Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow Roslyn Arlin Mickelson, Stephen Samuel Smith, Amy Hawn Nelson, 2017-11-14 Yesterday Today and Tomorrow provides a compelling analysis of the forces and choices that have shaped the trend toward the resegregation of public schools By assembling a wide range of contributors historians sociologists economists and education scholars the editors provide a comprehensive view of a community's experience with desegregation and economic development Here we see resegregation through the lens of Charlotte North Carolina once a national model of successful desegregation and home of the landmark Swann desegregation case which gave rise to school busing This book recounts the last forty years of Charlotte's desegregation and resegregation putting education reform in political and economic context Within a decade of the Swann case the district had developed one of the nation's most successful desegregation plans measured by racial balance and improved academic outcomes for both black and white students However beginning in the 1990s this plan was gradually dismantled Today the level of resegregation in Charlotte has almost returned to what it was prior to 1971 At the core of Charlotte's story is the relationship between social structure and human agency with an emphasis on how yesterday's decisions and actions define today's choices

The Schenley Experiment Jake Oresick, 2017-04-14 The Schenley Experiment is the story of Pittsburgh's first public high school a social incubator in a largely segregated city that was highly even improbably successful throughout its 156 year existence Established in 1855 as Central High School and reorganized in 1916 Schenley High School was a model of innovative public education and an ongoing experiment in diversity Its graduates include Andy Warhol actor Bill Nunn and jazz virtuoso Earl Hines and its prestigious academic program and pensions lured such teachers as future Pulitzer Prize winner Willa Cather The subject of investment as well as destructive neglect the school reflects the history of the city of Pittsburgh and provides a study in both the best and worst of urban public education practices there and across the Rust Belt Integrated decades before Brown v Board of Education Schenley succumbed to default segregation during the white flight of the 1970s it rose again to prominence in the late 1980s when parents camped out in six day long lines to enroll their children in visionary superintendent Richard C Wallace's reinvigorated school Although the historic triangular building was a cornerstone of its North Oakland neighborhood and a showpiece for the city of Pittsburgh officials closed the school in 2008 citing over 50 million in necessary renovations a controversial event that captured national attention Schenley alumnus Jake Oresick tells this story through interviews historical documents and hundreds of first person accounts drawn from a community indelibly tied to the school A memorable important work of local and educational history his book is a case study of desegregation magnet education and the changing nature and legacies of America's oldest public schools      Common Sense Questions about Tests Gerard Giordano, 2016-03-07 Parents had questions about the tests their children took at school. They considered them to be common sense questions. They posed them to the businesspeople, publishers and politicians who championed tests. They also posed them to the school administrators, teachers and union leaders who criticized them. This book examines the questions the parents posed, the answers they elicited and the changes they prodded.      Charter School Report Card Shawgi Tell, 2016-04-01 What is a charter school? Where do they come from? Who promotes them and why? What are they supposed to do? Are they the silver bullet to the ills plaguing the American public education system? This book provides a comprehensive and accessible overview and analysis of charter schools and their many dimensions. It shows that charter schools, as a whole, lower the quality of education through the privatization and marketization of education. The final chapter provides readers with a way toward rethinking and remaking education in a way that is consistent with modern requirements. Society and its members need a fully funded, high quality public education system open to all and controlled by a public authority.      Biology & Botany Vol.-II YCT Expert Team, 2022-23 TGT PGT LT Grade GIC DIET ETC Biology Botany Vol II Chapter wise Solved Papers      The Commercial & Financial Chronicle, 1912      IB ACIO Grade II/Executive Exam | 1300+ Solved MCQ Questions (10 Mock Tests + 15 Sectional Tests) EduGorilla Prep Experts, 2022-08-03 Best Selling Book in English Edition for IB ACIO Grade II Executive Exam with objective type questions as per the latest syllabus given by the Ministry of Home Affairs, MHA. Tijana Milosevic, 2018-02-02 A critical examination of efforts by social media companies including Facebook, Twitter, Snapchat and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users. High profile cyberbullying cases often trigger exaggerated public concern about children's use of social media. Large companies like Facebook respond by pointing to their existing anti-bullying mechanisms or coordinate with nongovernmental organizations to organize anti-cyberbullying efforts. Do these attempts at self-regulation work? In this book, Tijana Milosevic examines the effectiveness of efforts by social media companies including Facebook, Twitter, YouTube, Snapchat and Instagram to rein in cyberbullying by young users. Milosevic analyzes the anti-bullying policies of fourteen major social media companies as recorded in companies' corporate documents, draws on interviews with company representatives and e-safety experts and details the roles of nongovernmental organizations examining their ability to provide critical independent advice. She draws attention to lack of transparency in how companies handle bullying cases, emphasizing the need for a continuous independent evaluation of effectiveness of companies.

mechanisms especially from children's perspective Milosevic argues that cyberbullying should be viewed in the context of children's rights and as part of the larger social problem of the culture of humiliation Milosevic looks into five digital bullying cases related to suicides examining the pressures on the social media companies involved the nature of the public discussion and subsequent government regulation that did not necessarily address the problem in a way that benefits children She emphasizes the need not only for protection but also for participation and empowerment for finding a way to protect the vulnerable while ensuring the child's right to participate in digital spaces
