Failing Our Future Joshua R. Eyler, 2024-08-27 An indictment of the grading system in American schools and colleges and a blueprint for how we can change it One of the most urgent and long standing issues in the US education system is its obsession with grades In Failing Our Future Joshua R Eyler shines a spotlight on how grades inhibit learning cause problems between parents and children amplify inequities and contribute to the youth mental health crisis Eyler who runs the Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning at the University of Mississippi illustrates how grades interfere with students intrinsic motivation and perpetuate the idea that school is a place for competition rather than discovery Grades force students to focus on rewards and distract them from exploring ideas or pursuing interests beyond what they ll be tested on In fact grades significantly impede the learning process They are also significantly affecting children s physical emotional and psychological well being Rates of anxiety depression and suicidal ideation have spiked and academic stress tied to grades is a leading cause of this escalation Eyler shares success stories of grading reform efforts that are already under way as an antidote to the harms caused by the practices currently used in educational institutions Equal parts scathing and hopeful Failing Our Future aims to improve the lives of students by encouraging them to define success on their own terms Parents educators policymakers and students will find in these pages a rallying cry for change and a blueprint for how to implement reforms in our homes and classrooms

An African American Dilemma Zoë Burkholder, 2021-07-11 An African American Dilemma offers the first social history of northern Black debates over school integration versus separation from the 1840s to the present Since Brown v Board of Education in 1954 Americans have viewed school integration as a central tenet of the Black civil rights movement Yet school integration was not the only or even always the dominant civil rights strategy At times African Americans also fought for separate Black controlled schools dedicated to racial uplift and community empowerment An African American Dilemma offers a social history of these debates within northern Black communities from the 1840s to the present Drawing on sources including the Black press school board records social science studies the papers of civil rights activists and court cases it reveals that northern Black communities urban and suburban vacillated between a preference for either school integration or separation during specific eras Yet there was never a consensus It also highlights the chorus of dissent debate and counter narratives that pushed families to consider a fuller range of educational reforms A sweeping historical analysis that covers the entire history of public education in the North this work complicates our understanding of school integration by highlighting the diverse perspectives of Black students parents teachers and community leaders all committed to improving public education It finds that Black school integrationists and separatists have worked together in a dynamic tension that fueled effective strategies for educational reform and the Black civil rights movement a discussion that continues to be highly charged in present day schooling choices Breaking Point Rebecca Schwartz Greene, 2023-01-03 WINNER SOCIETY FOR MILITARY HISTORY DISTINGUISHED BOOK AWARDS FIRST BOOK This book informs the public for the first time about the impact of American psychiatry on soldiers during World War II Breaking Point is the first in depth history of American psychiatry in World War II Drawn from unpublished primary documents oral histories and the author's personal interviews and correspondence over years with key psychiatric and military policymakers it begins with Franklin Roosevelt's endorsement of a universal Selective Service psychiatric examination followed by Army and Navy pre and post induction examinations Ultimately 2.5 million men and women were rejected or discharged from military service on neuropsychiatric grounds Never before or since has the United States engaged in such a program In designing Selective Service Medical Circular No. 1 psychiatrist Harry Stack Sullivan assumed psychiatrists could predict who might break down or falter in military service or even in civilian life thereafter While many American and European psychiatrists questioned this belief and huge numbers of American psychiatric casualties soon raised questions about screening's validity psychiatric and military leaders persisted in 1942 and 1943 in endorsing ever tougher screening and little else Soon families complained of fathers and teens being drafted instead of being identified as psychiatric 4Fs and Blacks and Native Americans among others complained of bias A frustrated General George S. Patton famously slapped two malingering neuropsychiatric patients in Sicily a sentiment shared by Marshall and Eisenhower though they favored a tamer style Yet psychiatric rejections evacuations and discharges mounted While psychiatrist Roy Grinker and a few others treated soldiers close to the front in Tunisia in early 1943 this was the exception But as demand for manpower soared and psychiatrists finally went to the field and saw that combat itself not predisposition precipitated breakdown leading military psychiatrists switched their emphasis from screening to prevention and treatment But this switch was too little too late and slowed by a year long series of Inspector General investigations even while numbers of psychiatric casualties soared Ironically despite and even partly because of psychiatrists wartime performance plus the emotional toll of war postwar America soon witnessed a dramatic growth in numbers popularity and influence of the profession culminating in the National Mental Health Act 1946 But veterans with PTSD not recognized until 1980 were largely neglected

