Glendale Images Of America:

Glendale Juliet M. Arroyo, Katherine Peters Yamada, George Ellison, 2007 Glendale is one of the oldest towns in Southern California getting its start during the rail boom of the 1880s In 1904 it was one of the earliest communities to be served by the vast electric streetcar system consolidated throughout the Los Angeles region by tycoon Henry Huntington In the postwar era Glendale became a model of suburban growth and today is the third largest city in Los Angeles County Glendale's diverse neighborhoods and commercial districts have offered pleasant living and a gamut of goods and services to residents workers and visitors alike These vintage postcards spanning generations showed them a vision of Glendale at its most attractive Miracle on the Salt River Meredith Haley Whiteley, 2014-10-28

Following enactment of the Reclamation Act the first federally constructed dam broke ground in Arizona's Salt River Valley in 1905 With the inauguration of Roosevelt Dam the distant dream of an abundant life in the desert became a reality The dam and farmer operated water distribution system tamed the vicious drought created arable land and became an irrigation model for the West With the water came farmers and families all eager for the chance to build new lives and communities Many were just like the Haley family farmers from Kentucky and Missouri who settled in the area and whose descendants still call the valley home Follow their journey and discover a snapshot of the life and community that grew from the ditches of the valley Author Meredith Haley Whiteley explores this story from the ordinary person's perspective weaving valley history through drought loss plenty and joy

Tazewell Louise B. Leslie, Terry W. Mullins, 2006 The first pioneers to explore the Tazewell area were the long hunters surveyors and land speculators In 1750 Dr Thomas Walker remarked in his diary on the lush grass plentifulness of game and large quantities of coal The town of Tazewell settled in 1799 and incorporated in 1870 was first called Jeffersonville Township in honor of third U S president and native Virginian Thomas Jefferson Over 200 years have passed but the region's mountains and vast areas of pastureland remain unspoiled Tazewell now serves as the seat and one of the most historic areas in Tazewell County Easthampton Massachusetts' Home-Grown Industries (HB) Marvin J. Ward, Ph.D., 2022-04-27

Easthampton Massachusetts Home Grown Industries Their Origins Growth Legacies and Remains HB By Marvin J Ward Ph D Easthampton Massachusetts Home Grown Industries documents the history of all the industries several of them interconnected that were established in the Town of Easthampton at the start of the Industrial Revolution in Western Massachusetts beginning in c 1824 with a piece work enterprise operated from a home with an office and small warehouse proceeding in 1834 to an industrial manufacture initially in an existing factory in another town and moving into the first factory being built in the town in 1847 1848 Most were started by Samuel Williston who had different partners although many of those had their hands in more than one and some of them took over one or another of them All of them were situated on property that Williston owned having inherited it from his father Payson the first minister to settle in it who bought a large tract of 18 or 19 acres of land in 1790 It tracks them through to his death in 1874 and that of his wife Emily nee Graves from nearby Williamsburg her family's property is also tracked founder in 1881 of the town library in 1885 They manufactured the first products of their type in the US in the case of the first three and in this region for the others some having international exports and reputations Williston was also involved in many civic endeavors he funded numerous initiatives including a school a church the Town Hall building and a cemetery to name the major projects he was not a tycoon who spent lavishly on himself The story unfolds Sherlock Holmes style with documented facts unraveling some mysteries and destroying some tales that are myths and or apocryphal commonly believed among today's residents some of which took root in early 20th century sources that are also Sherlock Holmes style undermined In the 20th century other industries many larger moved there all moving or expanding from their former locations some reassembling their buildings that were disassembled there and brought along all of these on the West side of the Lower Mill Pond North of the location of the first ones and alongside the railroad that ran beside the Pond today a Rail Trail they are not treated here None of either exist today but many of their buildings have been or are being repurposed except for one that is part of the factory of an industry not entirely unrelated to the one for which it was built

