Colin Bamford, Susan Grant

June 2012 Economics Question Paper:

2024-25 TGT/PGT Economics Solved Papers YCT Expert Team , 2024 25 TGT PGT Economics Solved Papers Public Economics in the United States Steven Payson,2014-06-11 This comprehensive explanation of the U S government s role in economics will be an eye opener for anyone who wants to understand exactly what the government does and doesn t do in this most critical area Most people including many economists are not aware of the great variety of crucial tasks and invaluable analyses undertaken by government economists This three volume set will fill that gap with an all encompassing overview of the major economics related work the government performs across all of its agencies and offices With 45 chapters written by 61 leading experts the work covers every major topic in government economics including such diverse areas as monetary policy defense spending social assistance international trade antitrust and environmental protection In addition to entries by those who teach economics the compendium also features candid observations from government insiders to help readers grasp how things really work But readers will not only gain insight into specific fields and topics they will also be able to better understand the big picture and how its pieces fit together This unique and far reaching set often challenges conventional wisdom even as it presents a novel synthesis of the government s research analysis and actions

The Flight of Icarus Yiannis Drossos,2020-12-10 This book provides a detailed analysis of the institutional transformations brought about by the financial crisis focusing on the institution building course of Europe and the Constitution bending course in several Member States It discusses the seemingly contradictory interplay between national and European institutions and the law resulting from the crisis arguing that the anti crisis exceptionality constitutes the matrix of the new normality of the reformed European economic governance The author carries out a critical analysis of the new economic governance and its case law with regular reference to relevant political episodes key economic figures and to the hitherto lax modes and rules The author also offers deep insights into the Greek adjustment programme and the crisis related Greek and Portuguese constitutional case law presented in comparison with the German and French case law The book concludes with a critical overview of the profound mutations in the role of national Constitutions instigated by the new European economic governance and the emergence of a democratically deficient meta constitutional mode of functioning of both the European institutions and national Constitutions Global Economic Cooperation Rajat Kathuria,Neetika Kaushal Nagpal,2015-11-23 This book discusses issues such as global financial crisis and global governance food security energy sustainability the global financial system trade and protectionism and growth and employment Since the outbreak of the financial as well as national debt crises in the Euro zone the focus of the G20 has shifted back to addressing short term issues These issues range from the dynamic effects of global imbalances and the appropriate degree of financial sector regulation to questions of austerity versus growth and the lack of a comprehensive framework for managing the international monetary system A further issue is the relevance of the G20 agenda for emerging market economies Global economic recovery still remains fragile and downside risks to global growth remain. Additionally, much of the agenda of the Seoul Development Consensus for shared growth launched in 2010 has yet to be fulfilled. A key discussion point in the book therefore is how to make a tangible and significant difference in people's lives by implementing an agenda of inclusive growth.

Somali Piracy Jade Lindley, 2016-06-23 Maritime piracy off the coast of Somalia was first recognised as a global concern in 2008 after the hijackings of World Food Programme vessels. It remains a serious impediment to international maritime trade and a significant risk to seafarers. Bringing a criminological perspective to the subject, this book presents an analysis of Somali piracy by means of Routine Activity Theory and regulatory pluralism. Based on data from a range of sources including published documents and in-depth interviews with representatives of industry, government and international organisations, the study concludes that no one institution or policy will suffice to control Somali piracy. Accordingly, a number of different actors and institutions have a role to play in reducing the supply of motivated offenders, the vulnerability of prospective victims and in enhancing guardianship. The book envisages a holistic counter piracy program based on a pluralistic regulatory model that is sustainable within the region and managed by the region, providing the best opportunity for both the immediate future and for long-term success. This study will be essential reading for criminologists, public policy and legal scholars as well as policy makers and regulators in countries affected by and dealing with piracy and international professional advocacy groups operating in the maritime space.

