An analysis of microscale segregation and socio-economic sorting in Gauteng Christian Hamann, 2024-04-30 This Occasional Paper analyses racial segregation and socio-economic sorting in Gauteng at the microscale The three inquiries highlight continued segregation but also nuances in the nature of desegregation in the Gauteng province at various macro and micro-scales The analysis reveals barriers and opportunities for future spatial transformation and highlights the potential role of public and private housing expansion in shaping equality of opportunity

Learning Progressions in Geography Education Osvaldo Muñiz Solari, Michael Solem, Richard Boehm, 2016-07-30 This book informs an international audience of teachers scholars and policymakers about the development of learning progressions for primary and secondary geography education in various countries and regions of the world The book represents an important contribution to learning progressions research and practice The different chapters explore how curriculum standards and frameworks in different countries portray progress and sophistication in the learning of geography The book compares educational systems and how teachers and curriculum developers use the concept of learning progression to guide educational practices As an approach to educational research learning progressions offer considerable potential for understanding how children develop understanding of geographic concepts and practices across grade bands and in relation to national geography standards The book analyzes the general conditions of learning progressions within the context of a globalized world Important themes are addressed such as knowledge acquisition in formal education measuring learning progressions in informal settings learning progressions for one curriculum standard or several standards conditions to assess progression in the learning of facts concepts and skills and multiple pathways for understanding or learning geography The contributing authors are experienced scientists in the field from all around the world giving specific insights into the practices of their countries The book appeals to K-12 teachers school administrators policymakers researchers in geography education professors and lecturers at universities around the world

The Changing Space Economy of City-Regions Koech Cheruiyot, 2017-10-30 This book addresses the South African Space Economy and its stark disparities and dualisms through an assessment of the Gauteng City Region the largest economic agglomeration in the country and on a continent bedevilled by a myriad of development challenges The book's focus on understanding the overall character of Gauteng City Region's Space Economy through data mining analysis and mapping comprehensively supplements the Space Economy literature on the region. It covers the disparities exacerbated by an overlay of apartheid planning ideology and top down regional development based on selective encouragement of manufacturing investments in growth points or poles and how implementation of past policies intended to cure these disparities have yielded mixed results. This book further offers the Gauteng City Region as a microcosm of the national economy in the form of evident significant place based variations in the intensity and character of economic structure that on the one hand enjoys massive agglomeration economies while on the other has high levels of poverty and large numbers of people living below the Minimum Living Level. This book should appeal to urban studies specialists, economists and development studies researchers in the Global South.

An Overview of Urban and Regional Planning Yasar Ergen, 2018-12-19. Urban and regional planning is a spatial design practice that brings limitations to the intervention in natural areas to ensure a balance between population growth, housing and employment in residential areas. It includes spatial design that enables living creatures to live while planning the interventions to ensure suitability to ecology, geology, climate and land structure, since intervention in nature should be balanced. In this context, the profession generally includes regional, spatial and urban planning, urban transformation that involves the urban decline areas in the city, urban renewal and protection, urban transportation and urban management. Therefore, it is believed that this book will be useful for those who work in this area on a practical or academic basis and follow the innovations in the profession.
