Good Reasoning Matters J. Frederick Little, Leo Groarke, Leo A. Groarke, Christopher William Tindale, 1989

Multimodal Argumentation and Rhetoric in Media Genres Assimakis Tseronis, Charles Forceville, 2017-12-15 This collection advances the study of context dependent characteristics of argumentative discourse by examining a variety of media genres in which text and image and other semiotic modes combine to create meaning The chapters have been written by an international group of senior and junior scholars researching multimodal argumentation in the last two decades In each chapter a specific approach to argumentation and rhetoric is combined with insights from visual studies metaphor theory scientific visualization cognitive science semiotics conversation analysis or documentary film theory in order to explain how multimodal genres function argumentatively and rhetorically Together the chapters present a state of the art in the analysis of multimodal argumentation in such diverse genres as print advertisements news photographs scientific illustrations political cartoons documentaries film trailers political TV advertisements public debates and political speeches The volume will be of interest to advanced students and scholars in argumentation studies rhetoric and multimodal communication

Reflections on Theoretical Issues in Argumentation Theory Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2015-08-08 This volume presents a selection of papers reflecting key theoretical issues in argumentation theory Its six sections are devoted to specific themes including the analysis and evaluation of argumentation argument schemes and the contextual embedding of argumentation The section on general perspectives on argumentation discusses the trends of empiricalization contextualization and formalization offers descriptions of the analytical and evaluative tools of informal logic and highlights selected principles that argumentation theorists do and do not agree upon In turn the section on linguistic approaches to argumentation focuses on the problem of distinguishing between explanation and argument while also elaborating on the role of verbal indicators of argument schemes All essays included in this volume point out notable recent developments in the study of argumentation

The Anthropology of Argument Christopher W. Tindale, 2020-12-30 This innovative text reinvigorates argumentation studies by exploring the experience of argument across cultures introducing an anthropological perspective into the domains of rhetoric communication and philosophy The Anthropology of Argument fills an important gap in contemporary argumentation theory by shifting the focus away from the purely propositional element of arguments and onto how they emerge from the experiences of peoples with diverse backgrounds demonstrating how argumentation can be understood as a means of expression and a gathering place of ideas and styles Confronting the limitations of the Western tradition of logic and searching out the argumentative roles of place orality myth narrative and audience it examines the nature of multi modal argumentation Tindale analyzes the impacts of colonialism on the field and addresses both optimistic and cynical assessments of contextual differences The results have implications for our understanding of contemporary argumentative discourse in areas marked by deep disagreement like politics law and social policy The book will interest scholars and upper level students in communication philosophy argumentation theory anthropology rhetoric linguistics and cultural studies      Ethical Issues in Business - Second Edition Peg Tittle, 2016-12-15 Peg Tittle's ambitious business ethics text brings together readings cases and the author's own informed opinions The second edition includes over a dozen new readings and case studies as well as a new chapter on issues in Information and Communication Technology Includes Canonical and topical readings on issues ranging from whistleblowing and advertising to international business the nature of capitalism and the environment Engaging overviews from the author encourage careful reflection and critical examination of conventional assumptions What to Do scenarios and Case Studies illustrate the practical relevance of each topic Comprehensive introductions to ethical theory and the ethics of business Questions following each selection test understanding and promote active reading A primer on ethical institutions examines the role of ethics consultants codes of ethics and more      Critical Thinking 5th edition Richard L Epstein, Michael Rooney, 2018-11-01 This fifth edition of

Critical Thinking by the noted logician Richard L Epstein is practical engaging and easy to teach Students enjoy and understand it because it is clear and has hundreds of examples using a cast of characters who reason as we do every day More than 1 000 exercises lead students to be able to reason well in their courses and their lives Essay writing lessons and visual writing lessons using the cast of characters teach students that first comes clear thinking and then comes clear writing A complete and comprehensive Instructor's Manual makes the text easy to teach and grade New to this edition chapters on explanations and reasoning in the sciences Over 1 000 examples and exercises from daily life A dozen original writing lessons fully integrated with the text Unique cartoon writing lessons help students apply critical thinking to non verbal situations