Debating Modern Medical Technologies Karen J. Maschke, Michael K. Gusmano, 2018-09-14 This book analyzes policy fights about what counts as good evidence of safety and effectiveness when it comes to new health care technologies in the United States and what political decisions mean for patients and doctors Medical technologies often promise to extend and improve quality of life but come with many questions Are they safe and effective Are they worth the cost When should they be allowed on the market and when should Medicare Medicaid and private insurance companies be required to pay for drugs devices and diagnostic tests Using case studies of disputes about the value of mammography screening genetic testing for disease risk brain imaging technologies to detect biomarkers associated with Alzheimer's disease cell based therapies and new expensive drugs Maschke and Gusmano illustrate how scientific disagreements about what counts as good evidence of safety and effectiveness are often swept up in partisan fights over health care reform and battles among insurance and health care companies physicians and patient advocates Debating Modern Medical Technologies The Politics of Safety Effectiveness and Patient Access reveals stakeholders differing values and interests regarding patient choice physician autonomy risk assessment government intervention in medicine and technology assessment and scientific innovation as a driver of national and global economies It will help readers to understand the nature and complexity of past and current policy disagreements and their effects on patients Official Gazette Philippines, 2004

The Rocket Lab Michael G. Smith, 2023-05-15 The Rocket Lab Maurice Zucrow Purdue University and America's Race to Space focuses on the golden era of space exploration between 1946 and 1966 specifically the life and times of Purdue University's Dr Maurice J Zucrow a pioneering teacher and researcher in aerospace engineering Zucrow taught America's first university course in jet and rocket propulsion wrote the field's first textbook and established the country's first educational Rocket Lab He was part of a small circle of innovators who transformed Purdue into the country's largest engineering university which became a cradle of astronauts Taking a chronological and thematic approach The Rocket Lab weaves between the local and national drawing in rival universities especially Harvard MIT Princeton and Caltech Also covered is Zucrow's role in the national project system of research and development through World War II and the Cold War At Aerojet he was one of the country's original project engineers dedicated to scientific technical expertise and the stepwise approach He made vanguard power plant contributions to the Northrop Flying Wing as well as the Corporal Nike and Atlas missiles among others Zucrow's work in propulsion helped to improve the country's arsenal of ballistic missiles and space launchers and as a teacher he educated the first generation of aerospace engineers This book elevates Zucrow and the central role he played in getting the United States to space

Health Inequality Mel Bartley,Michelle Kelly-Irving,2024-11-06 The persistence of stark health inequalities in today's world is painfully clear to see not least in the effects of the Covid 19 pandemic and falling life expectancy in many parts of the world How can we advance our understanding of the full extent of health inequality what drives it and ways to address it The third edition of this popular book closely examines the influence of social class gender and race ethnicity among other issues on health in the light of broad macro political contexts The classic behavioural psychosocial and material approaches to health and their embodiment within a life course perspective are introduced but importantly are also re-situated within the growing understanding of the commercial and political determinants of health Bartley and Kelly Irving draw on extensive new evidence that shows how the chances for everyone to lead a long and healthy life depend on where power lies to control health-damaging policies and introduce health-promoting ones Health Inequality will continue to be essential reading for students taking courses in the sociology of health and illness social policy and welfare health sciences public health and epidemiology and all those interested in understanding the consequences of social inequality for health

Assessing Contexts of Learning Susanne Kuger,Eckhard Klieme,Nina Jude,David Kaplan,2016-12-05 This volume brings together educational effectiveness research and international large-scale assessments demonstrating how the two fields can be applied to inspire and improve each other and providing readers direct links to instruments that cover a broad range of topics and have been shown to work in more than 70 countries The book's initial chapters introduce and summarize recent discussions and developments in the conceptualization implementation and evaluation of international large-scale context assessments and provide an outlook on possible future developments Subsequently three thematic sections Student Background Outcomes of Education Beyond Achievement and Learning in Schools each present a series of chapters that provide the conceptual background for a wide range of important topics in education research policy and practice Each chapter defines a conceptual framework that relates recent findings in the educational effectiveness research literature to current issues in education policy and practice These frameworks were used to develop interesting and relevant indicators that may be used for meaningful reporting from international assessments other cross-cultural research or national studies Using the example of one particular survey the Programme for International Student Assessment PISA 2015 this volume links all theoretical considerations to fully developed questionnaire material that was field-trialed and evaluated in questionnaires for students and their parents as well as teachers and principals in their schools The primary purposes of this book are to inform readers about how education effectiveness research and international large-scale assessments are already interacting to inform research and policymaking to identify areas where a closer collaboration of both fields or input from other areas could further improve this work to provide sound theoretical frameworks for future work in both fields and finally to relate these theoretical debates to currently available and evaluated material for future context assessments
