Grade 12 Isixhosa Paper 1 Question:

English as a Language of Learning, Teaching and Inclusivity Liesel Hibbert, 2023-08-18 Hibbert explores South Africa's higher education crisis utilising case studies and first hand experiences with English as the language of instruction. The historical overview provides a framework with which to understand the complicated nature of using English as a language of instruction in South Africa past and present. Student narratives are presented to illustrate mainly breakthroughs but also challenges. An overview is provided of imported English teaching methodologies and how they have emerged and developed in the local educational system over decades. It is demonstrated how these methodologies relate to socio-economic and political events and trends at each juncture. By applying defamiliarisation as a research method of investigation, students' translanguaging struggles are recorded and discussed both pre-pandemic and in the pandemic period. The experiences of non-monolingual English speaking staff and students and of local English African language bilinguals are foregrounded as they are by far the majority in South African higher education and schools. The relevance of the experiences and learning paths of those staff and students is enhanced. This book aids lecturers across disciplines and English language facilitators in the improvement of English acquisition curricula through exposure to arguments, case studies and learning path narratives in this volume and prompts and inspires researchers to develop further theories and experiments in their own context. Not Ever Absent: Storytelling in Arts, Culture and Identity Formation, 2019-01-04 This volume was first published by Inter-Disciplinary Press in 2015. Storytelling has always played a central role in the formation of cultures and communities. All cultures define themselves and their place in the world through their stories. Similarly, our identities are largely constructed as narratives and it is with the aid of storytelling that we manage to conceive of ourselves as meaningful wholes. Thus, storytelling is not ever absent; it is to be found in literature, social life in the places we visit and the buildings we live in. This volume presents storytelling in various appearances from ancient myths and oral history to transmedia narratives and digital stories. Different forms of narrative are analysed as is the use of storytelling as a method for e.g. counselling, education and research. Throughout twenty-five chapters, a compelling overview of recent research on the topic is provided, both stressing the omnipresence of storytelling and exploring what storytelling is and isn't. Focus on First Year Success Brenda Leibowitz, Antoinette Van der Merwe, Susan Van Schalkwyk, 2009-11-01 The importance of the first year experience is now well recognised. This collection of papers makes a fascinating and important contribution to our understanding of students' transition to higher education. This is a scholarly, engaging and illuminating text that is relevant not only in the context of South Africa but for anyone interested in student learning in the first year of university education. David Gosling, Plymouth University. The Transformative Power of Language Russell H. Kaschula, H. Ekkehard Wolff, 2020-09-10 Language has played a pivotal role in societal transformation in postcolonial Africa towards the creation of globally competitive knowledge societies; however, so far, this role has been under-researched and underestimated. This volume addresses this gap in the literature by bringing together a team of globally recognised scholars to explore the effect of language on African postcolonial societies and how it has contributed to achieving mental decolonisation. A range of languages are explored both imported ex colonial and indigenous African and case studies from different spheres of public discourse are investigated from universities to legal settings. Demonstrating that multilingualism is a resource for rather than barrier to successful transformation this book brings the intellectualisation and institutionalisation of African languages to the forefront of development discourse and provides an insightful snap shot of how current academic research public discourse political activism and social community engagement have contributed to societal transformation in South Africa.

Language of Instruction in Tanzania and South Africa - Highlights from a Project, 2010-01-01 This book is based on chapters in a series of four books from the first five years 2002-2006 of the Language of Instruction in Tanzania and South Africa LOITASA project. LOITASA is a NUFU funded Norwegian University Fund project which began in January 2002 and will continue through to the end of 2011. The chapters reflect the state of the research at the end of the first five years of LOITASA in 2006 and were selected by reviewers independent of the project. The selection of chapters brought together bring to the forefront the dilemmas facing developing countries as they seek to position themselves in an increasingly interconnected global system while at the same time maintaining a sense of national and regional identity. The chapters in this collection reflect both positive outcomes when the medium of instruction is a widely known language as well as the challenges of mother tongue instruction in countries where historically a powerful language like English has dominated. The four LOITASA books in this series from which the chapters in this book are drawn are Language of instruction in Tanzania and South Africa LOITASA published by E Zubeida Desai the South African project leader and Martha Qorro who is on the project steering committee in Tanzania.
