

Fig. C504—Axle and radius rod pivot pin installation on models with an adjustable front axle.

AXLE PIVOT PINS AND BUSHINGS

Adjustable Axle Models

5. Radius rod is integral with the axle middle section on all adjustable axle models. To renew the axle and radius rod pivot pins and bushings, first place a floor jack under clutch housing and raise front of tractor enough to just take weight off of front wheels. Remove cap screws (CS—Fig. C504) retaining axle pivot pin (P) to pedestal and withdraw the axle pivot pin. Remove snap rings (R) from radius rod pivot pin and remove the pin. Raise front of tractor, allowing axle to drop down far enough to remove the pivot pin bushings from axle and integral radius rod. New bushings should be final sized after installation, if necessary, to provide a free running fit for the pivot pins.

Pivot pin diameters are as follows:

| General Purpose Models | |
|------------------------|-------------|
| Front | 1.246-1.247 |
| Rear | 0.997-0.998 |
| High Clearance Models | |
| Front | 1.743-1.747 |
| Rear | 1.493-1.497 |

Standard Axle Models

5. Radius rod is bolted to axle main member. To renew the axle pivot pin and bushing, place a floor jack under clutch housing and raise front of tractor enough to just take weight off of front wheels. Unbolt the radius rod at rear end, remove the axle pivot pin retaining snap ring and remove the pivot pin (P—Fig. C503). Raise front of tractor, allowing axle to drop down far enough to remove the pivot pin bushing from axle main member. New bushing should be final sized after installation to provide a free fit for the pivot pin.

MANUAL STEERING SYSTEM

General Purpose and High Clearance Models

7. ADJUSTMENT. The steering gear unit is provided with two adjustments; one for the upper steering spindle end play, the other for the steering worm shaft end play. To make the adjustments, raise front of tractor to remove load from steering gear and remove the grille screen.

8. WORM SHAFT END PLAY. To adjust the steering worm shaft, remove cover (1—Fig. C505) and remove the worm shaft front bearing carrier (2). Vary the number of shims (3) located between the bearing carrier and the housing to remove all shaft end play without causing any binding tendency. Shims are available in thicknesses of 0.003, 0.005 and 0.010.

9. UPPER SPINDLE END PLAY. To adjust the upper spindle end play, remove the gear housing top cover as shown in Fig. C506 and tighten plug (19) to remove all spindle end play; then, back-off the plug until projection (P) on upper cover will engage slot in the adjusting plug. Before installing the upper cover, make certain that "O" ring (9) is in position.

10. R & R AND OVERHAUL. To remove the steering gear housing assembly, first drain cooling system and remove hood, radiator screen, grille and radiator. Raise front of tractor and unbolt lower spindle on dual wheel tricycle models, wheel fork on single wheel tricycle models or center arm on adjustable axle models from the upper steering spindle. Disconnect the steering worm shaft front universal joint, unbolt and remove the steering gear housing assembly from tractor.

Drain lubricant from housing and remove upper cover (20—Fig. C507) and adjusting plug (19). Unbolt and separate upper gear housing (17) from lower housing (15). Remove snap ring (18) and withdraw sector (21). Withdraw upper spindle from lower housing. Needle bearing (11) in upper housing, needle bearing (12) and seal (14) in lower housing can be renewed at this time.

Note: Special arbors are available from the J. I. Case Co., for installing

Fig. C505—Manual steering gear installation on general purpose and high clearance tractors. Steering worm shaft end play is adjusted with shims (3) between gear housing and front bearing carrier (2).
