Nigeria we estimate how the adoption of animal traction or tractors affects the economies of scope EOS between rice non rice grains legume seed crops and other crops which are the crop groups that are most widely grown with animal traction or tractors in Nigeria The results indicate that the adoption of these mechanization technologies is associated with lower EOS between non rice grains legume seed crops and other crops but greater EOS between rice and other crops An increase in EOS for rice is indicated in both primal and dual analytical approaches Mechanical technologies may raise EOS between crops that are grown in more heterogeneous environments even though it may lower EOS between crops that are grown in relatively similar environments To the best of our knowledge this is the first paper that shows the effects of mechanical technologies on EOS in agriculture in developing countries

Sovereign Debt Restructuring and the Law Sebastian Grund, 2022-12-30 The book sheds light on the perhaps most important legal conundrum in the context of sovereign debt restructuring the holdout creditor problem Absent an international bankruptcy regime for sovereigns holdout creditors may delay or even thwart the efficient resolution of sovereign debt crises by leveraging contractual provisions and in an increasing number of cases by seeking to enforce a debt claim against the sovereign in courts or international tribunals Following an introduction to sovereign debt and its restructuring the book provides the first comprehensive analysis of the holdout creditor problem in the context of the two largest sovereign debt restructuring operations in history the Argentine restructurings of 2005 and 2010 and the 2012 Greek private sector involvement By reviewing numerous lawsuits and arbitral proceedings initiated against Argentina and Greece across a dozen different jurisdictions it distills the organizing principles for ongoing and future cases of sovereign debt restructuring and litigation It highlights the different approaches judges and arbitrators have adopted when dealing with holdout creditors ranging from the denial of their contractual right to repayment on human rights grounds to leveraging the international financial infrastructure to coerce governments into meeting holdouts demands To this end it zooms in on the role the governing law plays in sovereign debt restructurings revisits the contemporary view on sovereign immunity from suit and enforcement in the international debt context and examines how creditor rights are balanced with the sovereign's interest in achieving debt sustainability Finally it advances a new genealogy of holdouts distinguishing between official and private sector holdouts and discussing how the proliferation of new types of uncooperative creditors may affect the sovereign debt architecture going forward While the book is aimed at practitioners and scholars dealing with sovereign debt and its restructuring it should also provide the general reader with the understanding of the key legal issues facing countries in debt distress Moreover by weaving economic financial and political considerations into its analysis of holdout creditor litigation and arbitration the book also speaks to policymakers without a legal background engaged in the field of international finance and economics

Early Childhood Education and Development in Indonesia Amina Denboba, Amer Hasan, Quentin Wodon, 2015-08-06 Since the early 2000s Indonesia has taken a number of steps to prioritize early childhood development ranging from the inclusion of Early Childhood

Development ECD in the National Education System Law No 20 in 2003 to a Presidential Declaration on Holistic and Integrated ECD and the launch of the country's first ever ECD Census in 2011. These policy milestones have occurred in parallel with sustained progress on outcomes included in the Millennium Development Goals including for child malnutrition, child mortality and universal basic education. Additional progress could be achieved by strengthening ECD policies further. This report presents findings from an assessment of ECD policies and programs in Indonesia based on two World Bank tools: the ECD module of the Systems Approach for Better Education Results (SABER) and a guide on essential interventions for investing in young children. Results from the application of both tools to Indonesia are used to suggest a number of policy options for consideration.
