

The background of the cover features several pieces of Lyman reloading equipment. On the left, there is a long-reach tool, possibly a necking die, with a wooden handle and a metal head. In the center, there is a smaller tool, possibly a trimmer or a different type of die, also with a wooden handle. On the right, there is a larger, more complex machine, likely a progressive reloading press, with a wooden base and a metal frame. The equipment is arranged in a way that suggests a progression of tools used in the reloading process.
