Annual Report of the Illinois Courts Administrative Office of Illinois Courts, 2015 The U.S. Supreme Court and Racial Minorities Leslie F. Goldstein, 2017-07-28 The U S Supreme Court and Racial Minorities offers an in depth chronologically arranged look at the record of the U S Supreme Court on racial minorities over the course of its first two centuries It does not pose the anachronistic standard Did the Supreme Court get it right but rather How did the Supreme Court compare to other branches of the federal government at the time Have these Justices prevented against removal from office by discontented voters in contrast to the President and the members of Congress done any better than the elected branches of government at protecting racial minorities in America The Statesman's Yearbook 2015 B. Turner, 2016-12-27 Now in its 151st edition The Statesman s Yearbook continues to be the reference work of choice for accurate and reliable information on every country in the world Covering political economic social and cultural aspects the Yearbook is also available online for subscribing institutions <http://www.statesmansyearbook.com> Comprehensive Dissertation Index, 1861-1972: Education Xerox University Microfilms, 1973 Disillusioned Benjamin Herold, 2024-01-23 Astonishingly important Alex Kotlowitz The Atlantic Through the stories of five American families a masterful and timely exploration of how hope history and racial denial collide in the suburbs and their schools Outside Atlanta a middle class Black family faces off with a school system seemingly bent on punishing their teenage son North of Dallas a conservative white family relocates to an affluent suburban enclave but can t escape the changes sweeping the country On Chicago s North Shore a multiracial mom joins an ultraprogressive challenge to the town s liberal status quo In Compton California whose suburban roots are now barely recognizable undocumented Hispanic parents place their gifted son s future in the hands of educators at a remarkable elementary school And outside Pittsburgh a Black mother moves to the same street where author Benjamin Herold grew up then confronts the destructive legacy left behind by white families like his Disillusioned braids these human stories together with penetrating local and national history to reveal a vicious cycle undermining the dreams upon which American suburbia was built For generations upwardly mobile white families have extracted opportunity from the nation s heavily subsidized suburbs then moved on before the bills for maintenance and repair came due leaving the mostly Black and Brown families who followed to clean up the ensuing mess But now sweeping demographic shifts and the dawning realization that endless expansion is no longer feasible are disrupting this pattern forcing everyday families to confront a truth their communities were designed to avoid The suburban lifestyle dream is a Ponzi scheme whose unraveling threatens us all How do we come to terms with this troubled history How do we build a future in which all children can thrive Drawing upon his decorated career as an education journalist Herold explores these pressing debates with expertise and perspective Then alongside Bethany Smith the mother from his old neighborhood who contributes a powerful epilogue to the book he offers a hopeful path toward renewal The result is nothing short of a journalistic masterpiece Television Regulation and Media

Policy in China Yik-Chan Chin, 2016-08-12 Since the late 1990s there has been a crucial and substantial transformation in China's television system involving institutional structural and regulatory changes Unravelling the implications of these changes is vital for understanding the politics of Chinese media policy making and regulation and thus a comprehensive study of this history has never been more essential This book studies the transformation of the policy and regulation of the Chinese television sector within a national political and economic context from 1996 to the present day Taking a historical and sociological approach it engages in the theoretical debates over the nature of the transformation of media in the authoritarian Chinese state the implications of the ruling party's political legitimacy and China's central local conflicts upon television policy making and market structure and the nature of the media modernisation process in a developing country Its case studies include broadcasting systems in Shanghai and Guangdong which demonstrate that varied policies and development strategies have been adopted by television stations reflecting different local circumstances and needs Arguing that rather than being a homogenous entity China has demonstrated substantial local diversity and complex interactions between local national and global media this book will be of interest to students and scholars of Chinese media politics and policy and international communications