The Economics of Climate Change and the Change of Climate in Economics Kevin Maréchal, 2013-05-02 Climate change is without question the single most important issue the world faces over the next hundred years. The most recent scientific data have led to the conclusion that the globally averaged net effect of human activities since 1750 has been one of warming and that continued greenhouse gas emissions at or above current rates would cause this process to continue to the severe detriment of our environment. This unequivocal link between climate change and human activity requires an urgent world-wide shift towards a low carbon economy and coordinated policies and measures to manage this transition. The starting point and core idea of this book is the long-held observation that the threat of climate change calls for a change of climate in economics. Inherent characteristics of the climate problem, including complexity, irreversibility and deep uncertainty, challenge core economic assumptions and mainstream economic theory appears inappropriately equipped to deal with this crucial issue. Kevin Maréchal shows how themes and approaches from evolutionary and ecological economics can be united to provide a theoretical framework that is better suited to tackle the problem.

Routledge Handbook of the Economics of Climate Change Adaptation Anil Markandya, Ibon Galarraga, Elisa Sainz de Murieta, 2014-01-03 Climate change is one of the greatest challenges facing humankind, owing to the great uncertainty regarding future impacts which affect all regions and many ecosystems. Many publications deal with economic issues relating to mitigation policies, but the economics of adaptation to climate change has received comparatively little attention. However, this area is critical and a central pillar of any adaptation strategy or plan and is the economic dimension which therefore merits the increase in attention it is receiving This book deals with the difficulties that face the economics of adaptation Critical issues include uncertainty baselines reversibility flexibility and adaptive management distributional impacts discount rates and time horizons mixing monetary and non monetary evaluations and limits to the use of cost benefit analysis economy wide impacts and cross sectoral linkages All of these are addressed in the book from the perspective of economics of adaptation Other dimensions of adaptation are also included such as the role of low and middle income countries technology and the impacts of extreme events This timely book will prove essential reading for international researchers and policy makers in the fields of natural resources environmental economics and climate change

The Sustainable Economics of Elinor Ostrom Derek Wall, 2014-02-24 Elinor Ostrom's Nobel Prize winning work on common pool property rights has implications for some of the most pressing sustainability issues of the twenty first century from tackling climate change to maintaining cyberspace In this book Derek Wall critically examines Ostrom's work while also exploring the following questions is it possible to combine insights rooted in methodological individualism with a theory that stresses collectivist solutions Is Ostrom's emphasis on largely local solutions to climate change relevant to a crisis propelled by global factors This volume situates her ideas in terms of the constitutional analysis of her partner Vincent Ostrom and wider institutional economics It outlines her key concerns including a radical research methodology commitment to indigenous people and the concept of social ecological systems Ostrom is recognised for producing a body of work which demonstrates how people can construct rules that allow them to exploit the environment in an ecologically sustainable way without the need for governmental regulation and this book argues that in a world where ecological realities increasingly threaten material prosperity such scholarship provides a way of thinking about how humanity can create truly sustainable development Given the inter disciplinary nature of Ostrom's work this book will be relevant to those working in the areas of environmental economics political economy political science and ecology

Competition Policy for the New Era

Tembinkosi Bonakele, Eleanor Fox, Liberty Mncube, 2017-12-01 Competition law has expanded to more than 100 jurisdictions worldwide with varying degrees of economic social and institutional development raising important questions as to what is the appropriate design of competition law regimes and the interaction between competition law and economic development This volume comprising a selection of papers from the 4th BRICS International Competition Conference written by academic and practising economists and lawyers from both developed and developing countries is distinctive in its focus on a broader view of competition policy in BRICS and developing countries It examines the role competition the application of broader public interest and national interest concerns in the analysis and influence on developing country competition authorities policy making The contributors address topics such as a broad view of competition policy making markets work for the people as a post millennium development goal some key issues concerning the further development of China's antimonopoly law remedies in BRICS countries public interest issues in cross border mergers crafting creative remedies in food markets in South Africa what are African competition authorities doing to fight cartels successes and challenges in the fight against cartels and the economics of antitrust sanctioning Democracy in Central Asia Mariya Y. Omelicheva,2015-07-21

Promoting democracy has long been a priority of Western foreign policy In practice however international attempts to expand representative forms of government have been inconsistent and are often perceived in the West to have been failures The states Post-Referendum Sudan National and Regional Questions Wassara, Samson Samuel,Al-Abdin, Al-Tayib

