

A Shakesperean Tragic Hero - Macbeth

A Shakesperean tragic hero may be defined as "an exceptional being of high degree" who contributes to his own degeneration and illustrates a personality flaw. The character of Shakespeare's Macbeth is in all ways the perfect example of a tragic hero. His greatness and bravery in battle for his country ultimately leads him to be a great thane and eventually a powerful king, making his actions have a significant impact on a country. Macbeth's ambition on becoming a king leads to an obsession to remain in his current position. His ambition comes to a point where he falls to the temptation of evil which leads to Macbeth's inevitable downfall.

There are many factors which contribute to the fall of Macbeth. The three points which contribute greatly to Macbeth's fall are the prophecy which was told to him by the witches, how Lady Macbeth influenced and manipulated Macbeth's judgment, and finally Macbeth's long time ambition which drove his desire to be king. Macbeth's growing character degenerates from a noble man to a violent individual. He is very ambitious, courageous, and a moral coward; all of these things lead to his tragic death at the end of the play. The prophecies which were told by the witches were one of the factors which contributed to the fall of his character.

If it had not been for the witches telling him that he was to be Thane of Cawdor, Thane of Glamis, and King of Scotland, Macbeth would still be his ordinary self. As a result of the prophecies, this aroused Macbeth's curiosity of how he could be King of Scotland. The witches who symbolized Macbeth's evil ambitions put his thoughts into actual words. As the play progresses, Macbeth slowly relies on the witches prophecies. Shakespeare uses the witches as a remedy for Macbeth's curiosity which corrupts his character. The influence of Macbeth's wife, Lady Macbeth also contributed to his fall of character.

Lady Macbeth's character in the beginning reveals that she is a lovable person. When Lady Macbeth was ready to kill King Duncan herself, it showed that Lady Macbeth could not murder King Duncan because he reminded her of her father. This proves that Lady Macbeth has a heart deep inside her. Lady Macbeth plays an important role in this play because she provided a scheme which caused Macbeth to assassinate King Duncan. After Macbeth had killed King Duncan, he later regrets on his wrong doing. At the point of this play the audience can note the change in Macbeth's character.

Macbeth's first murder was a trying experience for him, however after the first murder, killing seemed to be the only solution to maintain his reign of the people of Scotland. Therefore, it was Lady Macbeth who introduced the concept of murder to Macbeth. Macbeth's ambition also influenced his declining character. However, Macbeth's ambition had not been strong enough to carry the motive to kill King Duncan. Lady Macbeth's influence also comes in to play because if not for La

Macbeth Tragic Hero Essay:

The Selected Essays of Donald Greene Donald Johnson Greene, 2004 Part III The Terrain of Literature features Greene's examination of a variety of literary approaches to literature in an era when the subject needs to be referred as well to cognitive science as more conventional critical modes even deconstruction that have long defined it Additionally he illuminates important works by writers as various as Jane Austen and Evelyn Waugh These essays as well as the book as a whole are framed here by Greene's assessment of Canadian literature that calls attention to the native terrain that he originally called home and how the latter contributed to the making of one of the most cosmopolitan scholars of his era Jacket

Probably composed in late 1606 or early 1607 Macbeth is the last of Shakespeare's tragedies the others being Hamlet King Lear and Othello If Hamlet is the grandest of Shakespeare's plays Macbeth is from a tragic standpoint the most sublime and the most impressive as an active play If we just consider the plot Macbeth is a relatively simple play In fact like Richard III and numerous pre-Shakespearean plays it deals with a traditional form the rise and fall of a great man In the first part of the play we read about Macbeth's rise to power then he manages to become king of Scotland From this moment on he begins with a period of tyranny that will end with Macbeth's death and the accession to the throne of the legitimate king For this reason he can be considered as the epitome of a tragic hero In the course of the play we notice a great development of Macbeth's character At the beginning he is a man much honoured by his countrymen for his leading and courageous part in defence of his good king and native land During many conflicts he showed his great courage and he continues showing this personal quality also when he becomes king and he has to take a lot of difficult decisions But this first description about Macbeth's character is not the definitive one in fact as soon as we meet him we find out also his negative qualities for example that he is both ambitious and murderous It happens when the two Scottish generals Macbeth and his friend Banquo returning victorious from the great battle against a rebel army assisted by the troops of Norway meet three witches in the middle of the road They begin to speak to Macbeth the first of them greets him with the title of Thane of Glamis so it is in the reality the second follows by giving him the title of Thane of Cawdor to which honour he has no pretensions the third predicts that Macbeth will be king of Scotland Then turning to Banquo they prophesy that his son will be king of Scotland So they turn into the air and vanish After a while Macbeth and his friend are stopped by some messengers of the king who are empowered by him to confer upon Macbeth the dignity of Thane of Cawdor an event so miraculously corresponding with the predictions of the witches astonishes Macbeth who begins to think about the other and more important prophecy
