African-American Pioneers in Anthropology Ira E. Harrison, Faye V. Harrison, Faye Venetia Harrison, 1999 This pathbreaking collection of intellectual biographies is the first to probe the careers of thirteen early African American anthropologists, detailing both their achievements and their struggle with the latent and sometimes blatant racism of the times. Invaluable to historians of anthropology, this collection will also be useful to readers interested in African American studies and biography. The lives and work of Caroline Bond Day, Zora Neale Hurston, Louis Eugene King, Laurence Foster W. Montague Cobb, Katherine Dunham, Ellen Irene Diggs, Allison Davis, St. Clair Drake, Arthur Huff Fauset, William S. Willis Jr., Hubert Barnes, Ross Elliot Skinner. Cartography Matthew H. Edney, 2019-04-12 In his most ambitious work to date, Edney questions the very concept of cartography to argue that this flawed ideal has hobbled the study of maps. Susan Schulten, author of A History of America in 100 Maps, Over the past four decades, the volumes published in the landmark History of Cartography series have both chronicled and encouraged scholarship about maps and mapping practices across time and space. As the current director of the project that has produced these volumes, Matthew H. Edney has a unique vantage point for understanding what cartography has come to mean and include. In this book, Edney disavows the term cartography, rejecting the notion that maps represent an undifferentiated category of objects for study. Rather than treating maps as a single unified group, he argues scholars need to take a processual approach that examines specific types of maps: sea charts versus thematic maps, for example, in the context of the unique circumstances of their production, circulation, and consumption To illuminate this bold argument Edney chronicles precisely how the ideal of cartography that has developed in the West since 1800 has gone astray By exposing the flaws in this ideal his book challenges everyone who studies maps and mapping practices to reexamine their approach to the topic The study of cartography will never be the same An intellectually bracing and marvellously provocative account of how the mythical ideal of cartography developed over time and in the process distorted our understanding of maps Times Higher Education Cartography The Ideal and Its History offers both a sharp critique of current practice and a call to reorient the field of map studies A landmark contribution K ren Wigen coeditor of Time in Maps

Feminism and the Abyss of Freedom Linda M. G. Zerilli, 2005-10-03 In contemporary feminist theory the problem of feminine subjectivity persistently appears and reappears as the site that grounds all discussion of feminism In Feminism and the Abyss of Freedom Linda M G Zerilli argues that the persistence of this subject centered frame severely limits feminists capacity to think imaginatively about the central problem of feminist theory and practice a politics concerned with freedom Offering both a discussion of feminism in its postmodern context and a critique of contemporary theory Zerilli here challenges feminists to move away from a theory based approach which focuses on securing or contesting women as an analytic category of feminism to one rooted in political action and judgment She revisits the democratic problem of exclusion from participation in common affairs and elaborates a freedom centered feminism as the political practice of beginning anew world building and judging In a series of case studies Zerilli draws on the political thought of Hannah Arendt to articulate a nonsovereign conception of political freedom and to explore a variety of feminist understandings of freedom in the twentieth century including ones proposed by Judith Butler Monique Wittig and the Milan Women s Bookstore Collective In so doing Zerilli hopes to retrieve what Arendt called feminism s lost treasure the original and radical claim to political freedom
