Supporting Reading in Grades 6-12 Sybil M. Farwell, Nancy L. Teger, 2012-06-11 This book presents a curricular framework for students grades 6-12 that school librarians and teachers can use collaboratively to enhance reading skill development, promote literature appreciation and motivate young people to incorporate reading into their lives beyond the required schoolwork. Supporting Reading Grades 6-12: A Guide addresses head-on the disturbing trend of declining leisure reading among students and demonstrates how school librarians can contribute to the development of lifelong reading habits as well as improve students' motivation and test scores. The book provides a comprehensive framework for achieving this: the READS curriculum, which stands for Read as a personal activity, Explore characteristics, history, and awards of creative works; Analyze structure and aesthetic features of creative works; Develop a literary-based product; and Score reading progress. Each of these five components is explained thoroughly, describing how school librarians can encourage students to read as individuals, in groups, and as school communities support classroom teachers' instruction and connect students to today's constantly evolving technologies. Used in combination with an inquiry/information skills model, the READS curriculum enables school librarians to deliver a dynamic, balanced library program that addresses AASL's Standards for the 21st Century Learner.

Act Your Age: A Coming of (Middle) Age Memoir Priscilla Lindsey Biddle, 2016-06-21 Act your age! From her mother's admonition in childhood, a middle-aged twice-married mother of four and a product of the deep south of the seventies makes her way through a meandering inner journey towards a quiet epiphany, revealing what her mother's words really mean. This rite of passage at the ungainly age of fifty unfolds through twelve memoir-like narratives that will evoke both laughter and tears. Each chapter is an independent reflection on the dozens of daily anecdotes all of us live each day in the course of growing up and growing older. Reading the narratives may be like going through a shoe box of old photographs you find in the attic, not arranged in any seeming order but in total creating a logic of their own. Memorable characters like Papa, Aunt Norma, Harrison, Augustus, Turnbull, and Artemesia rise from the narrator's southern Gothic roots. The narrator, nameless Every Woman, prides herself in being an introspective and competent adult, but her naiveté demonstrates that being an adult is really a state of mind, and finding truth is like entertaining company with chipped china. Coping with life's poignant struggles like disease, old age, suicide, and murder and its ordinary ones like child-raising, teaching, pets, and church-going, she seeks sense in the nonsense with humor and with love. Memoir of a Retired Teacher Edes C. Solina, 2011-09-07 In Memoir of a Retired Teacher author Edes Solina shares her concern that there is a real problem in education today American children are performing at levels significantly below the skill levels of many countries in mathematics and science exams College instructors are asking why such a large number of high school graduates are not prepared for college work in these and other subject areas The United States has the best quality of college or higher education in the whole world but the quality of education in high school is below acceptable levels for college entrance She believes the root cause of the substandard performance of American students is the serious disruption caused by discipline problems taking place in the classroom today Teachers need help in finding positive methods for turning the tide before its too late She believes that the schools need to allow the teachers to focus every minute of the class period on teaching and learning activities without the constant disruption from the rampant discipline problems plaguing their classrooms Memoir of a Retired Teacher is Solinas life story in three parts in the first part she looks back on the final days of her teaching career in the second part she remembers her teaching experiences and in the final part she recounts her lifes journey

Less is More Kimberly Campbell, 2007 Less Is More is full of powerful ideas for teaching with short provocative text This book broadens and extends our available teaching tools and materials and can help engage all students It is a valuable resource for language arts teachers Cris Tovani Language arts teachers want all of their students to love literature and embrace the novels they assign. The classroom reality is that many students are not ready or motivated to immerse themselves in an entire novel. In order to reach and engage all students, teachers need to look beyond novels alone and embrace a richer variety of literature. In Less Is More, Kimberly Hill Campbell draws on research as well as her own classroom experiences to show how short texts engage a wide range of middle and high school students. She shares her discovery of the power of short texts to support her students' skills as readers, writers, and students of literature. Kimberly shows how short texts can be integrated into the curriculum without sacrificing required novels. Chapters examine different genres of short text such as short stories, essays, memoir, and graphic novels. Each chapter provides reading, writing, and response strategies as well as a broad selection of short text resources that have proven effective with a wide range of students.
