

The Girlfriends' Guide to What to Expect When Your Girlfriend's Grieving

by Ginny Sparrow

When I was 27 I lost my mother by suicide. Single, living alone with my pooch, my friends became my family, my rock, my shoulder. They were the source of comfort, the source of understanding.

And, the bane of my existence.

In all fairness, it's hard to do things right when a friend is grieving, and easy as pie to do things wrong. Some classically wrong things were: ignoring me, gossiping about me, trying to take my pain away by telling me my guilty feelings were foolish, among others things.

But, truthfully, it was the small things that really hurt.

A friend of mine had just gotten engaged when my mother died. I know she was excited about the upcoming wedding, but she repeatedly bugged me to rsvp about the out-of-town wedding. How could she be so inconsiderate? I chose to ignore her, I mean, how could I make travel decisions? I was lucky to rise from bed.

One friend called to give me her condolences on a Saturday afternoon – and then cut off the conversation to take another call.

Not everybody was inconsiderate. Other friends left cards on my door, or covered for me at work when I was slack, late, or crying in the bathroom. Others called from around the world as soon as they heard. ("Of course I'm up! What's sleep?") To this day I admire their effort and bravery to reach out to me as soon as possible.

Some of the most helpful people weren't close friends at all, but acquaintances who had some experience with grief. They knew not to give advice or say, "I know how you feel." They also knew to say something, for God's sake.

One acquaintance approached me at a basketball game and said, "I heard about your mother, and I couldn't decide if it was crueler to not say anything, or say 'I'm sorry.' So I'm going to say, 'I'm sorry.'" I'll never forget those words; what an original, thoughtful, sincere thing to say! I think I fell in love with that guy at that moment.

Sometimes it's easier to say things like that to acquaintances. My friends knew my mother, and were survivors of her suicide as well. Perhaps they were too close to the matter to be helpful.

I now work at a counseling center. Daily, friends of grieving families ask me what they can say to – and do for – their friends. I often give the following tips:

1. Listen and be with your friend with sincerity. You don't need to say much, but show concern with your body language and your expressions. Match their presence. If they are sitting formally in the chair and

SPRC Launches Web-Site

In October, the Suicide Prevention Resource Center (SPRC) launched its web-site at www.sprc.org. The web-site is "a one-stop source for many important publications and provides an interactive on-line calendar of national and local suicide prevention events," according to SPRC.

"Visitors to www.sprc.org will be able to connect with suicide prevention specialists assigned to their state or territory, post information about suicide prevention events, and register for SPRC regional conferences. The site features easy access to key documents including the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention, the Institute of Medicine Report, and the report of the President's New Freedom Commission on Mental Health."

The SPRC is "the nation's first federally-funded suicide prevention resource center. . . . The Center provides technical assistance, training, and resource materials to strengthen suicide prevention networks throughout the country and advance the National Strategy for Suicide Prevention. The Center is supported by a grant from the Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA) and is based at Education Development Center, Inc. (EDC), in Newton, MA. SPRC is a highly collaborative effort between EDC and its partners – the American Association of Suicidology, the American Foundation for Suicide Prevention, the Suicide Prevention Action Network, the Critical Illness and Trauma Foundation, National Alliance for the Mentally Ill, National Hopeline, National Mental Health Association, National Organization of People of Color Against Suicide, National Resource Center for Suicide Prevention and Aftercare, and the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation."