Zain,2015-03-02 The fate of Sudan by then the largest country in Africa was clearly decided when results of the referendum vote were announced in February 2011 Policy makers scholars and the international community began to grapple with critical issues that might arise after the independence of South Sudan and how different stakeholders were likely to react during the period of uncertainty Political developments in Sudan were long term outcomes of post cold war revolutions in the world system after the Soviet Union collapsed A domino effect of such events swept across Eastern Europe with some manifestations in the Horn of Africa The fall of Mengistu Haile Mariam marked the beginning of the redrawing of the map of Africa and posed a challenge to the long held principle of preservation of colonial borders that had been enshrined in the Charter of the Organisation of African Unity The precedent set by the independence of Eritrea seemed to encourage southern Sudan to press forward for independence through a two pronged approach of armed struggle and diplomacy led by the Sudan People s Liberation Army Movement This book attempts to understand national regional and continental dimensions of the unresolved issues that could result in the escalation of conflict in the Sudan It examines internal dynamics of the Sudan after secession of the south and how these dynamics might affect neighbouring countries in the geopolitical regions the Horn of Africa the Great Lakes Region and Central Africa A section of the book is dedicated to dynamics within South Sudan as a new state Post conflict South Sudan as country was marked by extreme poverty lack of infrastructure and prevalence of inter communal armed violence This book proposes possible policies to prevent the country from descending into a state of economic and social chaos The book provides the argument that equitable and rational transformative socio economic programmes and policies could greatly reduce potentials for conflict This book calls on policy makers to pursue policies that could lead to concrete projects planned to alleviate poverty and provision of basic social services such as education health and safe water The book comes to the conclusion that political stability will depend on collective actions of stakeholders to ensure that peace prevails both in the north and the south to guarantee human security in the region The Arms Race in Asia Andrew T.H. Tan,2013-12-13 This book is the first systematic examination of the emerging arms race in Asia The global trade in arms is to a large degree underpinned by the strong demand for arms in Asia and the Middle East the two largest arms export markets in the world Of these two regions Asia has become particularly significant led by the emergence of China and India as major powers It is therefore not surprising that the rapid military modernisation in Asia accompanied by significant increases in the size and sophistication of armed forces has generated attention as to its trends key characteristics causes and implications This phenomenon which has become evident since the end of the Cold War has also been widely described as an Asian arms race This book evaluates the key conceptual ideas which can shed light on this phenomenon as well as examining the complex mix of internal external and technological factors that have led to its emergence The volume explores the way in which the arms race is leading ultimately to three distinctive blocs in the emerging geostrategic landscape a loose bloc of US allies in the region a counter bloc of potential US adversaries and a neutral bloc of states with industrial age armed forces whose allegiances will vary according to circumstances and geostrategic developments The Arms Race in Asia concludes that if the emerging arms race is left unchecked it is likely that Asia will increasingly become a region of instability marked by conflicts and interstate wars The book will be of great interest to students of Asian politics strategic studies defence studies security studies and IR in general Global Economic Governance and the Development Practices of the Multilateral Development Banks Susan Park, Jonathan R. Strand, 2015-08-27 As pillars of the post 1945 international economic system the Regional and Sub Regional Development Banks RSDBs have long been considered mini World Banks reiterating the policy approach of the largest official multilateral development lender in the world The main objective of the collection is to identify what role the RSDBs play in global economic governance and why This edited collection draws together cutting edge original research on these understudied institutions In the burgeoning sub field of global economic governance as well as the broader study of international organisations IOs too often the focus remains on the World Bank and the International Monetary Fund IMF Second order IOs such as the RSDBs receive much less attention despite their longevity and regional importance This volume corrects this oversight by bringing together methodologically diverse research on the RSDBs that interrogates the role and impact of these organisations in global economic governance The book investigates the African Development Bank AfDB the Asian Development Bank AsDB the Inter American Development Bank IDB and the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development EBRD and select sub regional development banks in comparison to the World Bank Group This work will be of great interest to students and scholars of IPE IR and Development Studies Rethinking Society for the 21st Century: Volume 1, Socio-Economic Transformations International Panel on Social Progress (IPSP), 2018-07-19 This is the first of three volumes containing a report from the International Panel on Social Progress IPSP The IPSP is an independent association of top research scholars with the goal of assessing methods for improving the main institutions of modern societies Written in accessible language by scholars across the social sciences and humanities these volumes assess the achievements of world societies in past centuries the current trends the dangers that we are now facing and the possible futures in the twenty first century It covers the main socio economic political and cultural dimensions of social progress global as well as regional issues and the diversity of challenges and their interplay around the world This particular volume covers topics such as economic inequality and growth finance and corporations labor capitalism and social justice Private Tutoring Across the Mediterranean Mark Bray, André E. Mazawi, Ronald G. Sultana, 2013-09-03

