

3. Experiment: Use the sliders to set the Rain to 2 inches for each of the five years in the simulation. Click Play, and wait for five years. Observe the beak of the finch.

- A. How does the beak depth change over time?
B. What is the final average beak depth?
C. What is the final range of beak depths?

It decreases

13.38

3

4. Describe: Compare the final histogram to the initial histogram. How have the finches been affected by drought? Describe at least two changes that you notice.

Due to the drought, fewer finches were present. The beak has a depth of 10 to 13.

5. Analyze: Was the increase in the average beak depth caused by an increase in large-beaked finches or a decline in small-beaked finches? Explain your answer.

Because of how the population declined, I believe it to be a small-beaked finch decline.

6. Draw conclusions: What do you think caused the changes in the finch population and average beak size during the drought?

During the drought, some finches were unable to live or identify who they were, and those that did had larger beak sizes.

7. Interpret: Directional selection occurs when individuals at one end of a range are more likely to survive than intermediate individuals or individuals at the opposite end of the range. Stabilizing selection occurs when intermediate individuals are the most likely to survive.

Is directional selection, stabilizing selection, or both operating in this example? Explain.

Directional because the little beak finches couldn't make it. However, the larger beakfinches were able to penetrate the harder seeds.

8. Think and discuss: Evolution is the process by which populations of organisms can change over time. How is directional selection related to evolution?

The drought prevented the small beaks from surviving, so they developed into larger beaks. Initially, the small beaks were thriving.
