South Africa Recent Economic and Political Developments Yearbook - Strategic Information and Developments IBP, Inc., 2018-03-31 2011 Updated Reprint Updated Annually South Africa Recent Economic and Political Developments Yearbook Annual Report South Africa. Department of Social Development, 2016 Democratic Education as Inclusion Nuraan Davids, Yusef Waghid, 2022-02-18 Political and social expectations are often stymied and distorted by individual and communal identities creating vastly incongruent and unrelated lived experiences often within the same context Democratic Education as Inclusion explores how the existence and enactments of diversity continue to present ubiquitous epicenters of misreading misrecognition and missed opportunities for peaceful co existence whether in established or nascent democracies Nuraan Davids and Yusef Waghid study how the public sphere has never held the same meaning to all individuals or groups As such there are deep implications for differentiated experiences of citizenship between those who are included in the center of the sphere and those who are excluded on the margins This book explains the dyadic relationship between inclusion and exclusion and how it is not limited to the public sphere or to broader conceptions of democratic citizenship It is as apparent in educational settings presenting under explored complexities not only for teaching and learning but for the life experiences of participants in teaching learning Often the foundational norms put into place during educational initiations become the primary determinants of how young people conceive of themselves as citizens and how they conceive of themselves in relation to others

Community Health Workers: Describing the Breadth of Interventions and Contexts Across the World Mathieu Nacher ,Nicolas Vignier,2025-05-15 Social inequalities in health remain a challenging problem throughout the world Despite a variety of specific contexts vulnerable populations often present to care later with more advanced health problems and often greater fatality rates at younger ages To remediate this health services NGOs project personnel to liaise with the communities and serve as an intermediary between health professionals and patients from vulnerable populations The denominations may vary health mediation cultural mediation community health workers Agente de Sa de and sometimes entail different functions Hard evidence on the impact of these mediators is often lacking because of the differences in contexts specific health problems considered and what mediation entails in different countries In this Research Topic we encourage submissions of articles that describe a range of experiences for different contexts where mediation health mediation cultural mediation community health workers Agente de Sa de programmes are deployed for public health issues From this variety of experiences we hope this special issue will constitute a precious repository of experiences and contexts that could be transferable and scalable interventions for others

The importance of geospatial data to labor market information Eric M. Johnson,Robert Urquhart,Maggie O'Neil,2018-06-27 School to work transition data are an important component of labor market information systems LMIS Policy makers researchers and education providers benefit from knowing how long it takes work seekers to find employment how and where they search for employment the quality of employment obtained and how steady it is over time In less developed countries these data are poorly collected or not collected at all a situation the International Labor Organization and other donors have attempted to change However LMIS reform efforts typically miss a critical part of the picture the geospatial aspects of these transitions Few LMIS systems fully consider or integrate geospatial school to work transition information ignoring data critical to understanding and supporting successful and sustainable employment employer locations transportation infrastructure commute time distance and cost location of employment services and other geographic barriers to employment We provide recently collected geospatial school to work transition data from South Africa and Kenya to demonstrate the importance of these data and their implications for labor market and urban development policy

Police Integrity in South Africa Sanja Kutnjak Ivkovich,Adri Sauerman,2020-04-29 Policing in South Africa has gained notoriety through its extensive history of oppressive law enforcement In 1994 as the country s apartheid system was replaced with a democratic order the new government faced the significant challenge of transforming the South African police force into a democratic police agency the South African Police Service SAPS that would provide unbiased policing to all the country s people More than two decades since the initiation of the reforms it appears that the SAPS has rapidly developed a reputation as a police agency beset by challenges to its integrity This book offers a unique perspective by providing in depth analyses of police integrity in South Africa It is a case study that systematically and empirically explores the contours of police integrity in a young democracy Using the organizational theory of police integrity the book analyzes the complex set of historical legal political social and economic circumstances shaping police integrity A discussion of the theoretical framework is accompanied by the results of a nationwide survey of nearly 900 SAPS officers probing their familiarity with official rules their expectations of discipline within the SAPS and their willingness to report misconduct The book also examines the influence of the respondents race gender and supervisory status on police integrity Written in a clear and direct style this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology policing sociology political science as well as to police administrators interested in expanding their knowledge about police integrity and enhancing it in their organizations