Private tutoring supplementary out of school instruction offered at a fee to individuals or groups represents a substantial household expenditure even in systems that claim to have free public education It plays out across alongside and even within some school systems Emerging as a shadow education private tutoring now operates as a system and industry crossing national regional and social class boundaries Private tutoring is provided through different modes of delivery including the internet Policy makers parents teachers trade unions corporations community associations and students are implicated in the private tutoring industry The debates over private tutoring are therefore part of the larger struggles over the ends of education in just and equitable societies The authors in this volume address diverse national settings of private tutoring across the Mediterranean and examine its political economic social and cultural underpinnings They draw on a range of conceptual frameworks and deploy a variety of research methods to problematize the multifaceted relationships between tutoring learning and equity The volume captures a multiplicity of voices and focuses on some of the central challenges facing education in pluralistic societies

Journal of the National Cancer Institute ,2013 Industries without Smokestacks Richard Newfarmer,John Page,Finn Tarp,2018-10-25 By 2030 more than three quarters of the world s absolute poor are projected to live in Africa Accelerating economic growth is key to rising incomes on the continent and central to this challenge is establishing activities that are capable of employing large numbers of unskilled workers that can raise productivity through innovation and that can power growth through exports Such structural transformation is a key driver of growth and between 1950 1996 about half of the economic catch up by developing countries led by East Asia was due to rising productivity in manufacturing combined with growing agricultural output Africa however has lagged behind In 2014 the average share of manufacturing in GDP in sub Saharan Africa hovered around 10 per cent unchanged from the 1970s leading some observers to be pessimistic about Africa s potential to catch the wave of sustained rapid growth and rising incomes Industries Without Smokestacks Industrialization in Africa Reconsidered challenges this view It argues that other activities sharing the characteristics of manufacturing including tourism ICT and other services as well as food processing and horticulture are beginning to play a role analogous to that played by manufacturing in East Asia This reflects not only changes in the global organization of industries since the early era of rapid East Asian growth but also advantages unique to Africa These industries without smokestacks offer new opportunities for Africa to grow in coming decades valuable contribution In setting out a defence of the best in economics Rodrik has also provided a goal for the discipline as a whole Martin Sandbu Financial Times In the wake of the financial crisis and the Great Recession economics seems anything but a science In this sharp masterfully argued book Dani Rodrik a leading critic from within takes a close look at economics to examine when it falls short and when it works to give a surprisingly upbeat account of the discipline Drawing on the history of the field and his deep experience as a practitioner Rodrik argues that economics can be a powerful tool that improves the world but only when economists abandon universal theories and focus on getting the context right Economics Rules argues that the discipline s much derided mathematical models are its true strength Models are the tools that make economics a science Too often however economists mistake a model for the model that applies everywhere and at all times In six chapters that trace his discipline from Adam Smith to present day work on globalization Rodrik shows how diverse situations call for different models Each model tells a partial story about how the world works These stories offer wide ranging and sometimes contradictory lessons just as children s fables offer diverse morals Whether the question concerns the rise of global inequality the consequences of free trade or the value of deficit spending Rodrik explains how using the right models can deliver valuable new insights about social reality and public policy Beyond the science economics requires the craft to apply suitable models to the context The 2008 collapse of Lehman Brothers challenged many economists deepest assumptions about free markets Rodrik reveals that economists model toolkit is much richer than these free market models With pragmatic model selection economists can develop successful antipoverty programs in Mexico growth strategies in Africa and intelligent remedies for domestic inequality At once a forceful critique and defense of the discipline Economics Rules charts a path toward a more humble but more effective science
