Human Rights Report State:

A Review of the State Department's "Country Reports on Human Rights Practices" United States. Congress. House. Committee on International Relations. Subcommittee on International Terrorism, Nonproliferation, and Human Rights, 2003 Handbook on Human Rights in China Sarah Biddulph, Joshua Rosenzweig, 2019 This Handbook gives a wide ranging account of the theory and practice of human rights in China viewed against international standards and China's international engagements around human rights The Handbook is organised into the following sections contested meanings international dimensions economic and social rights civil and political rights rights in action and access to justice political dimensions of human rights in Greater China and new frontiers Monthly Catalog of United States Government Publications, 1971 The Transformation of Human Rights Fact-finding Philip Alston, Sarah Knuckey, 2016 Fact finding is at the heart of human rights advocacy and is often at the center of international controversies about alleged government abuses In recent years human rights fact finding has greatly proliferated and become more sophisticated and complex while also being subjected to stronger scrutiny from governments Nevertheless despite the prominence of fact finding it remains strikingly under studied and under theorized Too little has been done to bring forth the assumptions methodologies and techniques of this rapidly developing field or to open human rights fact finding to critical and constructive scrutiny The Transformation of Human Rights Fact Finding offers a multidisciplinary approach to the study of fact finding with rigorous and critical analysis of the field of practice while providing a range of accounts of what actually happens It deepens the study and practice of human rights investigations and fosters fact finding as a discretely studied topic while mapping crucial transformations in the field The contributions to this book are the result of a major international conference organized by New York University Law School's Center for Human Rights and Global Justice Engaging the expertise and experience of the editors and contributing authors it offers a broad approach encompassing contemporary issues and analysis across the human rights spectrum in law international relations and critical theory This book addresses the major areas of human rights fact finding such as victim and witness issues fact finding for advocacy enforcement and litigation the role of interdisciplinary expertise and methodologies crowd sourcing social media and big data and international guidelines for fact finding

Examining Human Rights Issues and the Democracy Project in Sub-Saharan Africa E. Ike Udogu, 2014-03-06 Sub Saharan Africa is experiencing an impressive measure of economic revivalism that is driven by both national and international forces at the beginning of the twenty first century That political and business leaders in the region are determined that development in this millennium will not mimic the slow pace of growth in the twentieth is a given Undoubtedly the rapid spread of information communications technology ICT and contemporary investments of China in the region's growth agenda bear this thesis out This book among other things advances the theory that improving human rights practices and the democracy project i.e democratic consolidation in sub Saharan Africa will create an enabling environment that is critical for stimulating the current inspiring development objectives

The Right to Development: Obligations of States and the Rights of Minorities and Indigenous Peoples Margot E. Salomon, Arjun Sengupta, 2003-02-10 The United Nations adopted the Declaration on the Right to Development in 1986 The Declaration recognizes that development is an inalienable human right and describes development as a comprehensive process leading to the well being of all people All states are called upon to cooperate internationally and work nationally to ensure that this comprehensive process in which all human rights can be realized is undertaken without discrimination and that all people may participate fully and equally in this process This paper provides an elaboration of the content of the right to development by drawing on international law It addresses the obligations of states particularly with regard to international cooperation and considers the application of obligations of conduct as well as those of result in giving this right meaning This paper also details the rights of minorities and indigenous peoples and how they relate to the right to development The creation of conditions that enable a state to develop will not necessarily lead to the realization of the right to development by the individuals within that state Traditionally marginalized groups notably minorities and indigenous peoples may not benefit from this development or may be harmed by it Even where the right to development is being realized by the majority the rights of minorities and indigenous peoples could be violated if the process undertaken does not take account of their rights The authors discuss the need to have in place the standards to ensure that the protection and promotion of minority and indigenous rights are fully integrated into policies designed to fulfil the right to development Written in cooperation with the UN Independent Expert on the right to development this work builds on his contribution to the mandated objectives of the inter state UN Working Group on the Right to Development It provides an important contribution to the scope of rights and obligations in this area and the implications that stem from them particularly for minorities and indigenous peoples
