Pérez Jr., 2002-11-25 The first book to establish hurricanes as a key factor in the development of modern Cuba Winds of Change shows how these great storms played a decisive role in shaping the economy the culture and the nation during a critical century in the island s history Always vulnerable to hurricanes Cuba was ravaged in 1842 1844 and 1846 by three catastrophic storms with staggering losses of life and property Louis Perez combines eyewitness and literary accounts with agricultural data and economic records to show how important facets of the colonial political economy among them land tenure forms labor organization and production systems and many of the social relationships at the core of Cuban society were transformed as a result of these and lesser hurricanes He also examines the impact of repeated natural disasters on the development of Cuban identity and community Bound together in the face of forces beyond their control Cubans forged bonds of unity in their ongoing efforts to persevere and recover in the aftermath of destruction      The Great African Slave Revolt of 1825 Manuel Barcia Paz, 2012-06-06 In June 1825 the Cuban countryside witnessed a large African led slave rebellion a revolt that began a cycle of slave uprisings lasting until the mid 1840s The Great African Slave Revolt of 1825 examines this movement and its participants for the first time highlighting the significance of African warriors in New World plantation society Unlike previous slave revolts led by alliances between free people of color and slaves blacks and mulattoes Africans and Creoles and rural and urban populations only African born men organized the uprising of 1825 From this year onwards Barcia argues slave uprisings in Cuba underwent a phase of Africanization that concluded only in the mid 1840s with the conspiracy of La Escalera a large movement organized by free colored men with ample participation of the slave population The Great African Slave Revolt of 1825 offers a detailed examination of the sociopolitical and economic background of the Matanzas rebellion both locally and colonially Based on extensive primary sources particularly court records the study provides a microhistorical analysis of the days that preceded this event the uprising itself and the days and months that followed Barcia gives the Great African Revolt of 1825 its rightful place in the history of slavery in Cuba the Caribbean and the Americas      Relief and Development Denise Y. Octavio Paz Nicholas Caistor, 2008-02-15 Both an artist and activist Octavio Paz won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1990 This recognition was the culmination of decades of work as Paz strove to marry traditional Mexican poetry with distinctly surrealist and Spanish influences Along with his work Paz's contribution to the intellectual debates of his time such as those over the role of Mexican art in national identity cannot be overemphasized In Octavio Paz Nicholas Caistor takes a fresh look at Paz's exquisite poetry and fascinating life Born during the Mexican Revolution Paz spent his youth fighting to free Mexico from the ideologies of both the left and right He traveled to the United States then to Spain where he fought with the Republicans against Franco's Nationalists He eventually served as a diplomat in India before returning to his homeland in 1968 where he again became a vocal opponent of the government As Caistor demonstrates Paz's personal journey in those years was as exciting as his public life He details here the multiple marriages and passionate friendships that inevitably made their way into Paz's poetry Both concise and insightful Octavio Paz reveals the life that informs a poetry that is deeply expressive and distinctly political

Of Rainfalls and Disasters Juan Manuel Rodríguez Esteves , Disasters associated with natural phenomena such as earth quakes floods droughts etcetera are intensifying damages that translate into deaths the loss of infrastructure and the interruption of economic activities The accelerated growth of cities frequently incorporates new areas that are susceptible to certain hazards leaving society increasingly exposed due to a mismanagement of land Since the 1990s the social sciences have developed the approach of vulnerability which considers the conditions of weakness of a society to cope with hazards We now know that risk is socially constructed and so disasters are not only a result of the intensity of the geophysical phenomena that unleash them but also of the contexts of vulnerability present when a phenomenon takes place The aim of this work is to show how the risk of flood disasters is constructed in Tijuana Baja California with four main elements as our starting point An examination of floods since the late 19th century the voice of the actors present for flooding events a theoretical model to understand the relationship between the hazard and the magnitude of the risk and recommendations for disaster risk management at a local level