Integrating the Human Sciences Rick Szostak, 2022-11-15 What if we recognized that the human sciences collectively investigate a few dozen key phenomena that interact with each other Can we imagine a human science that would seek to stitch its understandings of this system of phenomena into a coherent whole If so what would that look like This book argues that we are unlikely to develop one unified theory of everything Our collective understanding must then be a map of the myriad relationships within this large but finite and manageable system coupled with detailed understandings of each causal link and of important subsystems The book outlines such a map and shows that the pursuit of coherence and a more successful human science enterprise requires integration recognizing the strengths and weaknesses of different methods and theory types and the pursuit of terminological and presentational clarity It explores how these inter connected goals can be achieved in research teaching library classification public policy and university administration These suggestions are congruent with and yet enhance other projects for reform of the human sciences This volume is aimed at any scholar or student who seeks to comprehend how what they study fits within a broader understanding      From Argument Schemes to Argumentative Relations in the Wild Frans H. van Eemeren, Bart Garssen, 2019-10-23 This volume comprises a selection of contributions to the theorizing about argumentation that have been presented at the 9th conference of the International Society for the Study of Argumentation ISSA held in Amsterdam in July 2018 The chapters included provide a general theoretical perspective on central topics in argumentation theory such as argument schemes and the fallacies Some contributions concentrate on the treatment of the concept of conductive argument Other contributions are dedicated to specific issues such as the justification of questions the occurrence of mining relations the role of exclamatives argumentative abduction eudaimonistic argumentation and a typology of logical ways to counter an argument In a number of cases the theoretical problems addressed are related to a specific type of context such as the burden of proof in philosophical argumentation the charge of committing a genetic fallacy in strategic manoeuvring in philosophy the necessity of community argument and connection adequacy for arguments with institutional warrants The volume offers a great deal of diversity in its breadth of coverage of argumentation theory and wide geographic representation from North and South America to Europe and China

The Pragmatics of Cogent Argumentation in British and American Political Debates Waleed Ridha Hammoodi Al-Juwaid,2019-03-05 Since the time of Aristotle various approaches have been offered to tackle what makes language stronger Some approaches have focused on rhetoric while others have given attention to logic Still others have concentrated on dialectics This book takes into account a full fledged comprehensive model of analysis that brings these three perspectives together Throughout it investigates the presence of pragmatic criteria and the utilization of pragmatic strategies that make language stronger in the context of argumentation Cogent argumentation is a pragmatic communicative interactional process that goes through stages and is regarded as a communicative exchange of arguments The cogency of these arguments is attained according to the availability of pragmatic criteria and the utilization of pragmatic strategies and determined throughout the whole process of argumentation The book will be of interest to anyone interested in the fields of pragmatics communication and politics and will widen their understanding of the pragmatic structure and criteria which constitute cogent argumentation

The Philosophy of Argument and Audience Reception Christopher W. Tindale,2015-04-30 Recent work in argumentation theory has emphasized the nature of arguers and arguments along with various theoretical perspectives Less attention has been given to the third feature of any argumentative situation the audience This book fills that gap by studying audience reception to argumentation and the problems that come to light as a result of this shift in focus Christopher W Tindale advances the tacit theories of several earlier thinkers by addressing the central problems connected with audience considerations in argumentation problems that earlier philosophical theories overlook or inadequately accommodate The main tools employed in exploring the central issues are drawn from contemporary philosophical research on meaning testimony emotion and agency These are then combined with some of the major insights of recent rhetorical work in argumentation to advance our understanding of audiences and suggest avenues for further research

Handbook of the Logic of Argument and Inference R.H. Johnson,H.J. Ohlbach,Dov M. Gabbay,John Woods,2002-09-11 The Handbook of the Logic of Argument and Inference is an authoritative reference work in a single volume designed for the attention of senior undergraduates graduate students and researchers in all the leading research areas concerned with the logic of practical argument and inference After an introductory chapter the role of standard logics is surveyed in two chapters These chapters can serve as a mini course for interested readers in deductive and inductive logic or as a refresher Then follow two chapters of criticism one the internal critique and the other the empirical critique The first deals with objections to standard logics as theories of argument and inference arising from the research programme in philosophical logic The second canvasses criticisms arising from work in cognitive and experimental psychology The next five chapters deal with developments in dialogue logic interrogative logic informal logic probability logic and artificial intelligence The last chapter surveys formal approaches to practical reasoning and anticipates possible future developments Taken as a whole the Handbook is a single volume indication of the present state of the logic of argument and inference at its conceptual and theoretical best Future editions will periodically incorporate significant new developments

