United States. Congress. Senate. Committee on Commerce, Science, and Transportation. Subcommittee on Merchant Marine and Tourism, 1980. Cold War Holidays. Christopher Endy, 2005-12-15. Moving beyond traditional state centered conceptions of foreign relations, Christopher Endy approaches the Cold War era relationship between France and the United States from the original perspective of tourism. Focusing on American travel in France after World War II, Cold War Holidays shows how both the U.S. and French governments actively cultivated and shaped leisure travel to advance their foreign policy agendas. From the U.S. government's campaign to encourage American vacations in Western Europe as part of the Marshall Plan to Charles de Gaulle's aggressive promotion of American tourism to France in the 1960s, Endy reveals how consumerism and globalization played a major role in transatlantic affairs. Yet contrary to analyses of globalization that emphasize the decline of the nation state, Endy argues that an era notable for the rise of informal transnational exchanges was also a time of entrenched national identity and persistent state power. A lively array of voices informs Endy's analysis: Parisian hoteliers and café waiters, American and French diplomats, advertising and airline executives, travel writers, and tourists themselves. The resulting portrait reveals tourism as a colorful and consequential illustration of the changing nature of international relations in an age of globalization.

Cinema and the Cultural Cold War. Sangjoon Lee, 2020-12-15. Cinema and the Cultural Cold War explores the ways in which postwar Asian cinema was shaped by transnational collaborations and competitions between newly independent and colonial states at the height of Cold War politics. Sangjoon Lee adopts a simultaneously global and regional approach when analyzing the region's film cultures and industries. New economic conditions in the Asian region and shared postwar experiences among the early cinema entrepreneurs were influenced by Cold War politics, U.S. cultural diplomacy, and intensified cultural flows during the 1950s and 1960s. By taking a closer look at the cultural realities of this tumultuous period Lee comprehensively reconstructs Asian film history in light of the international relationships forged broken and re established as the influence of the non aligned movement grew across the Cold War Lee elucidates how motion picture executives creative personnel policy makers and intellectuals in East and Southeast Asia aspired to industrialize their Hollywood inspired system in order to expand the market and raise the competitiveness of their cultural products They did this by forming the Federation of Motion Picture Producers in Asia co hosting the Asian Film Festival and co producing films Cinema and the Cultural Cold War demonstrates that the emergence of the first intensive postwar film producers network in Asia was in large part the offspring of Cold War cultural politics and the product of American hegemony Film festivals that took place in cities as diverse as Tokyo Singapore Hong Kong and Kuala Lumpur were annual showcases of cinematic talent as well as opportunities for the Central Intelligence Agency to establish and maintain cultural political and institutional linkages between the United States and Asia during the Cold War Cinema and the Cultural Cold War reanimates this almost forgotten history of cinema and the film industry in Asia

Our Gigantic Zoo Thomas M. Lekan, 2019-12-10 How did the Serengeti become an internationally renowned African conservation site and one of the most iconic destinations for a safari In this book Thomas M Lekan illuminates the controversial origins of this national park by examining how Europe's greatest wildlife conservationist former Frankfurt Zoo director and Oscar winning documentarian Bernhard Grzimek popularized it as a global destination In the 1950s Grzimek and his son Michael began a quest to save the Serengeti from modernization and overpopulation by remaking an imperial game reserve into a gigantic zoo for the earth's last great mammals Grzimek well known to German audiences through his long running television program A Place for Animals used the film Serengeti Shall Not Die to convince ordinary Europeans that they could save nature Yet their message sidestepped the uncomfortable legacies of German colonial exploitation in the region that had endangered animals and excluded local people After independence Grzimek raised funds brokered diplomatic favors and convinced German tourists to book travel packages all to persuade Tanzanian leader Julius Nyerere that wildlife would fuel the young nation's economic development Grzimek helped Tanzania to create almost a dozen new national parks by 1975 but wooing tourists conflicted with rights of the Maasai and other African communities to inhabit the landscape on their own terms Grzimek's global priorities eventually clashed with Nyerere's nationalist ones as a more self assertive Tanzania resented conservationists meddling and failed promises A story that demonstrates the conflicts between international conservation nature tourism decolonization and national sovereignty Our Gigantic Zoo explores the legacy of the man who portrayed himself as a second Noah called on a sacred mission to protect the last vestiges of paradise for all humankind
