Refusing to Be Made Whole Anna LaQuawn Hinton, 2025-03-17 In Refusing to Be Made Whole Disability in Black Women s Writing author Anna LaQuawn Hinton examines how contemporary Black women writers present becoming disabled as a traumatic and violent experience of Black womanhood Nevertheless Black women embrace disabled Black womanhood by turning to Africanist spiritual understandings of wholeness which view debilitating injury and illness as not only physical but also spiritual not just an individual problem but a symptom of discord in the community Black women use these belief systems to reimagine healing in ways that make space for a variety of bodymindspirits Hinton maintains that this is not only a major theme in contemporary Black women s writing but that it also shapes the formal elements characteristic of the Black women s literary tradition Refusing to Be Made Whole analyzes texts published after the civil rights movements of the 1950s and 1960s focusing particularly on the late 1970s onward when Black women s writing flourished Through the lens of writings by authors such as Toni Cade Bambara Gayl Jones Gloria Naylor Ntozake Shange Audre Lorde Alice Walker Toni Morrison Octavia Butler Sapphire and Sarah E Wright Hinton addresses prominent critical discourses within Black feminist literary studies Hinton approaches the intersections of Africanist spirituality race gender class and disability conversations about representation community motherhood and sexuality through a Black feminist disability studies framework Refusing to Be Made Whole embraces the complex and multifaceted nature of Black women s writing arguing that through this collision of race gender and spirituality Black women writers speak healing and wellness into their readers lives and their own

The Films of Steven Spielberg Charles L. P. Silet, 2002-10-02 Steven Spielberg has fashioned an enviable career as a writer producer and director of American motion pictures winning Academy Awards for Best Direction Saving Private Ryan Schindler's List and for Best Film Schindler's List With David Geffen and Jeffrey Katzenberg he founded Dreamworks SKG already one of the most productive and respected studios in Hollywood Despite Spielberg's notable successes however his films have not avoided controversy The Films of Steven Spielberg provides for the first time a collection of critical writings by professional film critics about the director and his films bringing together many articles and reviews scattered in often inaccessible specialist publications and professional journals The opinions vary from complimentary to critical but they definitely provide a well rounded view of the films and the director Twelve of Spielberg's major box office hits including Jaws Raiders of the Lost Ark E.T. The Extra Terrestrial The Color Purple Empire of the Sun Jurassic Park Schindler's List Amistad Saving Private Ryan and Close Encounters of the Third Kind are discussed in essays that vary in complexity ranging from the heavily theoretical to the more general This collection of essays compiled for both film students and professionals in the film industry attests to the influence of Spielberg and the films that have earned him a significant place in the history of cinema as one of America's most innovative and culturally important filmmakers

Slavery's Metropolis Rashauna Johnson, 2016-11-07 A vivid examination of slave life in New Orleans in the early nineteenth century

The Black Renaissance in Francophone African and Caribbean Literatures K. Martial Frindéthié, 2008-04-21 This work explores the limits and prospects of Afro Caribbean Francophone writers in reshaping or producing action oriented literature It shows how Francophone literatures have followed a hegemonic discourse that leaves little room for thinking outside of traditional cultural and ideological conventions Part One explores the origins of Afro Caribbean Francophone literature and what the author terms griotism a shared heritage of awareness of biological differences a sense of the black hero as black messiah and black people as chosen and the promise of a common racial history Part Two discusses the formidable grip of griotism on Fanon Mudimbe the champions of Creolity Bernabe Chamoiseau and Confiant and well read African women writers Aminata Sow Fall and Mariama Ba Part Three seeks to subvert the discourse of griotism in order to propose a new autonomy for Francophone African writers

