Reconfiguring EU Peripheries Miruna Butnaru Troncotă, Ali Onur Özçelik, Radu-Alexandru Cucută, 2024-06-19

Reconfiguring EU Peripheries explores the diverse nature of the European Union's interactions with its peripheries Focusing on a period of rising regional tensions marked most recently by the war in Ukraine the volume casts new empirical and conceptual light on the diverse motivations that underpin the political elites' attitudes towards the EU in Bosnia and Herzegovina Georgia Hungary Kosovo Moldova Romania Turkey and Ukraine The volume engages with various understandings of the EU's interactions with its different peripheries and shows how these dynamics are closely related to the self-perceived nature of the societies in question in relation to the EU The impact of recent crises and conflicts underscore in some cases the need for strengthening solidarity and for more EU whereas others highlight the doubts and disappointment over the challenges these societies have faced over recent years The empirically rich case studies enable both interpretations of and debates on the EU integration processes A comparative exploration of countries at different stages in the EU accession process and the various political elites' attitudes towards the EU outlines the essentially constructed nature of peripherality By challenging the conventional understanding of contestation and peripherality this volume is a worthwhile first step towards looking at the EU and the peripheries it creates from an alternative and sometimes ignored point of view Conflict Areas in the Balkans Pinar Yürür, Arda Özkan, 2020-10-27 The situation in the Balkans such as the solution to the status of Kosovo is currently the largest international political problem in Europe with the potential to burst into a world crisis regarding the Eastern Western relations On the other hand a successful solution to the problem in the Balkans could serve as a model for solving the Muslim Christian tensions elsewhere in the world It is the intention of this book to contribute proposals for solutions to the problems of Balkans The starting principle for the solutions to be effective is that they should come in a natural way from the people below and should not be enforced by the political elites from above Based on self determination of nations as a starting principle they should encourage intra regional cooperation among the regional entities economic cultural sport as a basis for political social understanding and cooperation secondly accelerate their economic political and social development and thirdly as a final step enable the inclusion of the Balkan countries into the European Union

Law and Regulation of Mobile Payment Systems Joy Malala,2017-11-28 Over the last ten years mobile payment systems have revolutionised banking in some countries in Africa In Kenya the introduction of M Pesa a new financial services model has transformed the banking and financial services industry Giving the unbanked majority access to the financial services market it has attracted over 18 million subscribers which is remarkable given that fewer than 4 million people in Kenya have bank accounts This book addresses the legal and regulatory issues arising out of the introduction of M Pesa in Kenya and its drive towards financial inclusion It considers the interaction between regulation and technological innovation with a particular focus on the regulatory tools institutional arrangements and government decisional processes through the examination as a whole of its regulatory capacity This is done with a view to understanding the regulatory capacity of Kenya in addressing the vulnerabilities presented by technological innovation in the financial industry for consumers after financial inclusion It also examines the way that mobile payments have been regulated by criticising the piecemeal approach that the Central Bank of Kenya has taken in addressing the legal and regulatory issues presented by mobile payments The book argues there are significant gaps in the regulatory regime of mobile banking in Kenya

Cohort Change Ratios and their Applications Jack Baker,David A. Swanson,Jeff Tayman,Lucky M.

Tedrow,2017-04-21 This textbook focuses on the cohort change ratio CCR method It presents powerful yet relatively simple ways to generate accurate demographic estimates and forecasts that are cost efficient and require fewer resources than other techniques The concepts analytical frameworks and methodological tools presented do not require extensive knowledge of demographics mathematics or statistics The demographic focus is on the characteristics of populations especially age and sex composition but these methods are applicable estimating and forecasting other characteristics and total population The book contains more traditional applications such as the Hamilton Perry method but also includes new applications of the CCR method such as stable population theory Real world empirical examples are provided for every application along with excel files containing data and program code which are accessible online Topics covered include basic demographic measures sources of demographic information forecasting and estimating both current and historical populations modifications to current methods forecasting school enrollment and other characteristics estimating life expectancy stable population theory decomposition of the CCR into its migration and mortality components and the utility of the CCR This textbook is designed to provide material for an advanced undergraduate or graduate course on demographic methods It can also be used as a supplement for other courses including applied demography business and economic forecasting and market research

