Security Infrastructure Technology for Integrated Utilization of Big Data Atsuko Miyaji, Tomoaki Mimoto, 2020-04-23 This open access book describes the technologies needed to construct a secure big data infrastructure that connects data owners analytical institutions and user institutions in a circle of trust It begins by discussing the most relevant technical issues involved in creating safe and privacy preserving big data distribution platforms and especially focuses on cryptographic primitives and privacy preserving techniques which are essential prerequisites The book also covers elliptic curve cryptosystems which offer compact public key cryptosystems and LWE based cryptosystems which are a type of post quantum cryptosystem Since big data distribution platforms require appropriate data handling the book also describes a privacy preserving data integration protocol and privacy preserving classification protocol for secure computation Furthermore it introduces an anonymization technique and privacy risk evaluation technique This book also describes the latest related findings in both the living safety and medical fields In the living safety field to prevent injuries occurring in everyday life it is necessary to analyze injury data find problems and implement suitable measures But most cases don't include enough information for injury prevention because the necessary data is spread across multiple organizations and data integration is difficult from a security standpoint This book introduces a system for solving this problem by applying a method for integrating distributed data securely and introduces applications concerning childhood injury at home and school injury In the medical field privacy protection and patient consent management are crucial for all research The book describes a medical test bed for the secure collection and analysis of electronic medical records distributed among various medical institutions The system promotes big data analysis of medical data with a cloud infrastructure and includes various security measures developed in our project to avoid privacy violations

Iterative Methods for Solving Nonlinear Equations and Systems Juan R. Torregrosa, Alicia Cordero, Fazlollah Soleymani, 2019-12-06 Solving nonlinear equations in Banach spaces real or complex nonlinear equations nonlinear systems and nonlinear matrix equations among others is a non trivial task that involves many areas of science and technology Usually the solution is not directly affordable and require an approach using iterative algorithms This Special Issue focuses mainly on the design analysis of convergence and stability of new schemes for solving nonlinear problems and their application to practical problems Included papers study the following topics Methods for finding simple or multiple roots either with or without derivatives iterative methods for approximating different generalized inverses real or complex dynamics associated to the rational functions resulting from the application of an iterative method on a polynomial. Additionally, the analysis of the convergence has been carried out by means of different sufficient conditions assuring the local, semilocal, or global convergence. This Special issue has allowed us to present the latest research results in the area of iterative processes for solving nonlinear equations as well as systems and matrix equations. In addition to the theoretical papers, several manuscripts on signal processing, nonlinear integral equations, or partial differential equations reveal the connection between iterative methods and other branches of science and engineering.
