Friday 18 May 2012 Spast Paper:

A Galileo Forgery Horst Bredekamp, Irene Brückle, Paul Needham, 2014-07-28 Galileo's Volume III is perhaps without peer in the history of the book. In this work historians in various fields revise the results they presented in the first two volumes which focused on the New York copy of Sidereus Nuncius written in 1610. The analysis of this book was conceived as a uniquely multidisciplinary and cooperative undertaking and many of its findings remain valid. Yet the subject of analysis proved to be the work of an international group of forgers. Volume III describes the chronology and methods by which the discovery of forgery was made a veritable watershed moment in the continuing struggle between the ever more refined methods of forgers and new methods used to apprehend them. Ultimately the work also provides insight into the psychology of specialists who research themselves in order to prevent similar errors in the future. Federal Register, 2014. International Criminal Court Serena Sharma, 2015-12-22 This book provides an account of how the responsibility to protect R2P and the International Criminal Court ICC were applied in Kenya. In the aftermath of the disputed presidential election on 27 December 2007 Kenya descended into its worst crisis since independence. The 2007/08 post election crisis in Kenya was among the first situations in which there was an appeal to both the responsibility to protect and a responsibility to prosecute. Despite efforts to ensure compatibility between R2P and the ICC the two were far from coherent in this case as the measures designed to protect the population in Kenya undermined the efforts to prosecute perpetrators. This book will highlight how the African Union sponsored mediation process effectively brought an end to eight weeks of bloodshed while simultaneously entrenching those involved in orchestrating the violence. Having secured positions of power politicians bearing responsibility for the violence set out to block prosecutions at both the domestic and international levels eventually leading the cases against them to unravel. As this book will reveal by utilising the machinery of the state as a shield against prosecution the Government of Kenya reverted to an approach to sovereignty that both R2P and the ICC were specifically designed to counteract. This book will be of interest to students of the Responsibility to Protect humanitarian intervention African politics war and conflict studies and IR Security Studies in general. The Market World and Chronicle, 1914

Headlines That Matter Kavita Chandran, Saldene Lyte, 2025-08-01 An in depth exploration of how breaking news affects investor sentiments and trader decisions and ultimately the stock market Glued to their screens for news alerts financial traders must quickly decipher which ones are most reliable in order to make effective trading decisions Journalists know that the headlines they craft must instantly grab the attention of a trader This book focuses on the relatively unknown Headlines desk in newswire services where journalists type breaking news for subscribers and the public Drawing on their experiences as former Bloomberg headline writers Chandran and Lyte reveal the processes of these teams that deftly link the two sides of news information and interpretation The insights this book offers will benefit students of both business journalism and finance as well as CEOs corporate communications directors wealth managers investors and traders

Regulatory Toxicology in the European Union Tim Marrs, Kevin Woodward, 2018-02-26 Consumer and environmental protection depend on the careful regulation of all classes of chemicals Toxicology is the key science used to evaluate safety and so underpins regulatory decisions on chemicals With the growing body of EU legislation involved in chemical regulation there is a concomitant need to understand the toxicological principles underlying safety assessments Regulatory Toxicology in the European Union is the first book to cover regulatory toxicology specifically in Europe It addresses the need for a wider understanding of the principles of regulatory toxicology and their application and presents the relationship between toxicology and legislative processes in regulating chemical commodities across Europe This title has a broad scope covering historical and current chemical regulation in Europe the role of European agencies and institutions and also the use of toxicology data for important classes of chemicals including human and veterinary medicines animal feed and food additives biocides pesticides and nanomaterials This book is therefore extremely pertinent and timely in the toxicology field at present This book is an essential reference for regulatory authorities industrialists academics undergraduates and postgraduates working within safety and hazards toxicology the biological sciences and the medicinal and pharmaceutical sciences across the European Union

Trapped by History Darryl Cronin, 2021-04-15 The Australian nation has reached an impasse in Indigenous policy and practice and fresh strategies and perspectives are required Trapped by History highlights a fundamental issue that the Australian nation must confront to develop a genuine relationship with

