India Infrastructure Report 2012 Idfc Foundation, 2016-04-08 Today India s education sector remains a victim of poor policies restrictive regulations and orthodoxy Despite being enrolled in schools children are not learning adequately Increasingly parents are seeking alternatives through private inputs in school and tuition Students are dropping out from secondary school in spite of high financial returns of secondary education and those who do complete it have inferior conceptual knowledge Higher education is over regulated and under governed keeping away serious private providers and reputed global institutes Graduates from high schools colleges and universities are not readily employable and few are willing to pay for skill development Ironically the Right to Education Act if strictly enforced will result in closure of thousands of non state schools and millions of poor children will be left without access to education Eleventh in the series India Infrastructure Report 2012 discusses challenges in the education sector elementary secondary higher and vocational and explores strategies for constructive change and opportunities for the private sector It suggests that immediate steps are required to reform the sector to reap the benefits from India s demographic dividend due to a rise in the working age population Result of a collective effort led by the IDFC Foundation this Report brings together a range of perspectives from academics researchers and practitioners committed to enhancing educational practices It will be an invaluable resource for policymakers researchers and corporates

Equality and Ethnic Identities Alice Akoshia Ayikaaley Sawyerr, Christopher Adam Bagley, 2017-07-13 This book combines history sociology psychology and educational policy in research on a 40 year crucial phase of development of ethnic identity ethnic relations and educational and social policies for children in England from pre school to secondary school The authors show how nursery children of different ethnicities interact in beginning their identity journeys in a culture of both inequality and evolving ethnic relationships and patterns of harmony in Britain s developing multicultural society In looking at self concept development in secondary school children through the lens of various kinds of child maltreatment Alice Sawyerr and Christopher Bagley argue that ethnic minority children are psychological survivors and African Caribbean girls especially are making strong identity steps it is the poor whites who will make up the precariat the reserve army of labour who are left behind in structures of inequality Teaching 14-19

Learners in the Lifelong Learning Sector Sheine Peart, Liz Atkins, 2011-01-14 More and more teachers in the lifelong learning sector are required to teach the 14 19 age group This book is a practical guide to delivering learning to 14 19s It begins by looking at the background to teaching 14 19 in FE and covers current pathways for achievement Coverage of effective delivery of the new Diploma qualification is included giving guidance on planning and assessment It goes on to explore the challenges of behaviour participation and re engaging disaffected learners Finally it considers the wider context of building partnerships with schools and the needs of industry and employers Testing Times Willis Richard, 2014-02-07

This book focuses on the delivery of public examinations offered by the main examining boards in England since Victorian England The investigation reveals that the provision of examinations was as controversial in the nineteenth century as it is today particularly since the government is now determined to bring in reform The issues of grade inflation the place of coursework in marking and the introduction of technological change all feature in this book Educational policy is primarily examined as well as some reference to the global scene The study analyses archival material from a wide range of sources including those records stored at the National Archives and the London Metropolitan Archives An emphasis is placed upon the various institutions that contributed to the process including the Royal Society of Arts the London Chamber of Commerce the City of Guilds of London Institute and the University of London Attention is given to the findings of the Taunton Commission and the Bryce Commission and shorter reports such as the Northcote Trevelyn Report which served to radicalise entry and recruitment to the Civil Service The modern GCSE and the plans for I levels are considered and key observations are made about the efficacy of those examinations offered by Oxford and Cambridge universities and O levels A levels and NVQs The reader is given every opportunity to benefit enthusiastically in this account of examinations and those engaged in education whether teachers examiners students or administrators will be able to gain useful insights into the workings of the examination system National Curriculum Great Britain.
