Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2016 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Appropriations. Subcommittee on Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies, 2015 Federal Register, 2012-04 Rough Draft Amy J. Rutenberg, 2019-09-15 Rough Draft draws the curtain on the race and class inequities of the Selective Service during the Vietnam War Amy J Rutenberg argues that policy makers idealized conceptions of Cold War middle class masculinity directly affected whom they targeted for conscription and also for deferment Federal officials believed that college educated men could protect the nation from the threat of communism more effectively as civilians than as soldiers The availability of deferments for this group mushroomed between 1945 and 1965 making it less and less likely that middle class white men would serve in the Cold War army Meanwhile officials used the War on Poverty to target poorer and racialized men for conscription in the hopes that military service would offer them skills they could use in civilian life As Rutenberg shows manpower policies between World War II and the Vietnam War had unintended consequences While some men resisted military service in Vietnam for reasons of political conscience most did so because manpower polices made it possible By shielding middle class breadwinners in the name of national security policymakers militarized certain civilian roles a move that ironically separated military service from the obligations of masculine citizenship and ultimately helped kill the draft in the United States The United States and Turkey's Path to Europe Armağan Emre Çakır, 2015-12-22 Turkey's relations with the European Union is one of the most enigmatic topics in the European Studies literature This country kept at bay by Europeans for centuries once came unexpectedly close to full membership The progress Turkey recorded in its European quest is difficult to account for with either Turkey's performance or the positive attitude of the Europeans towards Turkey In this book Arma an Emre ak r chronicles over six decades of US involvement in EU Turkey relations Shedding new light on the reasons characteristics transformation and relative importance of the US influence on Turkey EU relations he argues that Turkey's quest for EU membership would not have advanced this far without the support from the United States ak r's hypotheses and findings are grounded in original research that among other things includes interviews conducted on both sides of the Atlantic with key players archival material and newspaper articles The valuable insights presented in this book make for a much needed alternative history of this volatile relationship The Promise of Evidence-based Policymaking United States. Commission on Evidence-Based Policymaking, 2017 The Promise of Evidence-based Policymaking United States. Commission on Evidence-Based Policymaking, 2017 Frustrated Relations? Hongfei Gu, 2023-08-09 This book focuses on China's foreign strategy and policy toward Central and Eastern Europe via the China

CEEC Cooperation Mechanism It discusses the formation and evolution of the mechanism concentrating on China's leading role in this process and covering a range of issues related to the mechanism's organizational development This discussion includes the broad context of China's foreign policy a coherent framework analysis of institution and cooperation issues the internal aspects of the heterogeneity external aspects of its asymmetry interactions and finally its emphases on cooperation in the two primary dimensions of great powers engagement and localization After the end of the Cold War and the sudden and shocking collapse of the Soviet Union the geopolitics of Central and Eastern Europe begins to undergo dramatic changes Since then an increase in public discussion in China about the transformation from the planned economy to market economy became very visible Moreover this part of the world perceives as the gate to Europe through almost forgotten Silk Road Both factors have played a crucial role in shaping China's interest in the region of Central and Eastern Europe Following the points mentioned above China's interests in Central and Eastern Europe are due to several factors including its frontier stability national security economic expansion and search for new sources of energy and new markets for made in China products Recognition of the importance of the region culminates in the recent Chinese grand strategy of Belt and Road which highlights Central and Eastern Europe as the essential link in China's plan New Silk Road strategy In this regard the China CEEC Cooperation Mechanism has a crucial role in China's Go West strategy

Challenges of European External Energy Governance with Emerging Powers Michèle Knodt, Nadine Piefer, 2016-03-03 In a multipolar world with growing demand for energy not least by Emerging Powers such as Brazil India China or South Africa BICS questions of EU external energy governance would at first hand appear to be a high priority Yet reality tells a different story the EU's geographical focus remains on adjacent countries in the European neighbourhood and on issues related to energy security Despite being Strategic Partners and engaging in energy dialogues it seems that the EU is lacking strategic vision and is not perceived as a major actor in energy cooperation with the BICS Thus political momentum for energy cooperation and joint governance of scarce resources is vanishing Resulting from three years of international interdisciplinary research cooperation among academics and practitioners in Europe and the BICS countries within a project funded by the Volkswagen Foundation this volume addresses one of the greatest global challenges Specific focus lies on the bilateral energy dialogues and Strategic Partnerships between the EU and Emerging Powers regarding bilateral inter and transnational energy cooperation Furthermore the analysis provides policy recommendations in order to tap the full potential of energy cooperation between the EU and Brazil India China and South Africa
