Knowledge, Power and Young Sexualities Tamara Shefer, Jeff Hearn, 2022-07-27 This book troubles the ways young people have been constructed as trouble through critical readings of the effects and impacts politically and ideologically globally and locally of scholarship and practice directed at South African young people's sexualities over the last three decades of addressing HIV GBV and other sexual and gender justice challenges Located primarily in South Africa the book speaks to global concerns about the politics of knowledge and transnational flows of information and practice with respect to gender and sexuality and is framed by global imperatives and analyses located in transnational postcolonial and intersectional feminist frameworks The key argument developed here and explored in relation to several different forms of research and practice is that efforts to challenge HIV GBV and unequal sexual and gender practices among young people particularly as evident in heterosexual relationships have tended to reflect and reproduce renewed orthodoxies about sexuality gender family and young people while bolstering global and local racist classist othering of certain communities and nation states and reiterating the innocence and authority of those already privileged and centred The book contributes to critical reflexive work on global practices of knowledge and its complex enmeshment with power in the terrain of sexual and gender justice work aimed at young people

Straight A's Christine R. Yano, Neal K. Adolph Akatsuka, 2018-08-09 The American Dream of success for many Asian Americans includes the highest levels of education But what does it mean to live that success In Straight A s Asian American students at Harvard reflect on their common experiences with discrimination immigrant communities their relationships to their Asian heritage and their place in the university They also explore the difficulties of living up to family expectations and the real world effects of the model minority stereotype While many of the issues they face are familiar to a wide swath of college students their examinations of race ethnicity gender and sexuality and culture directly speaking to the Asian American experience in U.S. higher education. Unique and revealing, intimate and unreserved, Straight As furthers the conversation about immigrant histories, racial and ethnic stereotypes, and multiculturalism in contemporary American society. Street Smart Samuel I. Schwartz, 2015-08-18 On a Saturday morning in December 1973 a section of New York's West Side Highway collapsed under the weight of a truck full of asphalt. The road was closed seemingly for good and the 80,000 cars that traveled it each day had to find a new way to their destinations. It ought to have produced traffic chaos, but it didn't. The cars simply vanished. It was a moment of revelation: the highway had induced the demand for car travel. It was a classic case of build it and they will come, but for the first time the opposite had been shown to be true: knock it down and they will go away. Samuel I. Schwartz was inspired by the lesson. He started to reimagine cities, most of all his beloved New York, freed from their obligation to cars. Eventually he found he was not alone. Since the turn of the twenty-first century a surreptitious revolution has taken place: every year Americans are driving fewer miles. And the generation named for this new century, the Millennials, are driving least of all. Not because they can't afford to; they don't want to. They have better ideas for how to use their streets. An urban transformation is underway, and smart streets are at the heart of it. They will boost property prices and personal fitness, roll back years of congestion and smog, and offer a transformative experience of American urban life. From San Francisco to Salt Lake, Charleston to Houston, the American city is becoming a better and better place to be. Schwartz's Street Smart is a dazzling and affectionate history of the struggle for control of American cities and an inspiring off-road map to a more vibrant, active, and vigorous urban future. SADC Gender Protocol 2019

Barometer Morna, Colleen Lowe, Rama, Kubi, 2019-08-23 Scoring another goal for gender equality, the 2019 Southern African Development Community (SADC) Gender Protocol Barometer breaks with past tradition in focusing solely on Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights. The no-holds-barred Voice and Choice Barometer features the first stand-alone chapters on Adolescent Sexual and Reproductive Health and Rights, Safe Abortion, and Sexual Diversity. It provides the data that underpins 40 national campaigns led by the focal networks of the Southern African Gender Protocol Alliance and 174 local campaigns led by the Centres of Excellence for Gender in Local Government. A must-read for all those committed to Action and Results for Agenda 2030 in the SADC region. Social Problems Anna