Indigenous Australians The existing relationship between Indigenous people and the Australian state was constructed on the myth of an empty land terra nullius Interactions with Indigenous people have been constrained by eighteenth century assumptions and beliefs that Indigenous people did not have organised societies had neither land ownership nor a recognisable form of sovereignty and that they were savage but could be civilized through the erasure of their culture These incorrect assumptions and beliefs are the foundation of the legal constitutional and political treatment of Indigenous Australians over the course of the country s history They remain ingrained in governmental institutions Indigenous policy making judicial decision making and contemporary public attitudes about Indigenous people Trapped by History shines new light upon historical and contemporary examples where Indigenous people have attempted to engage and dialogue with state and federal governments These governments have responded by trying to suppress and discredit Indigenous rights culture and identities and impose assimilationist policies In doing so they have rejected or ignored Indigenous attempts at dialogue and partnership Other settler countries such as New Zealand Canada and the United States of America have all negotiated treaties with Indigenous people and have developed constitutional ways of engaging cross culturally In Australia the limited recognition that Indigenous people have achieved to date shows that the state is unable to resolve long standing issues with Indigenous people Movement beyond the current colonial relationship with Indigenous Australians requires a genuine dialogue to not only examine the legal and intellectual framework that constrains Indigenous recognition but to create new foundations for a renewed relationship based on intercultural negotiation mutual respect sharing and mutual responsibility This must involve building a shared understanding around addressing past injustices and creating a shared vision for how Indigenous people and other Australians will associate politically in the future

Strategic Communication, Social Media and Democracy W. Timothy Coombs, Jesper Falkheimer, Mats Heide, Philip Young, 2015-08-11 Today almost everyone in the developed world spends time online and anyone involved in strategic communication must think digitally The magnitude of change may be up for debate but the trend is unstoppable dramatically reconfiguring business models organisational structures and even the practice of democracy Strategic Communication Social Media and Democracy provides a wholly new framework for understanding this reality a reality that is transforming the way both practitioners and theoreticians navigate this fast moving environment Firmly rooted in empirical research and resisting the lure of over optimistic communication dreams it explores both the potential that social media offers for changing the relationships between organisations and stakeholders and critically analyses what has been achieved so far This innovative text will be of great interest to researchers educators and advanced students in strategic communications public relations corporate communication new media social media and communication management

The Commercial & Financial Chronicle, 1905 Violent Non-State Actors in Africa Caroline Varin, Dauda Abubakar, 2017-04-24 This book explores the rise and impact of violent non state actors in contemporary Africa and the implications for the sovereignty and security of African states Each chapter tackles a unique angle on violent organizations on the continent with the view of highlighting the conditions that lead to the rise and radicalization of these groups The chapters further examine the ways in which governments have responded to the challenge and the national regional and international strategies that they have adopted as a result Chapter contributors to this volume examine the emergence of Islamist terrorists in Nigeria Mali and Libya rebels in DR Congo Central African Republic Ethiopia and Rwanda and warlords and pirates in Somalia Uganda and Sierra Leone

The South China Sea: Challenges and Promises James Borton, 2015-01-29 The world knows there are troubled waters in the South China Sea This vital sea has long been regarded as a major source of tension and instability in Asia The tense geopolitical standoff between China and Vietnam continues to create confusion for many observers since both nations invoke both history and international law to justify their respective claims of sovereignty The complex and deeply rooted relationship of these two nations and their prominently argued issues over atolls oil rigs exclusive economic zones EEZs freedom of navigation military surveillance security interests unexplored vast oil and gas reserves and fisheries has only succeeded in forging a closer tie between two former enemies the United States of America and the Socialist Republic of Vietnam

