Origins of Life

Volume II Vladivoj Valkovic, 2024-09-27. In Origins of Life Volume II, life and its origin are inspected from traditional and unexpected points of view. The book takes an interdisciplinary approach, discussing astrobiology, chemical evolution, and how the Universe accommodates life, molecular biology, and philosophy. It is an open minded approach, fully referenced throughout, and each chapter includes a further reading section for anyone wishing to learn more about that perspective on the origins of life. First, everything started with the Big Bang from nothing. It appears now that everything was aiming toward our existence some 13.75 billion years later, being capable of understanding it all. We did it using powerful tools: science, philosophy, and religion. Although we appreciate the contributions made by philosophy and religion, our contemplations and doubts are based on the plentiful scientific evidence provided. The reader will be guided from the makeup of the life stage, Universe tools, and materials needed for the living matter to be formed in the small part of the Universe which one could call Human Neighborhood or the Local Universe. It contains galaxies, galaxy clusters, and voids, and the Milky Way and its satellites influencing each other during this time span. The book is easy to read, accompanied by numerous references, it could be of use to the expert in the field as well as for curious minds with a scientific, philosophical, or religious background.

Complex

Problem Solving Beyond the Psychometric Approach Wolfgang Schoppek, Joachim Funke, Magda Osman, Annette Kluge, 2018-09-28. Complex problem solving (CPS) and related topics such as dynamic decision making (DDM) and complex dynamic control (CDC) represent multifaceted psychological phenomena. In a broad sense, CPS encompasses learning, decision making, and acting in complex and dynamic situations. Moreover, solutions to problems that people face in such situations are often generated in teams or groups. This adds another layer of complexity to the situation itself because of the emerging issues that arise from the social dynamics of group interactions. This framing of CPS means that it is not a single construct that can be measured by using a particular type of CPS task, e.g., minimal complex system tests, which is a view taken by the psychometric community. The proposed approach taken here is that because CPS is multifaceted, multiple approaches need to be taken to fully capture and understand what it is and how the different cognitive processes associated with it complement each other. Thus, this Research Topic is aimed at showcasing the latest work in the fields of CPS as well as DDM and CDC that takes a holist approach to investigating and theorizing about these abilities The collection of articles encompasses conceptual approaches as well as experimental and correlational studies involving established or new tools to examine CPS DDM and CDC This work contributes to answering questions about what strategies and what general knowledge can be transferred from one type of complex and dynamic situation to another what learning conditions result in transferable knowledge and skills and how these features can be trained Strong Performers and Successful Reformers in Education Lessons from PISA for Korea OECD,2014-03-14 The story of Korean education over the past 50 years is one of remarkable growth and achievement Korea is one of the top performing countries in the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA survey and among those with the highest Leapfrogging Africa Reiner Klingholz,Sabine Sütterlin,Alisa Kaps,Catherina Hinz,2020-10-15 In this study we look at the potential for development leaps in Africa in three key sectors that provided the basis for socioeconomic development around the world health education and agriculture Advances in these sectors increase the human capital create jobs and economic opportunities and have a positive influence on each other Healthy and well fed children can learn better hygiene and better medical care diminish infant mortality which reduces the desire for a large number of children education for women promotes gender equality and causes birth rates to fall further This creates a population structure under which the economy can grow particularly well a demographic dividend becomes possible