A Rhetoric of Meanings Gergana Apostolova, 2015-09-04 This book presents an in depth analysis of language s role as the tool and environment for human survival on Earth examining its ability to provide an unlimited space for telling individual stories that bear the knowledge of mankind s self significance The book is the result of a 20 year long composite study of language phenomenology grounded in the interactions of Bulgarian and English approached in a game like fashion where the play with language units transcends levels of meanings based on significances and explored through the four basic avatars of activated language the learner the teacher the translator and the creator of texts The book is divided into three sections the first details the motivation for this study and the design of the method of exploration This is followed by an application of this method to the talkative web in order to find ways of meeting the enormous demand for human content The final section brings together the colourful practices of activated language movement This book is not about the philosophy of language per se It is concerned with the practical field beyond the philosophy of language where the self identification of the Subject is brought to a higher stage of communicative creativity The rhetoric theory of argumentation is argued throughout the book to be the relevant ground for building a holistic tool of language learning where language acquisition is seen as the capability of the subject to construct worlds in a universe whose leading structure involves the rhetoric criteria of ethos pathos and logos on the one hand and the self identifying choice of meanings to situations of complex nature on the other As such the book is primarily concerned with linguistics rhetoric semiotics of culture ethics and language learning viewed through a philosophical preoccupation with humanity

The SAGE Encyclopedia of Theory in Science, Technology, Engineering, and Mathematics James Mattingly, 2022-09-21 The SAGE Encyclopedia of Theory is a landmark work that examines theory in general and the broad split between the hard and soft sciences a split that is being re examined as approaches to scientific questions become increasingly multidisciplinary Theories and Models of Communication Paul Copley, Peter J. Schulz, 2013-01-30 This unique volume offers an overview of the diversity in research on communication including perspectives from biology sociality economics norms and human development It includes general social science and humanities approaches to communication from systems theory to cultural theory as well as perspectives more specifically related to communication acts such as linguistics and cognition The volume also features chapters on the participants and various elements in communication processes on possible effects and on wider consequences of mediation with technical media The scope of the contributions is global and the volume is relevant to both the empirical and the philosophical traditions in human sciences Designed as a stand alone collection to engage undergraduates as well as postgraduates and academics this is also the first book in and an introduction to the De Gruyter Mouton multi volume Handbooks of Communication Science

What Do We Know About the World? Gabrijela Kišiček, Igor Ž. Žagar, 2013-10-03 What do we know about the world Rhetorical and Argumentative Perspectives is a book trying to answer the title question by contributing to rhetorical and argumentative studies It consists of papers presented at the First International Conference on Rhetoric in Croatia the Days of Ivo S karic in May 2012 and subsequently revised for publication Through a variety of different routs the papers explore the role of rhetoric and argumentation in various types of public discourse and present interdisciplinary work connecting linguists phoneticians philosophers law experts and communication scientists in the common ground of rhetoric and argumentation The Conference was organized with the intent of paying respect to the Croatian rhetorician and professor emeritus Ivo S karic who was the first to introduce rhetoric at the Department of Phonetics at the Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences University of Zagreb

Argumentation Machines C. Reed, T.J. Norman, 2013-03-09 In the late 1990s AI witnessed an increasing use of the term argumentation within its bounds in natural language processing in user interface design in logic programming and nonmonotonic reasoning in AI s interface with the legal community and in the newly emerging field of multi agent systems It seemed to me that many of these uses of argumentation were inspired by of ten inspired guesswork and that a great majority of the AI community were unaware that there was a maturing rich field of research in Argumentation Theory and Critical Thinking and Informal Logic that had been steadily re building a scholarly approach to the area over the previous twenty years or so Argumentation Theory on its side was developing theories and approaches that many in the field felt could have a role more widely in research and soci ety but were for the most part unaware that AI was one of the best candidates for such application

On Reasoning and Argument David Hitchcock, 2017-04-06 This book brings together in one place David Hitchcock s most significant published articles on reasoning and argument In seven new chapters he updates his thinking in the light of subsequent scholarship Collectively the papers articulate a distinctive position in the philosophy of argumentation Among other things the author develops an account of material consequence that permits evaluation of inferences without problematic postulation of unstated premises updates his recursive definition of argument that accommodates chaining and embedding of arguments and allows any type of illocutionary act to be a conclusion advances a general theory of relevance provides comprehensive frameworks for evaluating inferences in reasoning by analogy means end reasoning and appeals to considerations or criteria argues that none of the forms of arguing ad hominem is a fallacy describes proven methods of teaching critical thinking effectively
