Reproducing Inequalities in Teaching
 Stefania Pigliapoco, 2022-12-30 The book analyses how lines of non belonging are traced and how notions of non belonging circulate around and are attached to students from immigrant backgrounds Such circulations coalesce around values and practices linked to gendered ethnic majority middle class norms through which difference is positioned and opposed in hierarchical terms This project analyses the relationship between teachers identities and their attitudes and pedagogic dispositions towards students from immigrant backgrounds showing how these affect each other contributing to their state of non belonging in the educational setting and in the wider society Attention is brought to the pervasive and normalised background of neoliberal ideology permeating the educational environment In examining the problematic relationship between the previous elements the book uncovers the intersectional reproduction of lines of belonging and not belonging While the analysis is centred on a study in Italy it is situated within and provides links to international connections facilitating a wider and global understanding of issues related to social justice The book will be of interest to undergraduate and postgraduate students and researchers across sociology education gender and cultural studies Due to the intersectional approach and the width of the issues explored it will be of use to policymakers and practitioners

Smart Markets for Water Resources John F. Raffensperger, Mark W. Milke, 2017-04-20 Why is trade in wholesale water so rare when markets can actively trade bread tractors and electricity This book shows that water markets fail because of high transaction costs resulting in inefficient allocations and unpredictable environmental effects To overcome these obstacles this book proposes a trading mechanism called a smart market A smart market is an auction cleared with optimization A smart market can reduce the transaction costs of water trading while improving the environmental outcomes The authors show why a smart market for water is needed how it would work and how to implement it The smart market described here uses a hydrology simulation of the water resource user bids via the internet and mathematical optimization to maximize the economic value of water while meeting all environmental constraints The book provides the background to understand the smart market for water and the detail to help the reader start working on its application The book explores topics such as Why water should be more expensive near sensitive environmental locations Ways to set initial allocations of water rights The role of regulatory oversight The prerequisites of a water market and How to counter objections to water markets The culmination of a decade of investigation this book combines explanation examples and detail to inform policymakers large water users environmental organizations researchers and a thirsty public
