peripheral lymphoid organs Section III provides information on factors from the immune system that act as messengers to the CNS The metabolic regulation of growth and development is discussed in Section IV Section V examines the interactions occurring between the reproductive and immune systems The effects of other physiologic stressors on immunity are reviewed in Section VI Section VII considers cyclic and periodic influences on the immune system Finally there is a consideration of a new unifying theory for immunology Students researchers clinicians and veterinary scientists can discover new areas of interest in specific diseases and immune interactions in this novel presentation

CD1- and MR1-restricted T Cells in Antimicrobial Immunity S.M. Mansour Haeryfar,Thierry Mallevaey,2016-01-21 Cell mediated immunity to extracellular and intracellular microbes has been traditionally linked to CD4 and CD8 T cells that recognize pathogen derived peptides in the context of major histocompatibility complex MHC class II and class I molecules respectively Recent progress in our understanding of early host defense mechanisms has brought unconventional innate like T cells into the spotlight These are a heterogeneous population of non MHC restricted T cells that exhibit memory like properties and mount emergency responses to infection They may directly detect and destroy infected cells but are best known for their ability to regulate downstream effector cells including but not limited to conventional T cells Innate like T cells include among others CD1 restricted natural killer T NKT cells and MR1 restricted mucosa associated invariant T MAIT cells NKT cells recognize lipid antigens and MAIT cells were recently demonstrated to respond to microbe derived vitamin B metabolites However much remains to be learned about the antigen specificity range of these cells their activation mode and their true potentials in immunotherapeutic applications Like in many other areas of biology uncertainties and controversies surrounding these cells and some of the experimental models techniques and reagents employed to study them have brought about excitement and sometimes hot debates This Special Topic was launched to provide updated reviews on protective and or pathogenic roles of NKT and MAIT cells during infection Leading experts discuss current controversies pressing questions and the challenges that lie ahead for the advancement of this intriguing and rapidly evolving area of immunology Unlike MHC CD1 and MR1 display very limited polymorphism Therefore NKT and MAIT cells may be considered attractive targets for various diseases in diverse human populations The potential benefits of NKT cell and MAIT cell based vaccination and treatment strategies in infectious diseases is an important subject that is also covered in this Topic

Nutrition, Immunity and Lung Health: Time to Take Center Stage Emma Derbyshire,Philip Calder,2022-01-21 Metabolites as Signals in Immunity and Inflammation Zbigniew Zasłona,Tristram A.J. hypotheses In recent years a substantial number of findings have been made around immunometabolism What is emerging is a complex interplay between metabolic reprogramming and immunity which is providing an extra dimension to our understanding of the immune system in health and disease Provides insights into novel immunotherapeutic targets Brings together personalized medicine physiology and immunobiology Describes the changes that occur in intracellular metabolic pathways in immune cells during activation Highlights changes in thinking about the field of immunology
