The National Institute of Justice says one in every 12 women and one in every 20 men will be stalked in their lifetimes. Some stalkers make phone calls, send messages, or deliver gifts. Some follow their victims home, vandalize property, make threats, or kill pets. Some stalkers even attempt rape, kidnapping, or murder. And some succeed. Being the target of an obsessed person is a frightening experience. But it isn't necessary to live in fear. Learning how to live safely is the key. Topics include: Who stalks, who is stalked, and why; Evaluating the seriousness of the situation; Replacing terror with sensible precautions; Restraining orders: good or bad; Disappearing: why, when, and how; Protecting your children; Self-defense: what works, what doesn't; Safety on a budget; Maintaining your privacy; Strategies that don't work; Helpful web sites and organizations. Stalking Is Not Love MARIE JONES, 2014-06-26 Stalking is not love. It is my account of what my family and I have gone through since I left my ex-husband. It details 3 years of us being stalked from high-speed chase to emails I refuse to live a life of fear, a life that is non-functional. I will not feel guilty about not loving someone. A person has the right to end a relationship if they are not happy; the right not to be harassed or stalked. Stalking is not love; it is a crime. It also is one of the hardest crimes to be convicted of. I know because I am currently experiencing this very situation. I receive emails, phone calls, and have had the passwords on personal accounts changed because the stalker knows my SSN. The stalker parks his car down the street from my home and sits for hours. When he gets fed up, he rings my doorbell angrily and leaves. These are just a few of the things I go through daily. I know there are others who are going through the same thing that I am currently experiencing Some who are hurt or has lost their lives Maybe our stories can come together and form a band of women men boys girls people or simply the stalked and be heard We need help Stalking is not love I have a father that has loved me since birth My father protected me and kept me safe I have five brothers that love me dearly I know what it is like to be truly loved by a man I have a heavenly father tha loves me unconditionally and protects me God is my source and refuge A person would not hurt what they love Sam Hain -
