ACCOUNTING P1 NOVEMBER 2020(2) MARKING GUIDELINES

MARKS: 150

MARKING PRINCIPLES:

1. Unless otherwise stated in the marking guidelines, penalties for foreign items are applied only if the candidate is not losing marks elsewhere in the question for that item (no penalty for misplaced item). No double penalty applied.
2. Penalties for placement or poor presentation (e.g. details) are applied only if the candidate is earning marks on the figures for that item.
3. Full marks for correct answer. If answer incorrect, mark the workings provided.
4. If a pre-adjustment figure is shown as a final figure, allocate the part-marks for the working for that figure (not the method mark for the answer). Note: if figures are stipulated in memo for components of workings, these do not carry the method mark for final answer as well.
5. Unless otherwise indicated, the positive or negative effect of any figure must be considered to award the mark. If no + or - sign or bracket is provided, assume that the figure is positive.
6. Where indicated, part-marks may be awarded to differentiate between differing qualities of answers from candidates.
7. This memorandum is not for public distribution, as certain items might imply incorrect treatment. The adjustments made are due to nuances in certain questions.
8. Where penalties are applied, the marks for that section of the question cannot be a final negative.
9. Where method marks are awarded for operation, the marker must inspect the reasonableness of the answer.
10. Operation means 'check operation'. 'One part correct' means operation and one part correct. Note: check operation must be +, -, x, =, or per memo.
11. In calculations, do not award marks for workings if numerator & denominator are swapped – this also applies to ratios.
12. In awarding method marks, ensure that candidates do not get full marks for any item that is incorrect at least in part. Indicate with a 00.
13. Be aware of candidates who provide valid alternatives beyond the marking guideline. Note that one comment could contain different aspects.
14. Codes: f = foreign item; p = placement/presentation.

These marking guidelines consist of 9 pages.

learning disabilities and emotional and behavioral disorders Opportunities and Challenges for Wild Bee Conservation Kris Braman, Michael D. Ulyshen, 2025-01-06 Conserving pollinators in anthropogenic habitats of all descriptions is critically important. Often we consider single system dynamics yet pollinators move readily between land uses so diverse pollinator communities in urban forest or orchard settings e.g. have the potential to benefit neighboring habitats including crops. Pollination services provided by insects and other animals are critical to the reproductive success of many plants in a diversity of environments. Conserving and maintaining a diverse assemblage of wild bees is essential for healthy and functioning ecosystems. In addition, improving conditions for pollinators in urban areas is likely to improve the quality of life for human inhabitants and will provide opportunities for children to develop a sense of connection with nature. Understanding the biology and ecology of wild bees in diverse settings is the foundation of conservation. Therefore, understanding the biology and ecology of wild bees and the factors influencing their abundance and diversity across multiple systems to inform conservation efforts is the goal. Recent advances find that forests and forest remnants are critically important to global pollinator diversity and can enhance pollinator diversity in adjacent areas including crops. This research topic will address the opportunities and challenges for wild bee conservation across diverse land use types.

Value Addition of Horticultural Crops: Recent Trends and Future Directions Amit Baran Sharangi, Suchand Datta, 2015-02-27 This book combines several ideas and philosophies and provides a detailed discussion on the value addition of fruits, vegetables, spices, plantation crops, floricultural crops, and in forestry. Separate chapters address the packaging, preservation, drying, dehydration, total quality management, and supply chain management of horticultural crops. The book explains value addition as a process of increasing the economic value and consumer appeal of a commodity with special reference to horticultural crops. Each chapter focuses on a specific area exploring value addition as a production marketing strategy driven by customer needs and preferences. But as such, it is also a more creative field calling for more imagination than calculated routine work. Value is added to the particular produce item when the product is still available when the season is out and the demand for the product exceeds the available supply. Value addition is an important factor in the growth and development of the horticultural sector both in India and around the world. But very little information is available on this particular aspect of horticulture. Albert Einstein famously said, "Try not to become a man of success but rather try to become a man of value." This message is not only true for those people who want to make more of themselves but also for those who want their creation or product in any form to excel. And it certainly applies to horticultural crops which are extremely perishable. It is true that loss reduction is normally less costly than equivalent increases in production. The loss of fresh produce can be minimized by adopting different processing and preservation techniques to convert the fresh vegetables into suitable value added and diversified products which will help to reduce the market glut during harvest season. Value added processed products are products that can be obtained from main products and by products after some sort of processing and subsequently marketed for an increased profit margin.