swings sex during pregnancy common fears and physical fitness      What Women Want Next Susan Maushart,2008-12-17
 With all the choices available to today's women why don't they more feel fulfilled What Women Want Next is Susan Maushart's meditation by turns profound and laugh out loud funny on that central dilemma of postfeminist life At one point she had it all so why wasn't she happy With What Women Want Next Maushart combines research with personal history in a dynamic attempt to answer this question Feminism may have led women to life's banquet table but the meal they make of it is up to them How to balance life and work sex and sleep child care and self care And why has women's guilt that glass ceiling of the soul become the biggest barrier they face What Women Want Next is the first book to look at the spectrum of a woman's life and attempt to demonstrate how she can shape her own destiny throughout all its stages      Unexpected Destinies Constance Ruth Clark,2012-09-01 Can a sweet meddling goddess unite soul mates Does anyone ever truly forget their first love When a chance encounter reunites top model Jayne Stapleton with her high school sweetheart she is torn between wishing she could forget the man who broke her heart 15 years ago and wishing she could have him back Will she embrace the path destiny has opened for her or allow her fears to ride roughshod over her heart A killer is on the loose and Detective Nick Graham has made it his mission to prevent him from claiming another victim When the trail leads to the one woman he's never forgotten he's all the more determined to make her realize how much she needs him back in her life Fate has given Nick another chance Can he keep Jayne safe or will she run straight into the killer's arms Agatha Goddess second division Department of Love is tasked with uniting soul mates Of late however it seems like she's being sabotaged Can she help Nick and Jayne find their destiny with each other or has Cupid's arrow picked the wrong hearts 59 133 Words      My Best Friend's Funeral Roger W Thompson,2014-11-11 There's a certain kind of lost a boy feels in this world without a father Tim felt it I felt it And we realized our only way out would be together In an openhearted memoir of faith on the fringe Roger Thompson meditates on the life and premature death of his best friend and business partner Tim Garrety cofounder of Skate Street Ventura Roger and Tim's twenty year friendship was forged in the surf and on the streets of 1980s California Together they hazarded countless waves and every rite of passage from guitars to girls to God and influenced the lives of thousands of skateboarders musicians surfers and otherwise disconnected youth in the process With unrestrained honesty and a punk rock soundtrack My Best Friend's Funeral is a memoir of friendship doubt surfing and the complex relationships between fathers and sons If life has ever left you feeling abandoned or if you simply prefer a rock show to a sermon My Best Friend's Funeral is a memoir you won't want to miss and a confirmation that you are never alone      Making Up with Mom Julie Halpert,Dr. Deborah Carr,2016-02-09 Young women today have infinitely more options than their mothers and grandmothers did decades ago Should I become a doctor a writer or a stay at home mom Should I get married or live with my boyfriend Do I want children Women in their twenties thirties and forties today are wrestling with life altering decisions about work and family and they need all the support they can get But the very person whose support they crave most their mother often can't get on board and a rift is created between the two generations even for women who have always had a strong relationship. A mother's simple question like "How can you trust a nanny to watch your children all day" can bring her poised accomplished CEO daughter to tears or provoke a nasty response more suitable to a surly teenager than a leader of industry. Why can't mothers and daughters today see eye to eye when it comes to important choices about love, work, children, money, and personal fulfillment? Why does a mother's approval matter so much even to the most confident and self-possessed daughter? And when daughters choose paths different from their mothers, why is it so painful for the older generation?

Making Up with Mom answers these important questions by focusing on three core issues: dating, marriage, career, and child rearing. Relying on interviews with nearly a hundred mothers and daughters and offering helpful tips from more than two dozen therapists, Julie Halpert and Deborah Carr explore a wide range of communication issues and how to resolve them so mothers and daughters everywhere can reclaim their loving relationships. This enlightening book is a must read for all women today.

Advance Praise for Making Up with Mom: A sympathetic, helpful, and accurate look at a topic that affects us all and grows more important every day. Kathleen Gerson, professor of sociology at New York University and author of Hard Choices: How Women Decide About Work, Career, and Motherhood. A well-written, thoughtful book that could help every mother and daughter connect or reconnect at a deeper, more fulfilling level. Alvin Rosenfeld, M.D., coauthor of The Over-Scheduled Child: Avoiding the Hyper-Parenting Trap and lecturer at Harvard Medical School. If Nancy Friday's My Mother, My Self helped a generation of daughters understand their conflicted relationships with their mothers almost thirty years ago, Making Up with Mom may well be the book that helps mothers and daughters today understand both themselves and each other. It is a book I've been waiting for. Deborah Siegel, Ph.D., author of Sisterhood Interrupted: From Radical Women to Grrls Gone Wild. Making Up with Mom is a must read for women who want better relationships with their mothers or daughters or both. The book is chock full of support and good sound advice culled from the authors' interviews with many women across generations. This practical book considers many of the most important issues that women face and in so doing it invites the readers, both mothers and daughters, to find ways to relate to each other in healthier and more effective ways. A good, thorough read. Dr. Dorothy Firman, coauthor of Daughters and Mothers: Making It Work. Chicken Soup for the Mother-Daughter Soul and Chicken Soup for the Father-Son Soul.

