"Wait it out"

Parenting, Family Policy and Children's Well-Being in an Unequal Society D. Hartas, 2014-01-30 Western societies face many challenges The growing inequality and the diminishing role of the welfare state and the rapid accumulation of the resources of a finite planet at the top 1% have made the world an inhospitable place to many families Parents are left alone to deal with the big societal problems and reverse their impact on their children s educational achievement and life chances The average working family is sliding down the social ladder with a significant impact on children s learning and wellbeing We now know that parental involvement with children s learning although important in its own right is not the primary mechanism through which poverty translates to underachievement and reduced social mobility Far more relevant to children s learning and emotional wellbeing is their parents income and educational qualifications The mantra of what parents do matters is hypocritical considering the strong influence that poverty has on parents and children We can no longer argue that we live in a classless society especially as it becomes clear that most governmental reforms are class based and affect poor families disproportionately In this book Dimitra Hartas explores parenting and its influence on children s learning and wellbeing while examining the impact of social class amidst policy initiatives to eradicate child poverty in 21st Century Britain

Handbook of Parenting Marc H. Bornstein, 2005-02-16 Despite the fact that most people become parents and everyone who has ever lived has had parents parenting remains a mystifying subject about which almost everyone has opinions but about which few people agree Striking permutations on the theme of parenting are emerging single parenthood blended families lesbian and gay parents and teen versus fifties first time moms and dads Divided into four volumes the Handbook of Parenting is concerned with different types of parents basic characteristics of parenting forces that shape parenting problems faced by parents and the practical sides of parenting Contributors have worked in different ways toward understanding all of these diverse aspects of parenting and look to the most recent research and thinking in the field to shed light on many topics every parent has wondered about Because development is too subtle dynamic and intricate to admit that parental caregiving alone determines the course and outcome of ontogeny volume 1 concerns how children influence parenting Volume 2 relates parenting to its biological roots and sets parenting in its ecological framework Volume 3 distinguishes among the cast of characters responsible for parenting and is revealing of the psychological make ups and social interests of those individuals Volume 4 describes problems of parenting as well as the promotion of positive parenting practices Written to be read and absorbed in a single sitting each chapter addresses a different but central topic in parenting and is rooted in current thinking and theory as well as classic and modern research on that topic All chapters follow a standard organization including an introduction to the chapter as a whole followed by historical considerations of the topic a discussion of central issues and theory a review of classic and modern research forecasts of future directions for theory and research and a conclusion In addition to considering their own convictions and research the chapter contributors present and broadly interpret all major points of view and central lines of inquiry Promoting Resilience in Child Welfare Robert John Flynn, Peter M. Dudding, James G. Barber, 2006 Since the beginnings of its development in Britain in 1987 the Looking After Children LAC initiative has had a profound influence in Canada as well as in Australia and across Europe in sharpening the developmental focus and improving the quality of services for children and adolescents who because of abuse neglect extreme poverty or other circumstances live in out of home care Promoting Resilience in Child Welfare presents reviews of research new empirical findings and useful practice and policy suggestions derived from the perspectives of LAC and resilience theory by an array of international voices Practitioners out of home care providers youths in care in service trainers students researchers and many others will find much in this book that speaks to more effective ways of improving the lives of young people being looked after in out of home care Midwest The Best of AAMR Jan Blacher, Bruce L. Gartstein, Samuel P. Putnam, 2018-11-07 One doesn't have to travel extensively to realize that there are intriguing differences in the ways in which people from different cultures tend to behave Gartstein and Putnam explore whether these differences are shaped during the early years of life at the moment when children are just beginning to understand how when and why they should express some emotions and not others Based on the findings of the Joint Effort Toddler Temperament Consortium JETTC which asked parents from 14 different countries multiple questions regarding their main goals and techniques for raising children to be successful in their culture Gartstein and Putnam analyze how children s characteristics both normative and problematic are shaped by different cultural environments Drawing from insights in anthropology sociology and developmental psychology the book explores the full spectrum of human experience from broad sets of values and concerns that differentiate populations down to the intimate details of parent child relationships The results reveal a complex web of interrelations among societal ideals parental attempts to fulfill them and the ways their children manifest these efforts In doing so they provide a revealing look at how families raise their young children around the world Toddlers Parents and Culture will be of great interest to students and scholars in temperament cross cultural psychology parenting and socioemotional development in early childhood as well as professionals in early education child mental health and behavioral pediatrics
