of age friendly cities and new options for end of life care. Each chapter begins with a set of learning objectives to guide students in their reading and concludes with a list of main points, questions for discussion or study, suggested readings and relevant web sites to consult. Each chapter also includes up-to-date charts and graphs as well as key terms to help students understand the issues presented. Breakout boxes reveal the human side of aging through the stories of individuals in real life and in the media.

Transition Geoff Desa, Xiangping Jia, 2022-11-09 This book uses a historical and modern lens to reimagine the role that Extension could potentially play in catalyzing reciprocal co-learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies. The establishment of statewide extension systems was once seen as a way to ensure that Land Grant Universities would be accessible and responsive to all of a state's residents. Extension systems continue to offer a front door to a major public university in almost every county of the United States but they tend to be viewed primarily as a way to translate science or distribute information from the university to the public. This book argues for the importance of Extension and shows that we are conceiving of this system too narrowly. Only by retelling the stories of the Extension and getting people to see themselves as part of the story can we imagine a different future in which state universities and land grant colleges engage more authentically and equitably in two-way relationships with their local constituents in catalyzing reciprocal co-learning relationships between Land Grant Universities and their diverse local constituencies.
