101. Abstract: This paper discusses the role of the state in the development of the economy in the context of the transition from a centrally planned to a market economy. It examines the impact of state intervention on the growth and development of the economy, and the role of the state in the provision of public goods and services. The paper also discusses the role of the state in the regulation of the economy and the provision of social services. The paper concludes that the state plays a crucial role in the development of the economy and the provision of public goods and services, and that the state should continue to play a significant role in the development of the economy in the future.
