

NIGHT BY ELIE WIESEL - BLACKOUT POETRY ACTIVITY!

Night by Elie Wiesel Blackout Poetry

Creating a blackout poem looks like an easy process, but it is actually much more complicated.

Steps:

1. Read the page first looking for keywords. A key word could be something like "prisoner" or "Nazi," something you know you could find a strong poem around. Lightly circle these words with a pencil (working with these words is easiest).
2. Then, you can look for words to help your key words make sense. For example, if you found "prisoner" and "Nazi" as the first word, you might look for words containing words like "Nazi" and "Nazi" to create a flow that reads "the prisoner is a Nazi."
3. When you are choosing key words and finding those words again, try to avoid phrases. The poem is to come out of the text, not just highlight phrases from the original piece of literature.
4. When you are done, you can lightly circle and underline that it satisfies the requirements for the poem and that it makes sense. If it doesn't make sense, this is your last chance to make the poem better before you start thinking over the poem.

Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry, 2022-12-28 Brill's Companion to Classical Reception and Modern World Poetry explores the relations between antiquity and modernity from the angle of the reception of Graeco Roman antiquity in modern world poetry In an innovative combination of the fields of Classical Reception and World Literature it tackles ever challenging questions which are central to both fields such as the questions of literature and identity specificity and universality Eurocentrism poetics and translation Leading experts from both Classics and Modern Languages contribute 11 chapters on modern poetry and poets from different linguistic and cultural traditions from around the world

Companion to the Old Testament Ted Leach, 2013-07 Beginners to Bible study will enjoy the simple language in this useful introduction to the Old Testament Long time students of the Bible who want more than a literal approach to scripture will find refreshing interpretations for some of the more difficult passages The author respects the historical context of the ancient biblical stories and encourages the reader to make practical application to today's world This book helps Christians understand how the Old Testament is community property shared by Jews Christians and Muslims It is a constructive resource for interfaith discussion particularly as people of different faiths or no faith seek to identify some shared principles of our common humanity Abraham revered by Jews Christians and Muslims can be a starting point for greater mutual understanding The Jewish concept of Messiah can be a metaphor of hope for all people Footnotes are included for those who want to know more about a given topic Questions for Reflection at the end of each chapter facilitate group discussion A concise index is provided The book's introduction and ten chapters are suitable for a 10-12 week study

Assessing Students with Poetry Writing Across Content Areas Sarah J. Donovan, Kim Johnson, Anna J. Small Roseboro, Barbara Edler, Gayle Sands, 2025-09-01 Assessing Students with Poetry Writing Across Content Areas reimagines formative assessment by advocating for a dynamic poetic approach that delves into students meaning making processes It is a guide for teachers seeking innovative approaches to formative assessment promoting a holistic creative reflective and collaborative learning environment It challenges the limitations of traditional worksheets and quizzes urging educators to move beyond seeking restrictive answers and embrace students texts as pathways to understanding The authors put forward poetry as a vigorous tool and writing poetry as an act to foster deep learning across content areas Practical examples of acrostic poems haiku and pantoum demonstrate the adaptability of poetic forms to diverse subjects Through adaptable lesson plans that can be used across history math world languages ELA and science the book encourages intentional poetic writing to learn activities and explores how poetry might present itself as a short creative assessment tool that helps teachers see what their students know and can do while also offering them the space to make new meaning in their original poetry This book is a key resource for in-service educators teaching grades 6-12

The Cambridge Companion to Primo Levi Robert S. C. Gordon, 2007-07-30 Primo Levi 1919-87 was the author of a rich body of work including memoirs and reflections on Auschwitz poetry science fiction historical fiction and essays In particular his lucid and direct accounts of his time at Auschwitz begun immediately after liberation in 1945 and sustained until weeks before his suicide in 1987 has made him one of the most admired of all Holocaust writer survivors and one of the best guides we have for the interrogation of that horrific event But there is also more to Levi than the voice of the witness He has increasingly come to be recognised as one of the major literary voices of the twentieth century This Companion brings together leading specialists on Levi and scholars in the fields of Holocaust studies Italian literature and language and literature and science to offer a stimulating introduction to all aspects of the work of this extraordinary writer Re-examining the Holocaust through Literature Aukje Kluge, Benn E.

Williams, 2009-03-26 In the late 1980s Holocaust literature emerged as a provocative but poorly defined scholarly field The essays in this volume reflect the increasingly international and pluridisciplinary nature of this scholarship and the widening of the definition of Holocaust literature to include comic books fiction film and poetry as well as the more traditional diaries memoirs and journals Ten contributors from four countries engage issues of authenticity evangelicalism morality representation personal experience and wish fulfillment in Holocaust literature which have been the subject of controversies in the US Europe and the Middle East Of interest to students and instructors of antisemitism national and comparative literatures theater film history literary criticism religion and Holocaust studies this book also contains an extensive bibliography with references in over twenty languages which seeks to inspire further research in an international context