The Changing Definition of Masculinity Clyde W. Franklin II, 2012-12-06 The Changing Definition of Masculinity is an outgrowth of four years of developing and teaching the course Social Factors in Male Personality at Ohio State University Columbus This volume reflects in addition to my thoughts and feelings about what should be discussed in a sex roles course taught from a male perspective the thoughts feelings and knowledge of scores of students colleagues and friends These are persons who either have taken the course or discussed with me appropriate material to be included in such a course and or book Chapter 1 for example is influenced greatly by the work of Eliza beth and Joseph Pleck's The American Man dealing with the periods of masculinity in the United States up to 1965. The chapter also deals with emerging meanings of masculinity after 1965 and female and male responses to these meanings. The second chapter is devoted to male sex role socialization and examines the roles of biology and environment in male socialization. It is also concerned with agents of male socialization and with male assumption of such sex role traits as dominance, competitiveness, the work ethic, and violence. In Chapter 2 I also propose two general masculine roles frequently assumed by American males which may or may not be race specific: the White masculine role and the Black masculine role.

The Afterlife of Reproductive Slavery Alys Eve Weinbaum, 2019-02-14. In The Afterlife of Reproductive Slavery Alys Eve Weinbaum investigates the continuing resonances of Atlantic slavery in the cultures and politics of human reproduction that characterize contemporary biocapitalism. As a form of racial capitalism that relies on the commodification of the human reproductive body, biocapitalism is dependent upon what Weinbaum calls the slave episteme, the racial logic that drove four centuries of slave breeding in the Americas and Caribbean. Weinbaum outlines how the slave episteme shapes the practice of reproduction today, especially through use of biotechnology and surrogacy. Engaging with a broad set of texts from Toni Morrison's Beloved and Octavia Butler's dystopian speculative fiction to black Marxism, histories of slavery, and legal cases involving surrogacy, Weinbaum shows how black feminist contributions from the 1970s, 1980s, and 1990s constitute a powerful philosophy of history, one that provides the means through which to understand how reproductive slavery haunts the present.

The Comedy of Dave Chappelle K.A. Wisniewski, 2014-01-10. Perhaps best known for his highly acclaimed short-lived Comedy Central program Chappelle's Show, Dave Chappelle is widely regarded as one of today's most culturally significant comedians. Through the sketch comedy show and his stand-up act, Chappelle has offered truly memorable commentary on racial and ethnic tensions in American society. This book assembles 13 essays that examine motifs common in Chappelle's comedy, including technology and digital culture, race, gender, and ethnicity, economics and politics, music, television, film, and performance, and memory, language, and identity.

Racechanges Susan Gubar, 2000. When the actor Ted Danson appeared in blackface at a 1993 Friars Club roast, he ignited a firestorm of protest that landed him on the front pages of the newspapers, rebuked by everyone from talk show host Montel Williams to New York City's then mayor David Dinkins. Danson's use of blackface was shocking, but was the furious pitch of the response a triumphant indication of how far society has progressed since the days when blackface performers were the toast of vaudeville, or was it also an uncomfortable reminder of how deep the chasm still is separating black and white America? In Racechanges: White Skin, Black Face in American Culture, Susan Gubar, who fundamentally changed the way we think about women's literature as co-author of the acclaimed The Madwoman in the Attic, turns her attention to the incendiary issue of race. Through a far-reaching exploration of the long-overlooked legacy of minstrelsy, cross-racial impersonations, or racechanges throughout modern American film, fiction, poetry, painting, photography, and journalism, she documents the indebtedness of mainstream artists to African American culture and explores the deeply conflicted psychology of white guilt The fascinating racechanges Gubar discusses include whites posing as blacks and blacks passing for white blackface on white actors in The Jazz Singer Birth of a Nation and other movies as well as on the faces of black stage entertainers African American deployment of racechange imagery during the Harlem Renaissance including the poetry of Anne Spencer the black and white prints of Richard Bruce Nugent and the early work of Zora Neale Hurston white poets and novelists from Vachel Lindsay and Gertrude Stein to John Berryman and William Faulkner writing as if they were black white artists and writers fascinated by hypersexualized stereotypes of black men and nightmares and visions of the racechanged baby Gubar shows that unlike African Americans who often are forced to adopt white masks to gain their rights white people have chosen racial masquerades which range from mockery and mimicry to an evolving emphasis on inter racial mutuality and mutability Drawing on a stunning array of illustrations including paintings film stills computer graphics and even magazine morphings Racechanges sheds new light on the persistent pervasiveness of racism and exciting aesthetic possibilities for lessening the distance between blacks and whites

Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture Carolyn E. Sachs, Leif Jensen, Paige Castellanos, Kathleen Sexsmith, 2020-10-28 The Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture covers major theoretical issues as well as critical empirical shifts in gender and agriculture Gender relations in agriculture are shifting in most regions of the world with changes in the structure of agriculture the organization of production international restructuring of value chains climate change the global pandemic and national and multinational policy changes This book provides a cutting edge assessment of the field of gender and agriculture with contributions from both leading scholars and up and coming academics as well as policymakers and practitioners The handbook is organized into four parts part 1 institutions markets and policies part 2 land labor and agrarian transformations part 3 knowledge methods and access to information and part 4 farming people and identities The last chapter is an epilogue from many of the contributors focusing on gender agriculture and shifting food systems during the coronavirus pandemic The chapters address both historical subjects as well as ground breaking work on gender and agriculture which will help to chart the future of the field The handbook has an international focus with contributions examining issues at both the global and local levels with contributors from across the world With contributions from leading academics policymakers and practitioners and with a global outlook the Routledge Handbook of Gender and Agriculture is an essential reference volume for scholars students and practitioners interested in gender and agriculture Chapter 13 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution Non Commercial No Derivatives CC BY NC ND 4.0 license

Writing Revolution Peter J. Bellis, 2010-04-15 In recent years formalist and deconstructive approaches to literary studies have been under attack charged by critics with isolating texts as distinctive aesthetic or linguistic objects separate from their social and historical contexts Historicist and cultural approaches have often responded by simply reversing the picture reducing texts to no more than superstructural effects of historical or ideological forces In Writing Revolution Peter J Bellis explores the ways in which literature can engage with rather than escape from or obscure social and political issues Bellis argues that a number of nineteenth century American writers including Nathaniel Hawthorne Henry David Thoreau and Walt Whitman saw their texts as spaces where alternative social and cultural possibilities could be suggested and explored All writing in the same historical moment Bellis s subjects were responding to the same cluster of issues the need to redefine American identity after the Revolution the problem of race slavery and the growing industrialization of American society Hawthorne Bellis contends sees the romance as neutral territory where the Imaginary and the Actual the aesthetic and the historical can interpenetrate and address crucial issues of class race and technological modernity Whitman conceives of Leaves of Grass as a transformative democratic space where all forms of meditation both political and literary are swept away Thoreau oscillates between these two approaches Walden like the romance aims to fashion a mediating space between nature and society His abolitionist essays however shift sharply away from both linguistic representation and the political toward an apocalyptic cleansing violence In addition to covering selected works by Hawthorne Whitman and Thoreau Bellis also examines powerful works of social and political critique by Louisa May Alcott and Margaret Fuller With its suggestions for new ways of reading antebellum American writing Writing Revolution breaks through the thickets of contemporary literary discourse and will spark debate in the literary community

Sexuality and the Erotic in the Fiction of Joseph Conrad Jeremy Hawthorn, 2007-03-01 Awarded third place for The Adam Gillon Book Award in Conrad Studies 2009 The book presents a sustained critique of the interlinked and contradictory views that the fiction of Joseph Conrad is largely innocent of any interest in or concern with sexuality and the erotic and that when Conrad does attempt to depict sexual desire or erotic excitement then this results in bad writing Jeremy Hawthorn argues for a revision of the view that Conrad lacks understanding of and interest in sexuality He argues that the comprehensiveness of Conrad s vision does not exclude a concern with the sexual and the erotic and that this concern is not with the sexual and the erotic as separate spheres of human life but as elements dialectically related to those matters public and political that have always been recognized as central to Conrad s fictional achievement The book will open Conrad s fiction to readings enriched by the insights of critics and theorists associated with Gender Studies and Post colonialism
