

After my hair grew long and bushy, I wanted to cut it. There was no barber shop that spoke any of the languages I know, so I had to do it by myself. I cannot say I did a good job, but it dawned on me how my responsibility was crawling into my young adult life. I felt deserted, like one dropped in the middle of a desert and left to survive. I was on my own. Surviving independently in a foreign land where few of my kind existed, so privileges like a barber shop or family to do things for me were nonexistent. I had finally been left out to fly with my wings, and it took an emotional toll on me.

I traveled to Florence once. Humanity is truly a mass of people with different faces and desires. People there seemed to be doing wherever their passion took them, and they looked happy. It was the kind of place where anybody could be anything. The place where determination takes you places unimaginable. There was busy traffic, many skyscrapers. A lot of businesses. Early ours and late nights of toil. Florence is a place of happening. People were winning in life. There is nothing as beautiful as people doing exactly what they want to do. They radiate some energy and happiness. What matters is your abilities and how well you have refined them. Just that, and you have made it in Florence.

Conclusion

To this point in life, I can confidently say that I have lived. My hike in the Himalayas gave me resilience. I was wasted away, but I kept on going until I was through. It taught me teamwork as I had to keep my family close through it all, helping one another. My few travels left me an open-minded person. I saw how different people lived and in a certain unique order. I came to know the diversity of humanity. Some of those things I shun but I appreciate most. I have come to love the beauty of diversity. I got to find myself after I found out that art was not my specialty after all. Then I found physics, and from then it has been a truck that only goes up. That is the good thing about hitting rock bottom; you can only go up. The International school brought cultures right to my face and fed them to me. I had to live with them and appreciate

Opportunities to write our memoirs are many and varied To meet emerging demands the memoir genre continually is evolving and it is possible for the memoirist to shape the memoirs with varying themes time and settings to be brought to bear on school education at a senior level and for a range of teacher development programs Thus the developing importance of an accompanying exegesis For better or for worse childhoods shape adult relationships and attachment styles profoundly shaping who we are as teachers teaching styles and generally the things we consider important and not so important The shape of our childhood and adolescence has a profound impact on how relationships are formed in adulthood It can affect our ability to trust be vulnerable and create productive bonds both at school and college and professionally and also our general levels of motivation Through the aforementioned theme and subthemes my memoirs here reveal how childhood struggle has shaped my approach to teaching and my academic career from an unskilled labourer from the country working class in the timber industry deprived of a high school education and recruited into the workforce at 15 years of age to a senior academic in one of Australia's G8 universities holding five PhDs With strong historical backgrounding a special appeal of this book is its drive to place childhood and adolescent events contained in the memoirs in a wider historical context looking to transnational movements such as discussions on anachronisms and eugenics In so doing the exegesis a fresh and exciting innovation is in harmony with the memoirs The memoir is so refashioned as a pedagogical tool Writing Widowhood Jeffrey

Berman, 2015-10-07 Explores how memoirs of widowhood can help us understand the reality of bereavement and the critical role of writing and reading in recovery The death of a beloved spouse after a lifetime of companionship is a life changing experience To help understand the reality of bereavement Jeffrey Berman focuses on five extraordinary American writers Joan Didion Sandra Gilbert Gail Godwin Kay Redfield Jamison and Joyce Carol Oates each of whom has written a memoir of spousal loss In each chapter Berman gives an overview of the writer's life and art before widowhood including her early preoccupation with death and then discusses the writer's memoir and her life as a widow He discovers that writing was for all of these authors both a solace and a lifeline enabling them to maintain bonds with their lost loved ones while simultaneously moving on with their lives These memoirs of widowhood Berman maintains reveal not only courage and resilience in the face of loss but also the critical role of writing and reading in bereavement and recovery Writing Widowhood is a stunning achievement that combines biography literary history and theoretical and philosophical exploration into the nature of grief as well as mental illness all seamlessly executed Berman elegantly and lucidly conveys a range of theories and perspectives to suit both academic and general readers Berman never compromises complexity while remaining accessible and straightforward throughout Virginia L Blum author of Flesh Wounds The Culture of Cosmetic Surgery Writing Widowhood contributes to the field of autobiography biography and particularly to women's writing within that generic field by discussing five memoirs which Berman categorizes as the widow memoir No other critic that I know has shaped commentaries into a newly defined genre Berman's book thus makes an important contribution to the overall field Linda
