Instructional Leadership in the Content Areas Jo Beth Jimerson, Sarah Quebec Fuentes, 2018-09-03. Co-published with University Council for Educational Administration (UCEA). This textbook prepares aspiring educational leaders for the important and challenging task of supporting instruction in their schools. Instructional Leadership in the Content Areas equips leaders who might not have content backgrounds that align with those of the teachers they supervise with research-based practices and knowledge specific to a range of subject areas. Presenting over 20 problems-based cases at the elementary, middle, and high school levels and across seven areas of content, this book deepens knowledge of exemplary instruction, improves feedback dialogues, and helps leaders work effectively alongside teachers and instructional specialists. Rich with activities, resources, and discussion questions, this casebook provides a broad overview of instructional leadership and the tools for school leaders to improve and support classroom practices across all content areas in intentional ways that support career-long professional growth. First published from 1893 through 1906 in the immediate aftermath of the events it covers, it was criticized even then for the author's clear bias. Rhodes believed it was a mistake to have given black men the right to vote after the Civil War. Today it remains a fascinating look at the times through a prism that is itself of historical interest.