Commercial and Financial Chronicle Bankers Gazette, Commercial Times, Railway Monitor and Insurance Journal ,1905 "The" Athenaeum ,1866 Crises and Integration in European Banking Union Christopher Mitchell, 2023-12-06 It is conventional wisdom among scholars policymakers and other observers that crises are one of the primary drivers of European integration However while many crises have indeed spurred deeper integration there is also no shortage of crises that failed to produce meaningful deepening or even led to disintegration The literature on European integration has to date failed to develop a theory to identify ex ante which crises are most likely to produce integrating reform Crises and Integration in European Banking Union addresses that gap building a theory of how the combination of crisis severity and origin indicates whether a crisis will produce deep reform modest reform or a persistence of the pre crisis status quo Mitchell does so by examining the relative impact of a series of crises on the centralization of European financial regulation in the 21st century including the 2007 09 Banking Crisis 2010 14 Debt Crisis the Brexit shock and the 2020 21 COVID 19 Pandemic It thus also makes an important contribution to the literature on European financial regulation and the steps needed to complete a European banking and capital markets union The volume not only addresses a significant theoretical gap but also provides a foundation for policymaking in response to future crises by building a framework to identify which challenges are most likely to provide an opportunity for deeper integration Pakistan's Nuclear Policy Zafar Khan, 2014-07-17 In May 1998 in reaction to India's nuclear weapons tests Pakistan tested six nuclear weapons Following this the country opted for a policy of minimum deterrence and within a year Pakistan had altered its policy stance by adding the modifier of minimum credible deterrence This book looks at how this seemingly innocuous shift seriously impacted on Pakistan's nuclear policy direction and whether the concept of minimum has lost its significance in the South

Asian region's changed changing strategic environment After providing a brief historical background exploring why and how Pakistan carried out the nuclear development program the book questions why Pakistan could not sustain the minimum deterrence that it had conceptualized in the immediate aftermath of the 1998 test It examines the conceptual theoretical framework of the essentials of minimum deterrence in order to question whether Pakistan's nuclear policy remained consistent with this as well as to discover the rudimentary factors that are responsible for the inconsistencies with regard to minimum deterrence conceived in this study The book goes on to look at the policy options that Pakistan had after acquiring the nuclear capability and what the rationale was for selecting minimum deterrence The book not only highlights Pakistan's deterrent force building but also analyzes closely Pakistan's doctrinal posture of first use option Furthermore it examines the policy towards arms control and disarmament and discusses whether these individual policy orientations are consistent with the minimum deterrence Conceptually providing a deeper understanding of Pakistan's post 1998 nuclear policy this book critically examines whether the minimum deterrence conceived could be sustained both at the theoretical and operational levels It will be a useful contribution in the field of Nuclear Policy Security Studies Asian Politics Proliferation Non Proliferation Studies and Peace Studies This book will be of interest to policy makers scholars and students of nuclear policy nuclear proliferation and arms control related research

Disasters, Risks and Revelation Steve Matthewman, 2016-04-29

Disasters are part of the modern condition a source of physical anxiety and existential angst and they are increasing in frequency cost and severity Drawing on both disaster research and social theory this book offers a critical examination of their causes consequences and future avoidance

Islam, Society, and Politics in Central Asia Pauline Jones, 2017-07-20

During the 1990s there was a general consensus that Central Asia was witnessing an Islamic revival after independence and that this occurrence would follow similar events throughout the Islamic world in the prior two decades which had negative effects on both social and political development Twenty years later we are still struggling to fully understand the transformation of Islam in a region that's evolved through a complex and dynamic process involving diversity in belief and practice religious authority and political intervention This volume seeks to shed light on these crucial questions by bringing together an international group of scholars to offer a fresh perspective on Central Asian states and societies The chapters provide analysis through four distinct categories the everyday practice of Islam across local communities state policies toward Islam focusing on attempts to regulate public and private practice through cultural legal and political institutions and how these differ from Soviet policies how religious actors influence communities in the practice of Islam state policies towards the religion and subsequent communal responses to state regulations and how knowledge of and interaction with the larger Islamic world is shaping Central Asia's current Islamic revival and state responses The contributors a multidisciplinary and international group of leading scholars develop fresh insights that both corroborate and contradict findings from previous research while also highlighting the problem of making any generalizations about Islam in individual states or the region As such this volume provides new and impactful analysis for scholars students and policy makers concerned with Central Asia
