

Practice 1 (Reading)

One of the things I like best about school is my art class. We have a great teacher named Mrs. Hilbert. She is a wonderful artist. I love to watch her draw and paint. She taught us how to mix paint to make just the right colours for our paintings. She plays good music while we draw and paint. We draw and paint almost everyday in class. Some days we look at pictures of other artists. It is interesting to do this. It helps me to think of things that I want to paint or draw. We have an art exhibit in May this year. Our work will be in one of the banks in our town. We are inviting people from the community to our exhibit. Our parents are invited to go with us. I have three paintings I am working on now. I hope one of them will be chosen to be in the exhibit. I like having a goal to work toward.

Bursztyjn Ph.D., 2006-12-12 This book introduces readers to key concepts and issues in the evolving field of special education Arguably over the past thirty years no other area of education has been as radically transformed as the provision of services to children with disabilities Since the mid 1970s special education has steadily grown to reach fully 12% of the U S student population in grades K 12 and millions of children from birth to age five Despite its promise of equal access special education has become a controversial field in many respects Critics point to its high cost questionable pedagogical effectiveness and differential outcomes across localities family income levels and ethnicities The more typical approach in the literature highlights the legal and procedural mandates that dominate the discourse on educating the disabled student but fails to explore the underlying assumptions and inconsistencies that make this area of education a controversial and still unsettled enterprise This handbook departs from the traditional books in the field by focusing on the ways that special education policies and practices are enacted rather than highlighting only their intended outcomes Contributors to this text focus on defining commonly used terms and professional jargon in order to give interested readers access and insight into the field of special education and its associated practices Some of the subjects included in this volume are the history of special education disability and society law and special education pedagogy policies and practices and research in special education

Language Policies and (Dis)Citizenship Vaidehi Ramanathan, 2013-08-07

This volume explores the concept of citizenship and argues that it should be understood both as a process of becoming and the ability to participate fully rather than as a status that can be inherited acquired or achieved From a courtroom in Bulawayo to a nursery in Birmingham the authors use local contexts to foreground how the vulnerable particularly those from minority language backgrounds continue to be excluded whilst offering a powerful demonstration of the potential for change offered by individual agency resistance and struggle In addressing questions such as under what local conditions does dis citizenship happen what role do language policies and pedagogic practices play and what kinds of margins and borders keep humans from fully participating The chapters in this volume shift the debate away from visas and passports to more uncertain and contested spaces of interpretation
