Historicism Paul Hamilton:

Historicism Paul Hamilton, 2003 Historicism is the essential introduction to the field providing its readers with the necessary knowledge background and vocabulary to apply it in their own studies Paul Hamilton's compact and comprehensive guide explains the theory and basics of historicism presents a history of the term and its uses introduces the reader to the key thinkers in the field from ancient Greece to modern times considers historicism in contemporary debates and its relevance to other modes of criticism such as feminism and post colonialism contains an extensive bibliography of further reading

Literary Theory and Criticism Patricia Waugh, 2006 This volume offers a comprehensive account of modern literary criticism presenting the field as part of an ongoing historical and intellectual tradition Featuring thirty nine specially commissioned chapters from an international team of esteemed contributors it fills a large gap in the market by combining the accessibility of single authored selections with a wide range of critical perspectives The volume is divided into four parts Part One covers the key philosophical and aesthetic origins of literary theory while Part Two discusses the foundational movements and thinkers in the first half of the twentieth century Part Three offers introductory overviews of the most important movements and thinkers in modern literary theory and Part Four looks at emergent trends and future directions

Metaromanticism Paul Hamilton, 2003-07-15 This bracing study redefines romanticism in terms of its philosophical habits of self consciousness According to Paul Hamilton metaromanticism or the ways in which writers of the romantic period generalized their own practices was fundamentally characteristic of the romantic project itself Through a close look at the aesthetics of Friedrich Schiller and Jean Jacques Rousseau and key works by Samuel Taylor Coleridge Percy and Mary Shelley John Keats Sir Walter Scott Jane Austen and many others Hamilton shows how the romantic movement's struggle with its own tenets was not an effort to seek an alternative way of thought but instead a way of becoming what it already was And yet as he reveals the romanticists were still not content with their own self consciousness Pushed to the limit such contemplation either manifested itself as self disgust or found aesthetic ideas regenerated in discourses outside of aesthetics altogether

The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism: Volume 9, Twentieth-Century Historical, Philosophical and Psychological Perspectives Christa Knellwolf, Christopher Norris, Jessica Osborn, 1989 This ninth volume in The Cambridge History of Literary Criticism presents a wide ranging survey of developments in literary criticism and theory during the last century Drawing on the combined expertise of a large team of specialist scholars it offers an authoritative account of the various movements of thought that have made the late twentieth century such a richly productive period in the history of criticism The aim has been to cover developments which have had greatest impact on the academic study of literature along with background chapters that place those movements in a broader intellectual national and socio cultural perspective In comparison with Volumes Seven and Eight also devoted to twentieth century developments there is marked emphasis on the rethinking of historical and philosophical approaches which have emerged especially during the past two decades as among the most challenging areas of debate Litpop: Writing and Popular Music Rachel Carroll, Adam Hansen, 2016-05-13 Bringing together exciting new interdisciplinary work from emerging and established scholars in the UK and beyond Litpop addresses the question how has writing past and present been influenced by popular music and vice versa Contributions explore how various forms of writing have had a crucial role to play in making popular music what it is and how popular music informs literary writing in diverse ways The collection features musicologists literary critics experts in cultural studies and creative writers organised in three themed sections Making Litpop explores how hybrids of writing and popular music have been created by musicians and authors Thinking Litpop considers what critical or intellectual frameworks help us to understand these hybrid cultural forms Finally Consuming Litpop examines how writers deal with music s influence how musicians engage with literary texts and how audiences of music and writing understand their own role in making Litpop happen Discussing a range of genres and periods of writing and popular music this unique collection identifies theorizes and problematises connections between different forms of expression making a vital contribution to popular musicology and literary and cultural studies The Militant Historian Kerry William Purcell, 2024-10-31 This is the first wide ranging analysis of Alain Badiou s use development and transformation of the concept of history Despite the wealth of perspectives now available on how social and cultural practices take shape historicism still appears to be the most dominant The Militant Historian examines this primacy and reveals how Badiou s work offers a radical riposte Exploring key texts in Badiou s oeuvre and how his philosophical ideas disrupt dominant conceptions of history and the role of the historian Kerry William Purcell addresses how these ideas could transform our approaches to the historical and what it means to do history as a meaningful endeavour Adopting a chronological approach to Badiou s work each chapter explores specific conceptual developments in his writing and how they lend themselves to a reconsideration of the subject who speaks history From these new and disruptive modes of doing emerges the figure of the militant historian a role with the potential to impact how we practice history outside the narrow strictures of academic life

Key Concepts in Renaissance Literature Malcolm Hebron, 2008-05-09 The volume provides readers with a clear introduction to English Renaissance literary texts Concise but detailed entries are alphabetically arranged providing a coherent overview of central issues in the study of writings of the Renaissance era Cross referencing and suggestions for further reading indicate connections between topics The Hybrid Reformation Christopher Ocker, 2022-09-22 Three basic forces dominated sixteenth century religious life Two polarized groups Protestant and Catholic reformers were shaped by theological debates over the nature of the church salvation prayer and other issues These debates articulated critical group defining oppositions Bystanders to the Catholic Protestant competition were a third force Their reactions to reformers were violent opportunistic hesitant ambiguous or serendipitous much the way social historians have described common people in the Reformation for the last fifty years But in an ecology of three forces hesitations and compromises were natural not just among ordinary people but also if more subtly among reformers and theologians In this volume Christopher Ocker offers a constructive and nuanced alternative to the received understanding of the Reformation Combining the methods of intellectual cultural and social history his book demonstrates how the Reformation became a hybrid movement produced by a binary of Catholic and Protestant self definitions by bystanders to religious debate and by the hesitations and compromises made by all three groups during the religious controversy The ^AOxford Handbook of the Operatic Canon Cormac Newark,William Weber,2020-08-20 The Oxford Handbook of the Operatic Canon examines how opera has become the concrete edifice it was never meant to be by looking at how it evolved from a market entirely driven by novelty to one of the most arthritically canonic art forms still in existence The Post-Historical Middle Ages E. Scala,2009-05-25 This collection of original essays repositions medieval literary studies after an era of historicism Analyzing the legacy of Marxist and materialist theory on medieval literary criticism the collection offers new ways of reading texts historically Drawing upon aesthetic ethical and cultural vantage points and methods these essays demonstrate that a variety of approaches and theories are historical and can change what it means to historicize medieval literature By defining our post historical moment in medieval English literary studies in terms of new possibilities this collection will have broad appeal to those interested in the English Middle Ages history culture and reading itself
