The Promise Donald

A. Tsolo,2009-07 For Donald Tsolo Phae to most it was infuriating to be young and black in apartheid South Africa Early on Phae s father instilled the belief that South Africa s survival rested on the next generation s shoulders With education Phae and his cohorts could advance black equality Believing oppression and suffering would stop though was optimistic When Phae s friend Nyakane is beaten by Afrikaner police for rescuing a drowning white boy and administering CPR Phae and his friends are fundamentally altered Goal directed discussions replace informal conversations Meetings become organized and planned Talks on incendiary bombs firearms and the black struggle for freedom overtake their light hearted banter Remedying apartheid in the early 1950s was unlikely however Phae thus committed himself to the anti apartheid weapon with the highest likelihood of success education Making his way to Pius XII University College he is elected chairman of the local branch of the outlawed Pan African Congress American politicians working in country quickly take note and Phae s future spirals toward activism With cultural historical and political context The Promise is an in depth portrait of the barbarism fathered by apartheid and how both Phae and some good hearted God fearing Americans devoted their lives to a democratic non racial South Africa Resources in Education ,1984 The Road to Democracy in South Africa: 1970-1980 South African Democracy Education Trust,2004 v 3 The third volume in the series examines the role of anti apartheid movements around the world The global anti apartheid movement was very successful in creating awareness of the liberation struggle in South Africa and in contributing to the downfall of the apartheid government This volume in 2 parts brings together analyses which in the main are written by activist scholars with deep roots in the movements and organizations they are writing about Translations on Sub-Saharan Africa United States.