Texas Girl (A memoir by Robin Silbergeld) Robin Silbergeld, 2014-06-01. At twenty-seven years old, Robin Silbergeld decided to become a single mother. Not as a backup or Plan B, but as a first choice. In her memoir Texas Girl, she raises fundamental questions about the nature of family and maternity at the turn of the twenty-first century. At a moment when SMCs grace the covers of magazines and Hollywood films, Texas Girl adds the perspective of someone who boldly side-steps the social expectation for a woman to take a life partner before she has a child. Beginning with a metaphorical conception, Texas Girl charts a long four-year journey including infertility, miscarriage, and high-risk pregnancy, traveling from Indiana to Texas and back to the snowy north. In this compelling coming-of-age narrative, Silbergeld explores the notion of the chosen family as close female friends provide perspective support and comic relief along the way A must read for anyone contemplating single motherhood this bitingly honest memoir will resonate with anyone concerned with the vital feminist issue of what reproductive choice really means and the obstacles we face in pursuit of it The Girls' Guide to Love and Supper Clubs Dana Bate,2013-02-05 Hannah Sugarman seems to have it all She works for an influential think tank in Washington D C lives in a swanky apartment with her high achieving boyfriend and is poised for an academic career just like her parents The only problem is that Hannah doesn't want any of it What she wants is much simpler to cook When her relationship collapses Hannah seizes the chance to do what she's always loved and launches an underground supper club out of her new landlord's town house Though her delicious dishes become the talk of the town her secret venture is highly problematic given that it is not technically speaking legal She also conveniently forgets to tell her landlord she has been using his place while he is out of town On top of that Hannah faces various romantic prospects that leave her guessing and confused parents who don't support cooking as a career and her own fears of taking a risk and charting her own path A charming romantic comedy The Girls Guide to Love and Supper Clubs is a story about finding yourself fulfilling your dreams and falling in love along the way Breastfeeding and Media Katherine A. Foss,2017-06-14 This book centers on the role of media in shaping public perceptions of breastfeeding Drawing from magazines doctors office materials parenting books television websites and other media outlets Katherine A Foss explores how historical and contemporary media often undermine breastfeeding efforts with formula marketing and narrow portrayals of nursing women and their experiences Foss argues that the media's messages play an integral role in setting the standard of public knowledge and attitudes toward breastfeeding as she traces shifting public perceptions of breastfeeding and their corresponding media constructions from the development of commercial formula through contemporary times This analysis demonstrates how attributions of blame have negatively impacted public health approaches to breastfeeding thus confronting the misperception that breastfeeding and the failure to breastfeed rests solely on the responsibility of an individual mother From the Lake House Kristen Rademacher,2025-07-30 Dizzy with grief after a shattering breakup Kristen did what any sensible thirty nine year old woman would do she fled abandoning her well ordered life in metropolitan Boston and impulsively relocating to a college town in North Carolina to start anew with a freshly divorced southerner Dismissing the neon signs that flashed Rebound Relationship Kristen was charmed by the host of contrasts with her new beau He loved hunting and country music she loved yoga and NPR he worried about nothing she worried about everything The luster of her new romance and small town lifestyle soon and predictably faded but by then a pregnancy test stick had lit up As Kristen's belly grew so did her concern about the bond with her partner and so did a fierce love for her unborn child Ready or not she was about to become a mother And then tragedy struck Poignant and insightful From the Lake House explores the echoes of rash decisions and ill fated relationships the barren and disorienting days an aching mother faces without her baby and the mysterious healing that can take root while