Hardin County Meranda L. Caswell, 2006 The history of Hardin County is defined by such notable figures as John Hardin the Revolutionary War colonel for whom the area is named and Abraham Lincoln who was born here in 1809 Today tourists and residents can visit historic sites that commemorate these individuals and those lesser known such as John Y Hill who built the stately home that is now the Brown Pusey House a museum and library In Images of America Hardin County vintage photographs depict the past of the county seat Elizabethtown and also that of the smaller towns of Colesburg Glendale Hardin Springs and White Mills The communities of Stithton and Grahamton are pictured as they were before being replaced by the Fort Knox Bullion Depository and military post Featuring images from the Brown Pusey House and the community this volume takes readers down Dixie Highway to appreciate the historic towns and natural beauty of Hardin County

Disney's Land Richard Snow, 2020-12-01 A propulsive and entertaining The Wall Street Journal history chronicling the conception and creation of the iconic Disneyland theme park as told like never before by popular historian Richard Snow

One day in the early 1950s Walt Disney stood looking over 240 acres of farmland in Anaheim California and imagined building a park where people could live among Mickey Mouse and Snow White in a world still powered by steam and fire for a day or a week or if the visitor is slightly mad forever Despite his wealth and fame exactly no one wanted Disney to build such a park Not his brother Roy who ran the company s finances not the bankers and not his wife Lillian Amusement parks at that time such as Coney Island were a generally despised business sagging and sordid remnants of bygone days Disney was told that he would only be heading toward financial ruin But Walt persevered initially financing the park against his own life insurance policy and later with sponsorship from ABC and the sale of thousands and thousands of Davy Crockett coonskin caps Disney assembled a talented team of engineers architects artists animators landscapers and even a retired admiral to transform his ideas into a soaring yet soothing wonderland of a park The catch was that they had only a year and a day in which to build it On July 17 1955 Disneyland opened its gates and the first day was a disaster Disney was nearly suicidal with grief that he had failed on a grand scale But the curious masses kept coming and the rest is entertainment history Eight hundred million visitors have flocked to the park since then In Disney s Land Snow brings a historian s eye and a child s delight not to mention superb writing to the telling of this fascinating narrative Ken Burns that will entertain Disneyphiles and readers of popular American history Publishers Weekly

The Three-Cornered War Megan Kate Nelson,2021-02-16 Finalist for the Pulitzer Prize in History A dramatic riveting and fresh look at a region typically obscured in accounts of the Civil War American history buffs will relish this entertaining and eye opening portrait Publishers Weekly Megan Kate Nelson expands our understanding of how the Civil War affected Indigenous peoples and helped to shape the nation Library Journal starred review reframing the era as one of national conflict involving not just the North and South but also the West Against the backdrop of this larger series of battles Nelson introduces nine individuals John R Baylor a Texas legislator who established the Confederate Territory of Arizona Louisa Hawkins Canby a Union Army wife who nursed Confederate soldiers back to health in Santa Fe James Carleton a professional soldier who engineered campaigns against Navajos and Apaches Kit Carson a famous frontiersman who led a regiment of volunteers against the Texans Navajos Kiowas and Comanches Juanita a Navajo weaver who resisted Union campaigns against her people Bill Davidson a soldier who fought in all of the Confederacy's major battles in New Mexico Alonzo Ickis an Iowa born gold miner who fought on the side of the Union John Clark a friend of Abraham Lincoln's who embraced the Republican vision for the West as New Mexico's surveyor general and Mangas Coloradas a revered Chiricahua Apache chief who worked to expand Apache territory in Arizona As we learn how these nine charismatic individuals fought for self determination and control of the region we also see the importance of individual actions in the midst of a larger military conflict Based on letters and diaries military records and oral histories and photographs and maps from the time this history of invasions battles and forced migration shapes the United States to this day and has never been told so well Pulitzer Prize winning author T J Stiles

