

A romantic wedding scene featuring a bride and groom. The bride, on the left, is wearing a white wedding dress with a lace train, a pearl earring, and a pearl necklace. She has dark hair styled in a veil adorned with pink and white flowers. She is smiling warmly at the camera. The groom, on the right, is wearing a dark tuxedo with a white shirt and a white bow tie. He is leaning in towards the bride, looking at her with a smile. The background is softly blurred, showing warm, out-of-focus lights.

Min,2018-03-28 Faith hope and love traditionally called theological virtues are central to Christianity This book renews faith hope and love in the context of the many contemporary challenges in many unique ways It is an ecumenical collection of papers equally divided between Catholic and Protestant positions that seek to radically renew the classical doctrine of faith hope and love and argues for their essential connection to the praxis of justice It contains eight different approaches each represented by a distinguished theologian and addressing different aspects of the issues and followed by insightful and critical responses It does not merely seek to renew the theological virtues but to also reconstruct them in the demanding context of justice and the contemporary world nor is it simply a treatise on justice but a theoretical and practical reflection on justice as vital expressions of faith in God hope in God and love of God A non dogmatic and non ideological approach it accommodates both conservative and liberal positions and avoids the separation of the theological virtues from the demands of the contemporary world as well as the separation of justice talk from the theological context of faith hope and love It seeks above all to renew not merely repeat the classical doctrine of faith hope and love in the contemporary context of the urgency of justice and to do so ecumenically comprehensively and from a variety of perspectives and aspects Suddenly Love Rebecca Flanders,1984