Libya in the Arab Spring Ramazan Erdağ, 2017-03-22 By examining Libya's security architecture before and after the North Atlantic Treaty Organization NATO intervention in 2011 this book aims to answer three questions First what were the security patterns in Libya within the Middle East security complex before the Arab Spring Second to what extent did the Arab Spring and the revolution and intervention processes in Libya affect this security architecture And third what are the implications of the Libyan revolution and the NATO intervention on regional security and on the security sub complexes of the Middle East in the post Arab Spring era The author addresses these issues by providing a micro level analysis of amity enmity patterns power distribution and external power interests

Ukraine Over the Edge Gordon M. Hahn, 2018-02-08 The Ukrainian crisis that dominated headlines in fall 2013 was decades in the making Two great schisms shaped events one within Ukraine its western and southeastern parts divided along cultural and political lines the other was driven by geopolitical factors Competition between Russia and the West exacerbated Ukraine's divisions This study focuses on the historical background and complex causality of the crisis from the rise of mass demonstrations on Kiev's Maidan Nezalezhnosti Independence Square to the making of the post revolt regime In the context of a new cold war the author sheds light on the role of radical Ukrainian nationalists and neofascists in the February 2014 snipers massacre the ouster of President Viktor Yanukovych and Russia's seizure of Crimea and involvement in the civil war in the eastern region of Donbass

Economic Aspects of Genocides, Other Mass Atrocities, and Their Prevention Charles H. Anderton, Jürgen Brauer, 2016-05-09 Alongside other types of mass atrocities genocide has received extensive scholarly policy and practitioner attention Missing however is the contribution of economists to better understand and prevent such crimes This edited collection by 41 accomplished scholars examines economic aspects of genocides other mass atrocities and their prevention Chapters include numerous case studies e.g. California's Yana people Australia's Aborigines peoples Stalin's killing of Ukrainians Belarus the Holocaust Rwanda DR Congo Indonesia Pakistan Colombia Mexico's drug wars and the targeting of suspects during the Vietnam war probing literature reviews and completely novel work based on extraordinary country specific datasets Also included are chapters on the demographic gendered and economic class nature of genocide Replete with research and policy relevant findings new insights are derived from behavioral economics law and economics political economy macroeconomic modeling microeconomics development economics industrial organization identity economics and other fields Analytical approaches include constrained optimization theory game theory and sophisticated statistical work in data mining econometrics and forecasting A foremost finding of the book concerns atrocity architects purposeful strategic use of violence often manipulating nonrational proclivities among ordinary people to sway their participation in mass murder Relatively understudied in the literature the book also analyzes the options of victims before during and after mass violence Further the book shows how well intended prevention efforts can backfire and increase violence how wrong post genocide design can entrench vested interests to reinforce exclusion of vulnerable peoples and how businesses can become complicit in genocide In addition to the necessity of healthy opportunities in employment education and key sectors in prevention work the book shows why new genocide prevention laws and institutions must be based on reformulated incentives that consider insights from law and economics behavioral economics and collective action economics

Defense Technological Innovation Bharat Rao, Adam J. Harrison, Bala Mulloth, 2020-05-29 Defense Technological Innovation describes the emerging paradigm for innovation at the US Department of Defense and the consequent impacts on its stakeholders Leveraging a combination of prior research archival data first person observations and interviews the authors identify practices and themes characterizing the key trends in defense innovation describe current organizational approaches and practices and develop a theoretical framework that elucidates the competencies required to underwrite defense innovation objectives The findings therein are relevant to any large technology driven organization contending with the implications of rapid change in the high tech landscape

Non-Democratic Federalism and Decentralization in Post-Soviet States Irina Busygina, Mikhail Filippov, 2023-11-30 This book challenges the common perception of authoritarian regimes as incompatible with federalism and decentralization It examines how the leaders of Russia Ukraine and Kazakhstan have managed to exploit federalism and decentralization as useful instruments to help them preserve control avoid political instability and to shift blame to the regional authorities in times of crises and policy failures The authors explain how post Soviet authoritarian regimes balance the advantages and risks and emphasize the contradictory role of external influences and threats to the institutional design of federalism and decentralization Advancing our understanding of how the institutions of federalism and decentralization are skillfully constrained but at the same time used by authoritarian incumbents they show that federalism and decentralization matter in non democracies though the nondemocratic character of the political systems greatly modifies their effects The authors show the implication of the COVID 19 crisis and current Russian war against

Ukraine for the center regional relations in Russia Ukraine and Kazakhstan This book will be of interest to scholars and students of post Soviet politics decentralization federalism and modern authoritarianism
