Angels of the Americlypse: An Anthology of New Latin@ Writing Carmen Giménez Smith, John Chávez, 2014-06-18 The contemporary literary moment the anthology Angels of the Americlypse New Latin Writing attempts to capture is one defined by diversity various points of view literary styles and voices topical concerns and senses of self Not only have these writers widened the field they have forged

new inquiry into their own experiences of the world as they live in it and understand it Writing in forms of lyric short short fiction nonfictional prose and in various degrees and forms of experimentation this collection represents one of the first efforts in years to include a critical introduction to the writers poetry or prose their literary work and their own aesthetic statements meant to express their distinct literary presence in American letters Pacific Literatures as World Literature Hsinya Huang, Chia-hua Yvonne Lin, 2023-05-04 Pacific Literatures as World Literature is a conjuration of trans Pacific poets and writers whose work enacts forces of becoming oceanic and suggests a different mode of understanding viewing and belonging to the world The Pacific past and present remains uneasily amenable to territorial demarcations of national or marine sovereignty At the same time as a planetary element necessary to sustaining life and well being the Pacific could become the means to envisioning ecological solidarity if compellingly framed in terms that elicit consent and inspire an imagination of co belonging and care The Pacific can signify a bioregional site of coalitional promise as much as a danger zone of antagonistic peril With ground breaking writings from authors based in North America Japan Taiwan Korea Hawaii and Guam and new modes of research including multispecies ethnography and practice ecopoetics and indigenous cosmopolitics authors explore the socio political significance of the Pacific and contribute to the development of a collective effort of comparative Pacific studies covering a refreshingly broad ethnographically grounded range of research themes This volume aims to decenter continental land poetics as such via long standing transnational Pacific ties re worlding Pacific literature as world literature The Cambridge History of Native American Literature Melanie Benson Taylor, 2020-09-17 Native American literature has always been uniquely embattled It is marked by divergent opinions about what constitutes authenticity sovereignty and even literature It announces a culture beset by paradox simultaneously primordial and postmodern oral and inscribed outmoded and novel Its texts are a site of political struggle shifting to meet external and internal expectations This Cambridge History endeavors to capture and question the contested character of Indigenous texts and the way they are evaluated It delineates significant periods of literary and cultural development in four sections Traces Assimilation and Modernity 1879 1967 Native American Renaissance post 1960s and Visions Revisions 21st century These rubrics highlight how Native literatures have evolved alongside major transitions in federal policy toward the Indian and via contact with broader cultural phenomena such as the American Civil Rights movement There is a balance between a history of canonical authors and traditions introducing less studied works and themes and foregrounding critical discussions approaches and controversies Toxic Immanence Livia Monnet, 2022-09-15 More than a decade after the Fukushima Daiichi nuclear disaster what we are witnessing is not a Second Nuclear Age there is no post atomic but an uncanny quiet return of the nuclear threat that so vividly animated the Cold War era The renewed threat of nuclear proliferation public complacency regarding weapons stockpiles and the lack of a single functioning long term repository after seventy years and thousands of tonnes of nuclear waste reveals the industry s capacity for self reinvention abetted by an ever present capacity to forget More than fabulously textual as Jacques Derrida described it the protean unbound and unending materiality of the nuclear is here to stay resistance is crucial Toxic Immanence introduces contemporary interdisciplinary perspectives that resist and decolonize the nuclear Contributors highlight the prevalence and irrationality of slow violence and colonial governance as elements of the contemporary nuclear age They propose a reappraisal of Cold War era anti nuclear art as well as pop culture representations of nuclear disaster while decolonizing pedagogies advance the role of education in communicating and understanding the lethality of nuclear complexes Collectively the essays develop a robust critical discourse across fields of nuclear knowledge and integrate the work of the nuclear humanities with environmental justice and Indigenous rights activism This reach across ways of knowing extends artistically the poetry and photography included in this volume offer visions of past and present nuclear legacies Conceived as a critical reflection on the potential of nuclear humanities Toxic Immanence offers intellectual strategies for resisting and abolishing the global nuclear regime

The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry Jahan Ramazani, 2017-02-27 The Cambridge Companion to Postcolonial Poetry is the first collection of essays to explore postcolonial poetry through regional historical political formal textual gender and comparative approaches The essays encompass a broad range of English speakers from the Caribbean Africa South Asia and the Pacific Islands the former settler colonies such as Canada Australia and New Zealand especially non Europeans Ireland Britain s oldest colony and postcolonial Britain itself particularly black and Asian immigrants and their descendants The comparative essays analyze poetry from across the postcolonial anglophone world in relation to postcolonialism and modernism fixed and free forms experimentation oral performance and creole languages protest poetry the poetic mapping of urban and rural spaces poetic embodiments of sexuality and gender poetry and publishing history and poetry s response to and reimagining of globalization Strengthening the place of poetry in postcolonial studies this Companion also contributes to the globalization of poetry studies

Border Crossings Paul Arthur, Leena Kurvet-Kaosaar, 2020-04-28 The border between intimate memory and historical revelation is explored in this wide ranging collection which features original contributions from leading figures in the life writing field from Australia Canada Europe UK and the USA The transmission and preservation of personal knowledge and stories from generation to generation frequently requires crossing into the private contested spaces of memory The most secret accounts or guarded remnants of information can sometimes lead to the most profound insights In this context there is a delicate balance between life writing s role in revealing lives and the desire to be respectful towards them As the essays in this book attest exposing secrets even if humiliating can be a way of honouring lives Throughout runs the framing theme of memory as the source of all intergenerational transmission of culture and history whether relating to family community nation ancestry or political allegiance and the importance of the intimate and personal in that process of handing on This book was originally published as a special issue of Life Writing

The Challenges of Island Studies Ayano Ginoza, 2020-11-23 This book places islanders struggles and knowledge at the forefront of island

Settler Garrison Jodi Kim, 2022-04-07 In Settler Garrison Jodi Kim theorizes how the United States extends its sovereignty across Asia and the Pacific in the post World War II era through a militarist settler imperialism that is leveraged on debt as a manifold economic and cultural relation undergirded by asymmetries of power Kim demonstrates that despite being the largest debtor nation in the world the United States positions itself as an imperial creditor that imposes financial and affective indebtedness alongside a disciplinary payback temporality even as it evades repayment of its own debts This debt imperialism is violently reproduced in juridically ambiguous spaces Kim calls the settler garrison a colonial archipelago of distinct yet linked military camptowns bases POW camps and unincorporated territories situated across the Pacific from South Korea to Okinawa to Guam Kim reveals this process through an analysis of how a wide array of transpacific cultural productions creates antimilitarist and decolonial imaginaries that diagnose US militarist settler imperialism while envisioning alternatives to it