American Book Publishing Record, 2006 Latino Image Makers in Hollywood Frank Javier Garcia Berumen, 2016-04-14 Latinos have been part of the Hollywood film industry for more than 100 years yet beyond the remarkable success of a few their visibility and clout have generally not reflected their significance in American society Worse the Latino image has suffered from widespread stereotyping in film and performers face unjustified constraints in the kinds of roles available to them Decade by decade from 1960 onward this book analyzes important films made by or about Latinos details the careers of Latino performers and filmmakers of the time and analyzes how film portrayals of Latino characters and subjects connect with political and social trends of each decade It discusses the role of gender social class and ethnicity in film portrayals and provides an overview of the diverse and dynamic Latino community in the United States while celebrating a substantial and enduring contribution to Hollywood film history The Making of America's Culture Regions Richard L. Nostrand, 2018-01-19 This outstanding text provides students with the essential foundation in the historical geography of the United States Distinguished scholar Richard L Nostrand skillfully synthesizes decades of historical geography research in an engaging and thought provoking overview His regional geography framework emphasizes the three themes central to cultural geography cultural ecology cultural diffusion and cultural landscape to explain the formation and change of culture regions in the United States He shows convincingly that regions are a valuable pedagogical device for developing students understanding of place and context Deutsche Künstler in Amerika 1813-1913 Katharina Bott, 1996 Lewis and Clark and the Image of the American Northwest John Logan Allen, 1991-01-01 The author traces how Lewis and Clark's epic journey of 1804-06 and their charting of the American Northwest dramatically revised generally held concepts of the area's geography With 45 maps Splendidly researched and highly readable Donald Jackson editor of the Letters of the Lewis and Clark Expedition

Disney Theme Parks and America's National Narratives Bethanee Bemis, 2022-12-27 Disney Theme Parks and America's National Narratives takes a public history approach to situating the physical spaces of the Disney brand within memory and identity studies For over 65 years Disney's theme parks have been important locations for the formation and negotiation of the collective memory of the American narrative Disney's success as one of America's most prolific storytellers its rise as a symbol of America itself and its creation of theme parks that immerse visitors in three dimensional versions of certain American values and historic myths have both echoed and shaped the way the American people see themselves Like all versions of the American narrative Disney's vision serves to reassure us affirm our shared values and unite a diverse group of people under a distinctly American identity or at least it did The book shows how the status Disney obtained led the public to use them both as touchstones of identity and as spaces to influence the American identity writ large This volume also examines the following how Disney's original cartoons and live action entertainment offerings drew from American folk history and ideals how their work during World War II cemented them as an American symbol at home and abroad how the materialization of the American themes already espoused by the brand at their theme parks created a place where collective memory lives how legitimization by presidents and other national figures gave the theme parks standing no other entertainment space has how Disney has changed alongside the American people and continues to do so today This book will be of interest to students and scholars of history media cultural studies American studies and tourism

Building Home Eric John Abrahamson, 2013-02-28 Building Home is an innovative biography that weaves together three engrossing stories It is one part corporate and industrial history using the evolution of mortgage finance as a way to understand larger dynamics in the nation's political economy It is another part urban history since the extraordinary success of the savings and loan business in Los Angeles reflects much of the cultural and economic history of Southern California Finally it is a personal story a biography of one of the nation's most successful entrepreneurs of the managed economy Howard Fieldstad Ahmanson Eric John Abrahamson deftly connects these three strands as he chronicles Ahmanson's rise against the background of the postwar housing boom and the growth of L.A. during the same period As a sun-tanned yachtsman and a cigar smoking financier the Omaha born Ahmanson was both unique and representative of many of the business leaders of his era He did not control a vast infrastructure like a railroad or an electrical utility Nor did he build his wealth by pulling the financial levers that made possible these great corporate endeavors Instead he made a fortune by enabling the middle class American dream With his great wealth he contributed substantially to the expansion of the cultural institutions in L A As we struggle to understand the current mortgage led financial crisis Ahmanson s life offers powerful insights into an era when the widespread hope of homeownership was just beginning to take shape Motion Picture Herald ,1927 An Evening's Entertainment Richard Koszarski,1994-05-04 On the age of silent movies
