The Commons, 1902 Words that Tear the Flesh Stephen Alan Baragona, Elizabeth Louise Rambo, 2018-01-22 The rhetorical trope of irony is well trod territory with books and essays devoted to its use by a wide range of medieval and Renaissance writers from the Beowulf poet and Chaucer to Boccaccio and Shakespeare however the use of sarcasm the flesh tearing form of irony in the same literature has seldom been studied at length or in depth Sarcasm is notoriously difficult to pick out in a written text since it relies so much on tone of voice and context This is the first book length study of medieval and Renaissance sarcasm Its fourteen essays treat instances in a range of genres both sacred and secular and of cultures from Anglo Saxon to Arabic where the combination of circumstance and word choice makes it absolutely clear that the speaker whether a character or a narrator is being sarcastic Essays address among other things the clues writers give that sarcasm is at work how it conforms to or deviates from contemporary rhetorical theories what role it plays in building character or theme and how sarcasm conforms to the Christian milieu of medieval Europe and beyond to medieval Arabic literature The collection thus illuminates a half hidden but surprisingly common early literary technique for modern readers
