

The Papua New Guinea University of Technology invite you to view...

THE UNITECH CAMPUS REDEVELOPMENT

LARGE, SECURE LAND TENURE

SUBSTANTIAL INSTITUTION OF INTERNATIONAL IMPORTANCE

RAPID GROWTH IN PNG'S 2ND LARGEST CITY

NO OTHER COMPRABLE CENTRES IN LAE

BACKING & CONFIDENCE OF PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

PARTNER ORGANISATION WITH GOVERNANCE & TRANSPARENCY

THE OPPORTUNITY

The University of Technology is at an important point in its growth. Its presence and function have great significance as Papua New Guinea's premier technological tertiary institution. Importantly, this campus occupies a strategic position in the city of Lae. Lae is PNG's second largest city and primary manufacturing and shipping centre, as well as headquarters to many national government bodies.

There is a severe shortage of alienated land (non-customary land) in the Lae. Given the university's large land holding with a single owner, there is a rare opportunity to unlock this secure land holding and invest in a 'knowledge precinct' with a committed and transparent development partner. This development will effectively integrate this important institution's core teaching activity with business and commercial activity, housing and other institutions.

Retail and commercial patronage: The student campus population is now at 3000 which is full capacity for the existing campus and its facilities. In recent years the student population has been growing at a rate of 10% p.a. At this rate of growth the population will double every 7 years. On-campus living is likely to continue as the main mode of living for students and staff because of the housing crisis in Lae.

"Our campus is the most promising land for development in the expansion zone of the city of Lae. The development of the 220 Ha campus offers tremendous opportunities for investors in office, retail space, as well as residential development. When these projects start, they will change forever the face of the campus, and of the garden city of Lae."