Generally speaking value added products indicate that for the same volume of primary products a higher price is achieved by means of processing packing enhancing the quality or other such methods The integrated approach from harvesting to the delivery into the hands of the consumer if handled properly can add value to fresh produce on the market But most of the fresh produce has a limited life although it can be stored at appropriate temperature and relative humidity for the same time If such produce is processed just after harvesting it adds value and stabilizes the processed products for a longer time Preparing processed products will provide more variety to consumers and improve the taste and other sensory properties of food This will also promote their fortification with nutrients that are lacking in fresh produce By adopting suitable methods for processing and value addition the shelf life of fresh produce can be increased manifold which supports their availability year round to a wider spectrum of consumers on both the domestic and international market With increased urbanization rising middle class purchasing power changing food habits and a decline in making preserved products in individual homes there is now a higher demand for industry made products on the domestic market In spite of all these aspects only 12.2% of the total produce is processed in developing countries as compared to 40.83% in developed countries The horticultural export industry offers an important source of employment for developing countries For instance horticulture accounts for 30% of India's agricultural GDP from 8.5% of cropped area India is the primary producer of spices second largest producer of fruits and vegetables and holds a prominent position with regard to most plantation crops in the world The cultivation of horticultural crops is substantially more labor intensive than growing cereal crops and offers more post harvest opportunities for the development of value added products This book offers a valuable guide for students of horticulture as well as a comprehensive resource for educators scientists industrial personnel amateur growers and farmers

Investigating Corruption and White-collar Crime in South African Higher Education Bethuel Sibongiseni Ngcamu, 2025-10-16 Using an interpretivist approach this qualitative volume interrogates instances of corruption and white collar crime prevalent in South African higher education institutions and suggests pathways for the proactive detection and prevention of corrupt practices Contextualizing the author's practical experiences gained in the higher education sector over the past two decades this book employs an ethnographical method to explore the complexity of university systems structures and functions that make South Africa's formerly disadvantaged universities more susceptible to corruption. In the midst of highly contested divisive and highly politicized ways of reporting corruption in the media, chapters provide critical analyses guided by scientific approaches, robust data sets and qualitative face to face interviews to underpin the reliability of proposed policy amendments intended to detect and prevent corruption and white collar crime as well as the suggested closure of loop holes that make the sector vulnerable to and known for a high level of criminality. Making a substantial contribution to broader academic debate around corruption and university management internationally, this book will be of interest to researchers and postgraduate students in the field of higher education, higher education management and administration and education policy and politics. Policy makers in both the Global South and North are also likely to benefit from this book. Lacanian Psychoanalysis Gertrudis Van De Vijver, Jos Antonius Maria De Kroon, Rémy Potier, 2020-04-01 Encyclopedia of Sustainable Technologies Martin Abraham, 2017-07-04 Encyclopedia of Sustainable Technologies Eight Volume Set provides an authoritative assessment of the sustainable technologies that are currently available or in development. Sustainable technology includes the scientific understanding, development and application of a wide range of technologies and processes and their environmental implications. Systems and lifecycle analyses of energy systems, environmental management, agriculture, manufacturing and digital technologies provide a comprehensive method for understanding the full sustainability of processes. In addition, the development of clean processes through green chemistry and engineering techniques are also described. The book is the first multi-volume reference work to employ both Life Cycle Analysis (LCA) and Triple Bottom Line (TBL) approaches to assessing the wide range of technologies available and their impact upon the world. Both approaches are long established and widely recognized, playing a key role in the organizing principles of this valuable work. Provides readers with a one-stop guide to the most current research in the field. Presents a grounding of the fundamentals of the field of sustainable technologies. Written by international leaders in the field, offering comprehensive coverage of the field and a consistent high quality scientific standard. Includes the Life Cycle Analysis and Triple Bottom Line approaches to help users understand and assess sustainable technologies. International Investment Management Kara Tan Bhala, Warren Yeh, Raj Bhala, 2016-04-14 International Investment Management: Theory, Practice and Ethics synthesizes investment principles, Asian financial practice and ethics reflecting the realities of modern international finance. These topics are studied within the Asian context, first through the medium of case studies and then via the particular conditions common in those markets, including issues of religion and philosophy. This book has a three-part structure, beginning with the core principles behind the business of investments, including securities analysis, asset allocation and a comprehensive analysis of modern finance theory. This gives students a comprehensive understanding of investment management by going through the theories, ethics and practice of investment management. This text provides a detailed overview of International Banking Law and International Securities Regulation alongside legal and ethics case studies which are located in the practice section of the book. This book is an essential text for business and law school students who wish to have a thorough understanding of investment management It is also perfect as a core text for undergraduate finance majors and graduate business students pursuing a finance and or business ethics concentration with particular focus on Asia Sustainable Business Models Adam Jabłoński,2019-01-25
