on Work and Employment in Globalizing India Ernesto Noronha, Premilla D'Cruz, 2017-03-30 This book showcases issues of work and employment in contemporary India through a critical lens serving as a systematic scholarly and rigorous resource which provides an alternate view to the glowing metanarrative of the subcontinent's ongoing economic growth in today's globalized world. Critical approaches ensure that divergent and marginalized voices are highlighted promoting a more measured perspective of entrenched standpoints. In casting social reality differently a quest for solutions that reshape current dynamics is triggered. The volume spans five thematic areas subsuming a range of economic sectors. India is a pre-eminent destination for offshoring underscoring the relevance of global production networks. Theme 1 Yet the creation of jobs has not transformed employment patterns in the country but rather accentuated informalization and casualization. Theme 2 Indeed even India's ICT-related sectors perceived as mascots of modernity and vehicles for upward mobility raise questions about the extent of social upgrading. Theme 3 Nonetheless these various developments have not been accompanied by collective action instead there is growing evidence of diminished pluralistic employment relations strategies. Theme 4 Emergent concerns about work and employment such as gestational surrogacy and expatriate experiences attest to the evolving complexities associated with offshoring. Theme 5

Labour and Social Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe Violaine Delteil, Vassil Nikolaev Kirov, 2016-07-22 Over a quarter of a century after the fall of the Berlin Wall and 10 years after their accession to the European Union EU Central and Eastern Europe Countries CEECs still show marked differences with the rest of Europe in the fields of labour work and industrial relations. This book presents a detailed and original analysis of labour and social transformations in the CEECs. By examining a wide range of countries in Central Europe Labour and Social Transformation in Central and Eastern Europe offers a comprehensive and contrasting view of labour developments in Central and Eastern Europe. Chapters explore three related issues. The first deals with the understanding of the complex process of Europeanization applied in the sphere of labour employment and industrial relations. The second issue refers to the attempt to link the Europeanization approach with an analysis mobilizing the theoretical concept of dependent capitalism. The third issue refers to the cumulative trends of labour weakening and labour awakening that has emerged in particular in the aftermath of the crisis beginning in 2007-2008. This book will be of interest to academics, policy makers and stakeholders at European and national level in the EU member states.

The Unions' Response to Globalization Gary Chaison, 2014-07-08 Globalization is commonly described in trade and cultural terms but its impact on unions and collective bargaining is seldom assessed. The few studies of unions and globalization are mostly collections of cases studies of how unions can work together or with other alliance partners to defend against the power of multinational corporations. This book goes beyond the current research by asking how unions have tried to deal with globalization and how globalization might threaten the fundamental union mission of taking wages, hours and conditions of employment out of competition. The introductory chapter defines globalization and uses the case of the Detroit Three automakers GM, Chrysler and Ford to show how globalization can affect employment and union size influence and relevancy The second chapter shows how unions deal globalization through collective bargaining regarding outsourcing alliances strikes and political action including lobbying and international work standards The final chapter argues that the unions cannot continue unchanged in this age of globalization and asks what they must do to be effective and relevant

Inclusion and Exclusion in Europe Olena Fedyuk, Paul Stewart, 2018-03-02 Recent decades have seen the EU grappling with a major struggle between the securitization of its external borders and demand for exploitable and disposable cheap workforce in various sectors As a result the EU has multiplied its borders by pushing them both outwards and inwards and the distinction between migrants status as regular and irregular legal and illegal citizen and non citizen has been continuously portrayed as black and white This produces and sustains an analytical political and practical divide that often obscures commonalities in workers dispossession and is an obstacle to unified struggles to secure workers rights This volume moves beyond a perspective of migrants exclusion and inclusion as solely a product of migration processes It contextualizes migration in the larger transformations of the local national and transnational labour markets and relations that point to the ongoing precarization of working lives These processes of inclusion are methodologically approached through exclusion at macro micro and meso levels This positions the ethnographically documented experiences of immigrant labourers in the challenges of contemporary labour and migratory regimes and traces new forms of collective response and contestation emerging in these reconfiguring contexts
